BOOK REVIEW

SHAKESPEARE SHORT BIOGRAPHIES OF ANCIENT TIMES

The author of "Shakespeare Short Biographies of Ancient Times," C.W. Price, has compiled a series of biographies of notable figures from ancient times. The book covers a wide range of individuals, from philosophers to politicians, and provides concise yet informative accounts of their lives. Price's approach is both entertaining and educational, making it accessible to readers with varying levels of interest in history. Whether you're a Shakespeare enthusiast or simply someone who enjoys learning about the past, "Shakespeare Short Biographies of Ancient Times" is a valuable resource.

To a friend whose work has come to nothing

By WILLIAM SUTTER-Brown

Those are the words, and yet they are not. They are the words of a man who has known more than his share of disappointment and frustration. Perhaps he has been a writer, a painter, or a musician, and his work has not been recognized or appreciated. Perhaps he has been a scientist, an inventor, or a business leader, and his efforts have not paid off.

But whatever his field, his experience is likely to have taught him a valuable lesson: that success is not always guaranteed, and that failure is not always final. It is easy to become discouraged when our efforts do not bear fruit, but it is important to remember that even the most successful people have had their share of setbacks.

So to my friend whose work has come to nothing, I offer these words of encouragement. Remember that failure is not the end of the road, but a stepping stone to success. Keep trying, keep believing, and you may yet achieve your goals.

THE STUDENT AND THE WORLD

By JAMES BALAGA

Student life at Bates College is a unique experience. It is a time when you are free to explore your interests, to challenge yourself, and to make the most of your education. And it is a time when you are part of a community of like-minded people, who share your goals and your dreams.

The University of Maine and Colby are willing and ready to help the sport of basketball. The move by the College of St. Thomas in St. Paul, Minnesota, to place the sport on a par with other college sports is a step in the right direction. However, the University of Maine and Colby must also be willing to invest in the sport, both in terms of facilities and resources.

Basketball was first played at Bates College in 1893. Since then, it has been an integral part of the college experience. It is a sport that has been enjoyed by students, faculty, and alumni alike. And it is a sport that has brought Bates College to national attention.

To the student who has come to nothing, I offer these words of encouragement. Remember that failure is not the end of the road, but a stepping stone to success. Keep trying, keep believing, and you may yet achieve your goals.
Chesterfield

Cross Blended—that's why they're Milder that's why they Taste Better

What is Cross Blending?

"Let's say you’re painting clouds. You’ve got your primary colors here on the palette. But you haven’t the clouds until you blend certain colors from the special tone you want."

"This is very much what happens in the good segments, whether what Chesterfield means by Cross-Blending is what an artist does with colors. Their Burley and Turkish tobaccos—many varieties of each—are the primary colors. They blend and cross-blend those tobacco until they get the special tone they want—in other words, the taste you want."

"And just as each color you use acts on the others to change and develop, so each Chesterfield partakes of the fine qualities of every other."

"You hold" different kinds to get a better kind. That's Cross-Blending!"
Basketball Movement

Most important of all to the Bates basketball team was the fall practice season. The lessons, which began the 1st of November, are now finished, and the student-athletes have had ample opportunity to study the game under the capable guidance of Coach Spinks. Coach Spinks, a veteran of many years in the coaching of football and basketball, has been a great asset to the student body and to the college.

Insett Statesmen. The Statesmen, who represented the Bates basketball team, were defeated in the semi-finals of the State tournament. The Statesmen were coached by R. E. Martineau, who has been a successful basketball coach at Bates for many years.

The Statesmen are a highly skilled team, and their defeat was a disappointment to their many fans. The team is composed of experienced players, and their loss is a great blow to the college.

The Bates basketball team is expected to make a good showing in the upcoming season. Coach Spinks has been working hard to develop the team, and the players are taking the work seriously. The team is expected to be competitive in the upcoming season.

THE INDIAN RAID

The Indian Raid is an annual event sponsored by the Bates Student Body. This year, the Indian Raid was held on November 29th and featured a variety of activities, including a parade, a bonfire, and a dance.

The parade was led by the Bates football team, and the crowd was treated to a variety of floats and costumes. The parade was followed by a bonfire, where the students gathered to enjoy the warmth and camaraderie.

After the bonfire, the students headed to the dance, where they danced the night away to the music of the Bates band. The dance was a great success, and the students had a wonderful time.

The Indian Raid is a beloved tradition at Bates College, and it is eagerly anticipated by the students every year. The event is a great way for the students to come together and celebrate the beginning of the school year.

No raw tobaccos in Luckies—That's why they're so mild

We buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that doesn't explain why folks everywhere regard Luckies as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Sickem Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted!" That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes. "It's toasted! That package of mild Luckies
