LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Again—"Suicide"?

To the Editor of the "Bates"—When I read the last issue of our student organ I was led to believe that the student body had turned around, and that we were going to have a well-organized paper. But in all the last issue, I could find only the usual news of the world, and I am not sure if the world is definitely made up of news. Furthermore, the last issue contained only one letter to the editor. I am sure that this is due to the fact that the student body has not been given a chance to express its opinions. I believe that students should be given the opportunity to express their opinions, and that this is the only way we can be sure that the newspaper is truly representative of the student body.

Sincerely yours,
Bill Cooney '38.

Debating News

By Courtney Barry

Professor S. R. Sporl gives his first lecture to the members of the debate team on Monday. The students were thrilled to hear the world-renowned debater's insights. "The key to winning a debate is to be able to anticipate your opponent's arguments and have counterarguments ready," Professor Sporl stated.

The debate team is currently preparing for their upcoming tournament. They are split into two groups: one group will focus on public speaking, while the other will focus on research and evidence. The debate team is also working on a new project to create a "Debate Corner" on campus, where anyone can come and practice their debating skills.

If the Man Bit the Dog Last Week...

WITH THIS ARTICLE we would like to suggest the transformation of the Bates weekly into a "newspaper" periodical. The newspaper is to be used for such purposes as the dissemination of information. The students of Bates are often unaware of important events that occur in the local area. The student body is also not adequately informed of the activities of the faculty. We, the students of Bates, would like to propose that a "newspaper" be established for the purpose of disseminating information to the student body.

The "newspaper" would be a weekly publication, distributed to all members of the student body. The content of the "newspaper" would include news of the local area, as well as news of the Bates community. The "newspaper" would also include news of the faculty, and would serve as a platform for the expression of student opinions.

The "newspaper" would be run by the student body, with the guidance of the faculty. The students would be encouraged to submit news articles, and the faculty would provide guidance and feedback. The "newspaper" would be a forum for the exchange of ideas and information, and would serve as a platform for the expression of student opinions.

We believe that the establishment of a "newspaper" would be beneficial to the student body and the Bates community. The "newspaper" would provide a valuable resource for the dissemination of information, and would serve as a platform for the expression of student opinions.

Sincerely yours,

INTERCOLLEGIATE NEWS

Musical Notes

By Bill Cooney

The Music Festival at Bates College was held on November 19th. The festival featured a variety of musical performances, including a concert by the Bates College Choral Society, and a performance by the Bates College Orchestra.

The Choral Society performed a selection of songs from the Great American Songbook, including "The Star-Spangled Banner" and "God Bless America." The performance was well-received by the audience, who sang along with the choir.

The Orchestra performed a selection of classical works, including Beethoven's Symphony No. 5 and Mozart's Eine kleine Nachtmusik. The performance was praised for its technical skill and musicality.

The festival concluded with a performance by the Bates College Glee Club. The Glee Club performed a selection of popular songs, including "Old MacDonald Had a Farm" and "The Itsy Bitsy Spider." The performance was a hit with the audience, who.joined in the fun and sang along.

The Music Festival was a great success, and the student community is eager to see more events of this nature in the future. The Music Department has already started planning for next year's festival.

WEEKLY ROOST — So that the grass may grow green on Garcelon Field, the athletic board was trying to keep ahead of running expenses. Maybe losses in gate receipts. Instead of wipping locked doors of that group no out.

They have lost their grip on the heart of the community on the head of college improvements. The college, however, refused to allow the money to grow green on Garcelon Field.

Go to Work On Boost

A depression has made it necessary to cut expenses and the athletic board felt the need for the fund was too important to be swept away. It was necessary to cut expenses, and the athletic field and the field itself needed improving. Normally there would be an out and a head of college improvements. The college, however, refused to allow the money to grow green on Garcelon Field.

Snows Bates Under 79-0

Bates defeated Plainfield last Saturday to clinch the American Little League Minor Baseball championship. The final score of the game was 79-0. This year the Bates baseball team has been the strongest elevens in the east to be defeated by Bates.

Bates took in $9,130—netted almost $7,650. (This year was better than last year.)

Track and cross-country income, $5,400, netted $3,240. The Bates baseball team was making a killing.

Bates walked off with money's sake. Reasonable human beings want to be in the thick of it themselves to see what happens. They want to be in the thick of it themselves to see what happens.

A professor Kipp of the law faculty is happy about the articles. The articles will be of great use in the college if he could have them. Mr. Toyi, the chairman of the department, is happy about the articles. The articles will be of great use in the college if he could have them.
