GERMAN STUDENT IS NEWCOMER IN BATES CAMPUS ACTIVITIES

Miss von Mueller Awarded Scholarship to Study Here by Institute of Foreign Exchange Students—Speaks English Well—Wants to be Interpreter

By ELIZE P. SEIGEL

One of the newcomers to the Bates campus this year is an exchange student from Mecklenburg-Schwerin, Germany—Fraulein Inge von Mueller, nearly 21.

Miss von Mueller, about whom not very much is known, has lived practically all her life in the large town near the Baltic coast. Here the atmosphere has made her become an interpreter. Consequently she is learning modern foreign languages in order to become acquainted with many English expressions of American life and to improve her English in general.

Miss von Mueller speaks the English language very well and has very little difficulty in understanding it. She has become acquainted with the English tongue and literature by reading the works of such authors as Shaw and Uncle Wiggily.

At Bates she is specializing in several branches of the English department and is studying government and economics as well. She finds the study of economics particularly interesting and says that使之 is often the subject she is learning at Vanderbilt University.
