Bates inaugurates
Student Activities Fees

The Student Council and Student Government in cooperation with the Outing Club and the Spectator have instituted the Student Activities Fees. These fees are a form of financial support of the extra curricular activities of the college. They are designed to give the students financial support of the major extra curricular activities of the college. The Student Activities Fee is on each student, in the amount of the voluntary basis, for which a student may be required to pay.
These activities are the organizations which have been created to fulfill the various needs of the students. These organizations are the Student Council and the Spectator, and the Outing Club.

There are many other improvements which the Committee on student activities would like to see the real necessity for such a fee.
In the past these organizations have functioned on a voluntary basis, and the income that they have received has been inadequate to meet the costs of maintaining the organization. This has resulted in a wasteful expenditure of time and effort on the part of the students. The student activities fees will be used to support the various organizations in the college, and will provide a financial basis for the continued existence of these organizations.

Economy

In the past, the student activities have been supported by the voluntary contributions of the students. These contributions have been inadequate to meet the costs of maintaining the organization. The student activities fees will be used to support the various organizations in the college, and will provide a financial basis for the continued existence of these organizations.
