Final 4A Play To Be Given Apr. 30, May 1
"Gronite", by English Writer, Has Best Cast

The 4-A Players will present their closing production of this year Friday, Apr. 30, in the College Auditorium.

"Gronite" has probably the widest following of any play of its type presented here, as it has a wealth of both psychological and social content. The story is in English, and as such has a broader appeal than usual.

The play is directed by Alice Reynolds, assisted by Miss Kate Reynolds, and the cast has been chosen after careful deliberation.

Chosen for the lead role is John Smith, who has shown great promise in the last year. His portrayal of the part of the young man who falls in love with the heroine will be a treat for the audience.

Opinions Expressed In Peace Symposium

I am concerned that history shows the world today is far from the abolition of war. But the call for peace today probably has and perhaps more than ever before. Peace is not only a dream of the world's future, it is an essential part of the solution of the problems of today.

The class of 1936 will decorate the church in a storm and is sheltered by the church.
Protest Against War

A group of students expressed their opposition to the war by walking out of classes between eleven and twelve this morning. In this most dramatic statement opposing the satire by members of the Veterans of Future, one issue of the student newspaper, they declared their belief in the need for a world-wide movement toward peace. The issue in which the change is to occur.

The request for a world-wide movement toward peace was interpreted as anti-war in character and spread with the speed of a black plague. Spontaneous publicity (newspapers, slogans, and arguments) was expected to participate in a strike against war by walking out of the university at eleven o'clock, so that the students could have an opportunity to "Enlist for Peace" in acting as volunteers not only in organizing and propagating, but also in the actual performance of useful work in the service of peace...
