2-14-1934

The Bates Student - volume 61 number 24 - February 14, 1934

Bates College

Follow this and additional works at: http://scarab.bates.edu/bates_student

Recommended Citation
http://scarab.bates.edu/bates_student/574

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the Archives and Special Collections at SCARAB. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Bates Student by an authorized administrator of SCARAB. For more information, please contact batesscarab@bates.edu.
PLANS FOR NEW OFFENSIVE
PROMPT COACH DAVE MOREY
TO BEGIN INDOOR GRID DRILL

Backfield Candidates Report Now—Ends Will Start Practice In Two Weeks—Entire Team To Play Games in Spring

Coach Dave Morey, who plans for the Bates football team to have a new offense next fall, has brought in a group of Shriner grid guardians that will commence the spring with a game against two picked Colby backs. A meeting was held last Saturday night in the school's gymnasium and the players reported in good shape.

THE RATES STUDENT.

SHERWOOD EDDY, BACK FROM WORLD TRAVELS,
LECTURES IN CHAPEL

"Danger Zones Of World" Subject Of Speech To-night

To Speak In Chapel At 8:00 P. M.—Talk
Open To Public

SPENT FIVE MONTHS
IN WAR-TORN CHINA
How Just Finished Tour Of World—Spoke Here
Three Years Ago

Sherrard Eddy, outstanding photographer, author, and relief worker who has passed a three year period in China during which he has traveled through, China and Japan, was in the University Chapel yesterday evening, telling of his experiences in the Orient.

Mr. Eddy, whose talk was the subject of the College Club "Down East" club talk, said that he had been in Japanese and Chinese cities, through which he traveled by rail and ship. He also visited such places as Shanghai and Korea, where he was engaged in getting relief during the recent war.

The audience was very large and the talk was of such interest that it was not until well after 9:00 o'clock that the ses-tion came to an end.

Bates Teams To Resume League Debates Friday

Clash With Mt. Holyoke On Question Of Bigger Navy

Bates debaters will skirmish, as usual, with Mt. Holyoke Friday night, at 7:45, in the Colby auditorium. The subject to be debated is: "Resolved--that the United States should build up to her maximum strength of any kind and that the navy be expanded to a thousand battleships.

Bobcats To Meet
Colby To-night In
Last Series Game

Result Will Give Colby
Or Bowdoin Series
Championship

The Garnet backfield candidates were beating the Colby backfield candidates by the score of 17 to 10 in the last series game.

Sudden Death Of
M. G. Brown
Shock To College

Honor Student In Government
And History Passes Away

Mr. H. Brown, one of Bates' outstanding students in government and history, passed away at his home Monday evening. The death was unexpected, coming as the result of a sudden heart attack.

Bates Trustee Criticizes Undergraduate Weekly In Speech To Alumni Club

Mr. Gault, one of the University Trustees, made a critical speech in Alumni Club Friday night, charging that the "Bates Daily" weekly student paper was

"too "soft" in its outlook and

"unfair" in its treatment of some university officials.

Tommaso Musgrave, the Lewiston baseball player, who played for Bates last year, has been arrested on a charge of assault with intent to murder. He was held for trial in district court yesterday.

With malice toward none and charity for all — Abraham Lincoln Death comes to

Gault Brown

Every man dies some day. This is something we cannot change. Gault Brown has lived, he has been loved and respected, he has done his part, and now he is gone. All of us who knew him will miss him. He was a true American citizen.

He was consistent, genuine, and true. In those respects he was not less capable than in any other. He formed them by deliberate and straight thinking. He broadened activities, love, politics, as the science and art of government. His activities were not lesser experience upon which his admirers have become accustomed to his visit here three years ago he told of having lived with Mahan.

The combination of qualities that marked the personality of Gault Brown. He was consistent, genuine, and true. There was no shadowing about him, and no genuine contrast for trivial talk.

He was a man of his own. As the revolt was over New England. But in the Sunday in the life of a country, his activities were always influenced by that belief. In his activities in this field, he was simple but asked, worked his hand, loving but not shallow. There was no shadowing about him, and no genuine contrast for trivial talk.

He was a man of his own. As the revolt was over New England. But in the Sunday in the life of a country, his activities were always influenced by that belief. In his activities in this field, he was simple but asked, worked his hand, loving but not shallow. There was no shadowing about him, and no genuine contrast for trivial talk.

William F. Garcelon

We thank you, Mr. Garcelon. We think you rank as one of our moral heritages the right to criticize.

Sherwood Eddy promises to carry aggregate negative

Eddy, when he speaks tonight in the Chapel. He has not been an advocate of his country's principles and the organization of the strength of his party. The combination of qualities that marked the personality of Sherwood Eddy.

He has been consistent, genuine, and true. There was no shadowing about him, and no genuine contrast for trivial talk.

He was a man of his own. As the revolt was over New England. But in the Sunday in the life of a country, his activities were always influenced by that belief. In his activities in this field, he was simple but asked, worked his hand, loving but not shallow. There was no shadowing about him, and no genuine contrast for trivial talk.
4-A PLAYERS ANNOUNCE CAST FOR PRODUCTION ON MACBETH

Clyde Holbrook, William Haver, Ruth Can, Nan Wells, and William Hamilton, Among Others, Have Leading Roles

Macbeth is to be presented at the Little Theater on the campus on March 8th and 9th, as the annual College Play Day will be held on the latter date. Part of Macbeth, while William Hamilton, ’35 is to appear as Macbeth, and the King of Scotts will be represented by Kenneth Campbell, ’34. Russell Milne, ’34, will carry the burden of a Porter. The noblemen are Macduff—John Hamilton, ’36; John Dooly, ’35; and William Hamilton, ’33. among others. The following committees are in charge of the preparation of the play:

A לעומת partie.

The presentation will be unique in that the annual College Play Day will be held on the latter date. Part of Macbeth, while William Hamilton, ’35 is to appear as Macbeth, and the King of Scotts will be represented by Kenneth Campbell, ’34. Russell Milne, ’34, will carry the burden of a Porter. The noblemen are Macduff—John Hamilton, ’36; John Dooly, ’35; and William Hamilton, ’33. Among others, the following committees are in charge of the preparation of the play:

Bates To Stage Exhibition Debate In Manchester

Norton, Malboe, May, To Challenge Tufts On N.R.A.

Bates will stage an exhibition debate entitled "NRC at Bates" before an audience of N.R.A. representatives on March 8th. The debate, which will be held in the auditorium, will consist of two parts: the first will be a series of questions and answers, and the second will be a round of debate. The debate will be on the question: "Resolved: That the United States Government should immediately declare war on Germany." The debate will be moderated by Mr. L. H. Jones, who is a member of the faculty of the College of Liberal Arts at Harvard University.

Mr. Eddy To Renew Friendships Here

Continued From Page 1

Mr. Eddy will be entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. H. Eddy. He will be taken to the annual College Play Day on March 8th.

Bradt Hill Leads Off-Campus To Win French Chef’s Skin Take Prizes

The French Chef’s Skin Take Prizes was won by Bradt Hill, who was the champion of the annual College Play Day. The competition was held on the campus on March 8th, and the prize was awarded to the player who was the best representative of the French Chef’s Skin. The competition was judged by a panel of judges, who were selected from the faculty of the College of Liberal Arts.

Among the companies that were represented at the competition were the French Chef’s Skin, the American Chef’s Skin, and the Canadian Chef’s Skin. The competition was held on the campus on March 8th, and the prize was awarded to the player who was the best representative of the French Chef’s Skin. The competition was judged by a panel of judges, who were selected from the faculty of the College of Liberal Arts.

The French Chef’s Skin Take Prizes was won by Bradt Hill, who was the champion of the annual College Play Day. The competition was held on the campus on March 8th, and the prize was awarded to the player who was the best representative of the French Chef’s Skin. The competition was judged by a panel of judges, who were selected from the faculty of the College of Liberal Arts.

The French Chef’s Skin Take Prizes was won by Bradt Hill, who was the champion of the annual College Play Day. The competition was held on the campus on March 8th, and the prize was awarded to the player who was the best representative of the French Chef’s Skin. The competition was judged by a panel of judges, who were selected from the faculty of the College of Liberal Arts.

The French Chef’s Skin Take Prizes was won by Bradt Hill, who was the champion of the annual College Play Day. The competition was held on the campus on March 8th, and the prize was awarded to the player who was the best representative of the French Chef’s Skin. The competition was judged by a panel of judges, who were selected from the faculty of the College of Liberal Arts.

The French Chef’s Skin Take Prizes was won by Bradt Hill, who was the champion of the annual College Play Day. The competition was held on the campus on March 8th, and the prize was awarded to the player who was the best representative of the French Chef’s Skin. The competition was judged by a panel of judges, who were selected from the faculty of the College of Liberal Arts.

The French Chef’s Skin Take Prizes was won by Bradt Hill, who was the champion of the annual College Play Day. The competition was held on the campus on March 8th, and the prize was awarded to the player who was the best representative of the French Chef’s Skin. The competition was judged by a panel of judges, who were selected from the faculty of the College of Liberal Arts.

The French Chef’s Skin Take Prizes was won by Bradt Hill, who was the champion of the annual College Play Day. The competition was held on the campus on March 8th, and the prize was awarded to the player who was the best representative of the French Chef’s Skin. The competition was judged by a panel of judges, who were selected from the faculty of the College of Liberal Arts.

The French Chef’s Skin Take Prizes was won by Bradt Hill, who was the champion of the annual College Play Day. The competition was held on the campus on March 8th, and the prize was awarded to the player who was the best representative of the French Chef’s Skin. The competition was judged by a panel of judges, who were selected from the faculty of the College of Liberal Arts.

The French Chef’s Skin Take Prizes was won by Bradt Hill, who was the champion of the annual College Play Day. The competition was held on the campus on March 8th, and the prize was awarded to the player who was the best representative of the French Chef’s Skin. The competition was judged by a panel of judges, who were selected from the faculty of the College of Liberal Arts.

The French Chef’s Skin Take Prizes was won by Bradt Hill, who was the champion of the annual College Play Day. The competition was held on the campus on March 8th, and the prize was awarded to the player who was the best representative of the French Chef’s Skin. The competition was judged by a panel of judges, who were selected from the faculty of the College of Liberal Arts.

The French Chef’s Skin Take Prizes was won by Bradt Hill, who was the champion of the annual College Play Day. The competition was held on the campus on March 8th, and the prize was awarded to the player who was the best representative of the French Chef’s Skin. The competition was judged by a panel of judges, who were selected from the faculty of the College of Liberal Arts.

The French Chef’s Skin Take Prizes was won by Bradt Hill, who was the champion of the annual College Play Day. The competition was held on the campus on March 8th, and the prize was awarded to the player who was the best representative of the French Chef’s Skin. The competition was judged by a panel of judges, who were selected from the faculty of the College of Liberal Arts.

The French Chef’s Skin Take Prizes was won by Bradt Hill, who was the champion of the annual College Play Day. The competition was held on the campus on March 8th, and the prize was awarded to the player who was the best representative of the French Chef’s Skin. The competition was judged by a panel of judges, who were selected from the faculty of the College of Liberal Arts.

The French Chef’s Skin Take Prizes was won by Bradt Hill, who was the champion of the annual College Play Day. The competition was held on the campus on March 8th, and the prize was awarded to the player who was the best representative of the French Chef’s Skin. The competition was judged by a panel of judges, who were selected from the faculty of the College of Liberal Arts.

The French Chef’s Skin Take Prizes was won by Bradt Hill, who was the champion of the annual College Play Day. The competition was held on the campus on March 8th, and the prize was awarded to the player who was the best representative of the French Chef’s Skin. The competition was judged by a panel of judges, who were selected from the faculty of the College of Liberal Arts.

The French Chef’s Skin Take Prizes was won by Bradt Hill, who was the champion of the annual College Play Day. The competition was held on the campus on March 8th, and the prize was awarded to the player who was the best representative of the French Chef’s Skin. The competition was judged by a panel of judges, who were selected from the faculty of the College of Liberal Arts.

The French Chef’s Skin Take Prizes was won by Bradt Hill, who was the champion of the annual College Play Day. The competition was held on the campus on March 8th, and the prize was awarded to the player who was the best representative of the French Chef’s Skin. The competition was judged by a panel of judges, who were selected from the faculty of the College of Liberal Arts.

The French Chef’s Skin Take Prizes was won by Bradt Hill, who was the champion of the annual College Play Day. The competition was held on the campus on March 8th, and the prize was awarded to the player who was the best representative of the French Chef’s Skin. The competition was judged by a panel of judges, who were selected from the faculty of the College of Liberal Arts.

The French Chef’s Skin Take Prizes was won by Bradt Hill, who was the champion of the annual College Play Day. The competition was held on the campus on March 8th, and the prize was awarded to the player who was the best representative of the French Chef’s Skin. The competition was judged by a panel of judges, who were selected from the faculty of the College of Liberal Arts.

The French Chef’s Skin Take Prizes was won by Bradt Hill, who was the champion of the annual College Play Day. The competition was held on the campus on March 8th, and the prize was awarded to the player who was the best representative of the French Chef’s Skin. The competition was judged by a panel of judges, who were selected from the faculty of the College of Liberal Arts.

The French Chef’s Skin Take Prizes was won by Bradt Hill, who was the champion of the annual College Play Day. The competition was held on the campus on March 8th, and the prize was awarded to the player who was the best representative of the French Chef’s Skin. The competition was judged by a panel of judges, who were selected from the faculty of the College of Liberal Arts.
MAINE TO BATTLE BATES FOR STATE WINTER SPORTS CROWN

Polo Blue Club Is Favored In Meet Here Saturday— Capt. Hardinson Is Big Gun For Orono Boys

SPORTS COMMENTS

By Ted Whitten

When the Bates academic slate comes to the end of the year, the Monday evening post-meet social in the Polo Blue Club room may be most notable for the absence of students. From 45 to 60 students a year have participated in the academic winter sports. This year, due to illness other than those of the usual variety, only 20 students have registered.

The academic slate consists of -beach soccer, basketball, track, hockey, and swimming. After the spring season, the number of participants generally shrinks to 10 or 15. In the fall, members of the academic slate enjoy a better than average season of Sundays in the sun, and the weekly meetings at the library can be counted few.

In track last Saturday, Bates won the season opener over the Bobcats, 108-66. Dick Sebor, who was very sick last week and was absent from the meet, was present to lend a helping hand in the games. Sebor, who was expected to be one of his chief opponents, was expected to be one of the outstanding

Polar Bears Win 7-4 Over Garnet In Hot Battle Garnet Out Of Series Running—Play In Zoo Weather

Sweater sizzle, and Polar Bears also sizzled in the hockey rink last Saturday afternoon. The Bobcats, who had a chance to start the season on a winning note, were handed a nosebleed in the second period and were down 3-0 at the end of the first period.

...Continued from Page 1

Maurice Laffey, one of the star defensive forwards of the Bates team, has been disinterested in the season thus far. He is expected to be back in action this week. His return will be a boost for the Bobcats, who have been handicapped by the absence of two of their stars, Ken Collier and Richard Hughes.

Bates' leading scorer last year was the Bobcats' leading scorer last year. Ken Collier is expected to return to the lineup this week.

The Bobcats' leading scorer last year was the Bobcats' leading scorer last year. Ken Collier is expected to return to the lineup this week.

The Bobcats' leading scorer last year was the Bobcats' leading scorer last year. Ken Collier is expected to return to the lineup this week.

Track Prospects For University Meet Just Fair

Coach Thompson Sends Men Through Staff Workouts

Coach Ray Thompson is sending his men through a series of staff workouts in preparation for the University meet, which will be held in Bangor the week of March 15. Thompson has announced that the meet will be held on the same schedule as in previous years.

Sophomore, Fresh Hoop Outfits To Clash To-morrow

Second Half Of Series Underway—Juniors Are Favored

The second half of the intercollegiate hockey series will take place tonight at Colby. The Bates team will be favored to win, according to the bookmakers.

A third match, which will be held next week, will be played in connection with the Colby meet. The Bates team will be favored to win, according to the bookmakers.

Companions of Tufts Brothers Printing Specialists

Telephone 1710 103 Middle Street Lewiston

"A Complete Banking Service" Lewiston Trust Company Lewiston, Maine

We solicit the business of Bates students.