FEBRUARY ISSUE OF GARNET CONTINUES LITERARY REVIVAL

Dr. Edwin Wright, Reviewing Second Number of Year, Finds Young Writers Impressed with Seriouness, But Also Beauty of Life. Magazine. Balanced.

Mr. Wright states: "The Man from Australia may not be a native of the globe, he is supposed to be ignorant of the rules of the game, and he is supposed to be ignorant of the language of the country. Yet, he has been a statesman, a lawyer, a scholar, and has written a great deal. His work is, on the whole, excellent."

Mr. Wright also states: "The literary world is not yet prepared to accept the work of the Man from Australia as anything more than a contribution to the literature of the country. It is true, that a great many of his writings are excellent, and that he has a certain amount of natural talent, but he has not yet reached the stage where he can be compared to the greatest writers of the country."

THE INITIATION BALLOT

Elsewhere in this issue of The Student, the Editors have printed a copy of the ballot on Freshmen Initiation which has been drawn up by the students. A copy of this ballot is to be voted on by the men at some date, not yet determined, at the next meeting.

We understand that the results of the voting are to be merely advisory and not mandatory upon the Student Council in any way. This, however, is not very clear in the question which cannot be decided by an absolute "Yes" or "No", and so contains a clear expression of opinion. The outstanding example of this difficulty is the Literary Society's prohibition to which all students are bound, but which the Senate of Bates College is the only body which can be considered to have the authority to enforce. The proposal in this ballot, put forward without regard to the opposition of the students, is considered to be a further attempt to compel students to do things they do not wish to do. This is our standpoint. Naturally enough, we do not expect everyone to agree with us, but we do feel that improvements will be made only if we allow ourselves to be swayed by the opinions of others, because this is the only way to ensure that we are doing the right thing.

THE COMMINGLED LEWISTON JOURNAL

Although there had been some rumors, the students of the Christian College of our part of the state were taken by surprise by the news that our editors had made a mistake in preparing a copy of the Student's columns for the printing press. It was on a day when our editors had no time to read the newspapers or the books they had been reading, and the effect was to make the whole student body feel a little more helpless in the face of the situation.

In the dormitories, the boys were the usual mixture of rebels and quiet ones who do not trouble with the world outside. It was a day when the editors were not in a position to dictate anything to anyone, and the students were free to act as they pleased. This was the case, and the students made the most of it.

THE CARNIVAL

Lack does not prevent us from putting on a more than a brief complement of the last Carnival. The students of our college have probably the best Winter Carnival in the state, and the students of the other colleges have a tradition of putting on a very good one. The baseball game on the field, the tug-of-war on the course, and the track meet on the track are events that the students look forward to with great anticipation. The students of the other colleges are also looking forward to the Carnival, and are planning to have one of their own.

Dear Mr. Sauer:
In two letters of yours appearing in this column in previous issues, you have made a point of criticizing the Student's columns for their lack of enthusiasm, giving the example that the students were not allowed to dance. If the students were not allowed to dance, would it be possible to force the students to dance? The idea of the request was to force the students to attend the dance, but the effect was to make the students feel that they were not allowed to dance. It is interesting to note that the students were not allowed to dance, but the effect was to make the students feel that they were not allowed to dance. W. A. A. NEWS

Now that sell-years are over and Curves is finished, the applause for the classes born in Basketball are back line next season. Captains are being chosen this week and the teams will be next week. As usual the President present the greatest problems with a good many experienced players to choose from.

The winter sports rackets can barely find no fault with the weather this year. We are having plenty of it and enough varieties to suit the most complicated beholder.

There is a good article in the January Sportronics which gives some valuable information and some good stories for basketball fans to try out.

ANY BEGINNERS in this sport, especially, will find it worth while to read the section on the duties of specific players.

QUESTION BOX

Question: How may I improve my posture?

Answer: For an individual program of exercises related to your personal posture defects. Physical Education for women will be glad to offer it. However it is not possible to acquire good posture fully by exercise; it is but one of the means to the end. One must make a persistent effort to obtain good posture and must learn to think good posture constantly. It is necessary for every student to give general advice on reducing, however you may say that regulation of diet and a carefully planned regimen of exercises are the only “safe and sure” methods.

Question: How may I lose weight?

Answer: It is difficult to say just how one may gain weight. Often there is some underlying cause.

Question: What is the needful remedy? Try it and see.

LEAVES OF MEMORY

knows—why you’re a woodchuck, my man.

On this trip the “Green Jackets” had to camp with a crew of lumberjacks. After supper those who could sing—would slip out and entice the rook—who had a mind as much more witty than discriminating—to join in a song. The others would climb into their bunks with their hunting knives in order to get a good night’s sleep. Even the arm that was a decided charmer which some of me fail to find in O’Neill the dramatist.
