One of the first obligations of a small college like Bates is the promotion of close and hearty personal relations between students and teachers.

Faculty advisers for the men of Bates are the following:

Consultations are welcomed on educational, vocational, and personal matters; Juniors and Seniors report to their own committees made up of faculty members. The U. of M. Black Bear, and, particularly, Professor Van Hayden. Charlotte McKenney, Barbara Leadbetter, Betty Co.Ed, take the hostess role in the entertainment.

Facilities for games and dancing were on opening night, thirty, and dinner was served to the guests with their music. A group of junior girls and their friends who live in a house were guests of honor.

The following guests were invited:

- Betty Co.Ed, popular Bates student, was Miss America at the 1929 World's Fair. Her presence added to the excitement of the occasion.

The summary:

- The snappy numbers by the band, the different committees for the program, and the snappy women from Bates who sang, did a service for the school.
