INTERNATIONAL DEBATE WED.
National Politics

Governor (致します) state- ment at the opening of the legislative session, as a bill for the relief of certain citizens of the state, who have been deprived of their property by the action of the legislature, was introduced. The governor termed the bill a "great step forward in the solution of the state's financial problems," and added that it was intended to provide relief for those who have been "burdened by unjust taxes and unjust assessments.

Through Undergraduate Eyes

The greatest part of it savors more strongly of the politician than the poet, and in the hands of the politician it is all too often reduced to a trite, meaningless phrase. But in the hands of the poet, it becomes a beautiful, moving expression of his innermost feelings and thoughts. The poet is able to convey his message through the medium of language, which is the universal language of all mankind. By using the power of words, he is able to create an image in the reader's mind, which can be used to influence and move people. This is why the poet's voice is so powerful and persuasive. It is the poet who can make people think, feel, and act. It is the poet who can change the world.

IF DOWING RETURN 797?
The past week's events in the Presidential election have led to much speculation about the possibility of Dowing returning to the White House. Mr. Dowing's recent performance has been seen as a strong indicator of his potential to lead the country in the future.

Des Moines address, together with Mr. Roosevelt's well received defence of the country's interests in Europe, has been a strong indication of the increasing political influence of the President. At the same time, peace has been declared in Europe and the United States.

Mr. Dowing has shown great skill in handling the complex issues facing the country, and his leadership has been praised by many. His ability to navigate these challenges has led to speculation about his potential to lead the country in the future.

Among the factors that have contributed to Dowing's success are his strong communication skills and his ability to connect with the American people. He has been able to articulate his vision for the country, and his rhetoric has resonated with many.

In conclusion, the past week's events have led to much speculation about the possibility of Dowing returning to the White House. His leadership has been praised, and his potential to lead the country in the future has been noted. However, it is important to remember that the future is uncertain, and much will depend on the decisions that are made in the coming weeks.

A man is required to be a leader in order to be able to influence others. This is true whether you are leading a group of people in a business setting or leading a family in a personal setting. A leader must be able to inspire and motivate others to work towards a common goal.

In order to be an effective leader, a person must have certain qualities. These qualities include confidence, integrity, and honesty. A leader must be able to make difficult decisions and be willing to take responsibility for the outcomes of those decisions.

The tobacco that is cut best for pipes might be termed "whitish cut" or "rough cut." It requires a type of tobacco different from the tobacco used for chewing toobacco or cigarettes. Then again, Granger is made by Wellman's Method. Granger has a pleasing aroma. It is slow burning and cool. Just try it!

STUDENT PROPOSES REVISION IN STATE SERIES SCHEDULE

By VINCENT BELLANO

The proposal to cut down Maine's series with the other state colleges was made in a meeting of the Student Council on October 13, 1953, according to reports.

SU COUNCIL, which has been meeting regularly, had an agenda consisting of the following items: (1) cut down Maine's series with the other state colleges, and (2) eliminate the basketball teams from the state series.
