Carl Miliken, Ruth Frye
Praised As Co-Chairman Of Successful Winter Carnival

Favorable Weather Aids Outing Club — Many Spectators — Program Of Events Continues

By Fred M. Parry

A referee's whistle whirled on Thursday afternoon that started a football game on the stadium field, and the inaugural scattering of the huge throng which at golden hour Sunday marked the winter carnival within the walls of John Jay College. Winter was King, Gladys Webster was queen, and Co-Chairman Carl Miliken and Ruth Frye with the cooperation of assistants supervised the series of the four-day program.

Favorable weather aided the facing of the many throngs which filled the stands in the early part of the day, and the presence of the wind at the opening of the evening program. The program was well attended by the students, and administration.

Last winter, on Friday, one of the last of the year, the students of the college commenced their preparations for the Carnival. There was much enthusiasm among the students, and the sale of tickets were brisk. Many tickets were sold and the students are looking forward to another successful carnival.

The students of the college have been working hard to prepare for the Carnival. They have been busy with the decorations and the arrangement of the stands. They have been working long hours, but they are all looking forward to the success of the event.

The Carnival will be held on Friday and Saturday, and it is expected to be a success. The students are excited about the event and are looking forward to it.

How To Write Clean Wit And Humor

I

THE FIRST PLACE, if I may quote a certain man about the campus: "College men are not when they are humorous; they are either very dirty or very polite."

First, you must write in white paper (this was originally written on white paper) and carefully insert it in the type writer. It is thought that the ink will not show through the paper of the book, but that is another topic. After trying to straighten the paper, you can pitch your fingers on the keys and write to the holy that the crowd in the office or room would stop cawing around.

You can criticize. But are they constructive? I leave that to you.

The BEES has been successfully completed. The BOC adds a marked effect as always took place.

Are We Provincial?

NE of the most amusing, to use a mild word, articles which visitors in a small college can take is that of slang. It is amusing, I mean, to the writer, and to the reader, at least, if he is a student. Slang is a way of getting around the thought and experience between the thought and experience. It is the thought that is the real thing, not the experience. It is not preaching news, but the news of the thought. It is not the actual fact, but the idea of the fact. It is not the real story, but the idea of the story. It is not the actual experience, but the idea of the experience. It is not the actual history, but the idea of the history. It is not the actual politics, but the idea of the politics. It is not the actual literature, but the idea of the literature. It is not the actual science, but the idea of the science. It is not the actual art, but the idea of the art. It is not the actual religion, but the idea of the religion.

The Student and the World

This is a lousy way to treat the professor but here is a poem about the professor.

Mr. Allen was invited to deliver the Phi Delta Kappa address at the Bates College annual meeting.
