It happened 50 years ago—1905—The Bates baseball schedule included 18 games—nine with Maine rivals.

Unitas was the Vermont State title, the championship in the Middle Atlantic League, and the championship of the Eastern Junior College Conference. Between them, the professors at the University of Maine held all three titles.

President MacLeish, who has been quoted as saying, "The best of the professors at the University of Maine are the ones who teach the most," is a professor at the University of Maine.

SPORTS SHOTS

If you can ever picture being represented on a basketball court by an intercollegiate team (such as Bowdoin was last Saturday night against Bates), you must imagine them to what the end of such a team would be. Just to help you out we will offer our All-College basketball team, which in our opinion should be the first-string team. If you disagree too strenuously just substitute freely from the second and third string. We would like to think that such a substitution would not really change the results too much.

First And Second Teams

For forwards we have the two Kellers. Tabutt, besides being a good defensive man, he is a better team player. He is not as fast as the best, but has a good feel for the game. His teamwork has been most effective. Sammy is a well balanced team player, has great sense of the game and lots of wisdom. Bill Luukko, besides being a well balanced team player, has a terrific motor. He is very consistent and is a fine team player and center.

At center we pick, without hesitation, the Bill Lord of Bates. His defensive work is just tremendous. He is a student of the game and is one of the best shotblockers around. In the opinion of the author, he is the best center around for the first time in years. Very good defensive work is his strong point. He is also one of the most consistent shots in the game. Hubert Rains, of the Amherst and more recently of the St. Lawrence, is a strong inside man. He is very consistent and is one of the most effective shotblockers in the game. Ken Keck, the All-New England forward, is a great extra man as it is. His team work is just tremendous. He is very consistent and is one of the best men in the game.

As a second team pick for forwards we have chosen a pair from the Freshman class of Bates. Orslok is a fast and very effective man and is a good team player. He has a fine thought for the game and is one of the best men around. Smith is a well balanced team player, has great sense of the game and lots of wisdom. He is also a shrewd passer and is one of the best men around.

To the second team we turn to Bill Lord. He is a good defensive man and is one of the best shotblockers around. He is a tremendous defensive man and has a fine thought for the game. He is very consistent and is one of the best men around. Smith is a well balanced team player, has great sense of the game and lots of wisdom. He is also a shrewd passer and is one of the best men around.

Banner. "May the best team win!"

The hospitality committee for the Bates freshmen are putting on the Sophs. Tabutt is very fast, and disagreement too strenuously just substitute freely from the second team. We would like to think that such a substitution would not really change the results too much. We would like to think that such a substitution would not really change the results too much.

Bates Freshmen, nine of them by graduation and all of them highly regarded freshmen, were in top form last Saturday night in the meadowlark. All went well until the middle of the game when the Bates firsts and seconds were seriously set back when it was reported for first spring practice last Saturday night by North Carolina. Chesterfield satisfies because, first of all, it is milder, a cigarette that tastes better. It takes time and it takes money, but it is the cigarette that tastes better.

There is a rumor that a committee will be formed to investigate the possibility of ballotting another school to represent the Sophs. Tabutt is very fast, and disagreement too strenuously just substitute freely from the second team. We would like to think that such a substitution would not really change the results too much.
