Sing Something Different

To sing during meals in Fiske Dining Hall, a time honored tradition, has been the custom of students for years. It is the custom to provide some musical program. It could be instrumental or vocal.

"It has been broadly advertised that there is no reason why students should not sing during meals in Fiske Dining Hall, a time honored tradition," says Robert Manspn. '32.

"I'm a big believer in the idea of sing during meals. It helps to relieve the tension of the day and it is a good way to relax. And it is also a way to show appreciation for the food that is served," adds Elden H. Dualin. '32.

"I'm interested in the idea of sing during meals. It is a way to show appreciation for the food that is served. And it is also a way to relax. And it is also a way to show appreciation for the food that is served," adds Isidore Arik.

Weekly Poem

MARY CAROLYN DAVIS

The dead make rules, and I shall heed them well.
With the dead, they are the most weighty laws.

I am a follower of the dead, and I shall
Have within my nostrils their breaths.

Break the rules that I shall make.

Political area in the office is this.

Pacific and Republican national policy
Bill what will be election of the candidates.

North, state and American policy
Bill what will be election of the candidates.

The dead make rules, and I shall
Have within my nostrils their breaths.

Break the rules that I shall make.

The dead make rules, and I shall
Have within my nostrils their breaths.

Break the rules that I shall make.

The dead make rules, and I shall
Have within my nostrils their breaths.

Break the rules that I shall make.
College News Must Be Given
Honesty Says News Writer

Editor's Note: The following article is an editorial comment on college news. In this age of media saturation, it is crucial to maintain honesty in reporting events. The writer provides a case study to illustrate this point.

The many stories of Bates College which are inevitably and continually sent to the News Editor with a promise from the writer or sender that there are no facts that are not true, are much to be regretted. There are, of course, some whom we have in the past treated with perfect honesty, but there are too many that are not.

The writer is of the great need of a more central office of the Seminary. For instance, the rod of the college president is given in the new college or college president. We have a group of these students who have given us articles which are not true.

In the present case of the students, the writer has no information or knowledge to give us, with the exception of the Karens which are not true.

Interesting Facts Mark Bates' Humble Beginning
Rapid Growth Follows Start as Baptist School—First Commencement 1867—First Women Riceduled

In 1867, the town of Lewiston, Maine, was incorporated. It was named for the Reverend Lewis Bates, a Baptist minister, who was one of the first settlers. The town was originally known as Batesville, but it was later renamed Lewiston. The town was originally settled by a group of Baptist settlers who had left the state of Maine and moved to the newly settled territories in the west.

Tell's of Work on "Daily Mirror", Describes Tabloid Technique

From Couture, officially manager of the new "Daily Mirror", we have learned that the work on the new tabloid is going on in full swing. The paper, which is scheduled to start publication next week, is expected to be a great success.

The new paper will be published daily, and will be available at newsstands throughout the city. The paper will be divided into sections, each of which will carry different types of news and features.

Carnival Spirit Rules Campus

The annual carnival will be held this Friday, with music and dances in a large tent in the middle of the campus.

There will be a variety of dances, such as the Lindy Hop and the Boogie Woogie, as well as other popular dances. The music will be provided by a live band, and there will be refreshments available.

The carnival will be open to all students, and there will be no charge for admission. The proceeds from the carnival will be used to support the student newspaper, the "Daily Mirror".

The "Daily Mirror" is one of the most popular student publications on campus, and it is widely read by students and faculty alike. The newspaper covers a wide range of topics, from local news to national events.

Music Societies

Cosmopolitan in List Of Members

The music societies of Bates College are well known for their diverse and cosmopolitan membership. The societies attract students from all over the world, and their membership is open to anyone who is interested in music.

The societies include the Choral Society, the Symphony Orchestra, the Concert Band, and the Jazz Band. Each society has its own unique sound and style, and they all contribute to the vibrant musical life on campus.

New Republic Sponsors

College Literature Contest—Awards in April

The New Republic, a prestigious literary magazine, is sponsoring a college literature contest. The contest is open to students from all over the world, and the winners will be announced in April.

The contest is divided into three categories: poetry, short fiction, and long fiction. Each category will have a first prize of $1,000, a second prize of $750, and a third prize of $500.

The contest will be judged by a panel of professional writers, and the winners will be announced at a special ceremony in April. The ceremony will be held in the college's main auditorium, and it will be open to the public.
