Garnet Of High Quality
And Dignified Format

It is not often that the recipient is asked to contribute to the making of the beautiful presentation box in which the Garnet is housed. Mrs. William Brown Meloney, in her capacity as President of the Garnet Society, has been called upon to perform this task. The presentation box is of the highest quality, and is designed to reflect the dignity and grace of the Garnet Society.

The Garnet

W H E T H E R O R N O T, we have any literary genius in a campus is a matter of relatively little importance. But if we have any talent for writing which can be developed and perfected, we shall be able to provide every possible-opportunity for that development. The group we refer to may not write the "great American novel," but they are capable of producing some good prose. However, if through some medium of development fostered by our college group the general level of our nation's culture may be raised, if the richness of life for the common man may be increased thereby, then our "literary" magazine will not have been published without profit.

The opinion of the college at large, whole seems to be that the current issue of the "Garnet" is far above the general level of past issues. In many ways it is of a surprisingly good quality. It has also excelled more favorable comments than most issues have been able to do. The fact that it does not regard as just another "Garnet" is enough to give its editors a good deal of encouragement.

Occasionally one gives a bit despair as to whether the college and women really has any of those interests that are usually termed "vulcanized" and the fact that there is not a whole lot of killing is not regarded as just another "Garnet" is enough to give its editors a good deal of encouragement.

Lift Your Aim

We shot our arrows toward the sun.
Beside the castle wall.
His arrow was the highest one.
Another shot forward.
Another archer said. "You win.
He answered. "No, I lost.
No some time, all of us.
He goes on aiming higher still.
We never win, we only make
A wrong guess.
We never win, we only make
A wrong guess.
We never win, we only make
A wrong guess.

The truth is we are the only ones.
Beside the castle wall.
We never win, we only make
A wrong guess.
We never win, we only make
A wrong guess.
We never win, we only make
A wrong guess.

This makes us aim higher, makes us aim higher.
And this is all that will.
To shoot, and then to aim again.
A little higher still.
However high your arrow went,
Be not one with success content.
Still higher look! Look not below.
But lift your aim—aim high.
Douglas Malloch.

Campus Hunters Attempt To Make Bier For Bear

The football team, the shooting season, the basketball team, and even the diplomats from the German capital are all engaged in the making of bear bier. As a result of the recent trip of the German gunship, and the anticipated arrival of the German gunboat in the near future, the campus is now in a state of excitement.

The manufacture of bear bier is a laborious process, requiring several days of work. The first step is the raising of the bear, which is done by the German government. The bear is then taken to the brewery, where it is subjected to a variety of processes, including the addition of various spices and ingredients. The bear bier is then allowed to ferment for several days, during which time it acquires its characteristic flavor and aroma.

The bear bier is then bottled and distributed to the public in the usual manner. It is sold at a price of two dollars per bottle, and is very popular among the students and faculty.

Four Colleges Participate In Forum At Bangor

Ray Soterin Represents Bates In Discussion Of World Issues

Four New England schools, including Bates, participated in a political forum held last week in Bangor, Maine. The forum was sponsored by the American Political Science Association and was attended by representatives from Harvard, Yale, and Brown universities.

The forum was divided into two sessions. The first session was devoted to the discussion of the current political and social issues facing the United States and the world. The second session was devoted to the discussion of the role of the United States in the world and the future of world peace.

Ray Soterin, a member of the Bates political science department, represented the college in the discussion. He presented Bates' position on the current issues and discussed the college's role in the world.

Soterin's presentation was well received by the other participants, who praised him for his knowledgeable and insightful remarks. The forum concluded with a round of applause from the audience.

The forum was a great success, and it is hoped that it will be repeated in the future.
Nominations Come In for "Man of Year"

This is the year when the Maine Man of the Year award is being bestowed upon a citizen of our state who has contributed to the welfare of the state or nation in a notable manner. The award is given annually by the Maine Man of the Year Committee, which consists of members from various fields such as business, education, and government. The selection process is rigorous, and the committee carefully reviews the nominations received each year.

The awardee is expected to be a person who has demonstrated exceptional leadership, integrity, and a commitment to the betterment of society. The recipient will be honored at a special ceremony, and their contributions will be recognized publicly.

The Maine Man of the Year award has been in existence for several years, and it serves as a reminder of the many individuals who work tirelessly to make our community a better place. The committee is always on the lookout for deserving candidates, and anyone interested in nominating someone is encouraged to contact the committee for more information.

The Maine Man of the Year Committee can be reached at [contact information]. They are looking forward to receiving nominations for this prestigious award and are confident of finding a worthy recipient to honor in the coming year.
SPORTS SHOTS

BY BOB LAUDER

Things promise to get going once again as another season begins officially today. 11.00 A.M. will be the main event. Hockey candidates have not been required to try out but the track men are getting right down to serious training. The last day of practice for the many societies of football clubs on campus occurred on many days and after dark last fall, resembling no-man's land before contests. It has been made new by Rolley to open up without falling in a hole. We were afraid the horse would get away from Tom and dig a few gullies but he seems to have had everything under control.

Winter Sports Schedule

Toboggan

The winter sports schedule will not yet be on the whole body but, the rules have been established and the teams have practiced. The games scheduled for the winter season are as follows:

- Football: November 26
- Basketball: November 27
- Hockey: December 2
- Volleyball: December 3

The regular schedule will be announced later.

the cigarette that's MILDER

the cigarette that TASTES BETTER

MANY men of the South have been "in tobacco" for years—growing tobacco and curing it—buying it and selling it—until they know tobacco from A to Zazzard.

Now folks who have been in tobacco all their lives, folks who grow it, know there is no substitute for mild ripe tobacco.

And down in the South they grow tobacco and where they ought to know something about it—in most places Chesterfield is the largest-selling cigarette.
