MATCH IS BATES' SECOND STRAIGHT VICTORY OVER PALE BLUE FORCERS

Coming back to win four singles matches and three doubles to win the first rubber for the first time in 17 years, Bates defeated the University of Maine for the first time in the intercollegiate history of the U. of Maine co-eds. For Bates, the victory was both its second straight over Maine and its second straight over the University of Maine in 17 years.

The key to the Bates victory over the University of Maine was the hard-fought singles. The Bates team was able to win three of the four singles matches, with the only loss coming to the University of Maine's captain, Bobbi Robinson.

The Eternal Road: A Four Act Drama

By G. B. Shaw

The Eternal Road is a four-act drama written by the well-known Viennese playwright George Bernard Shaw. Its plot revolves around the adventures of a group of young people who find themselves drawn into a conflict between the old and the new. The play is characterized by its witty dialogue and social commentary on contemporary issues.

Garnet Tracksters Will Seek Revenge For Recent Defeat

INJURIES OF KELLER, DANIELSON; LUKOU HURT BOBCATS’ CHANCES

On Saturday, May 14, at 1:30 P.M., Bates will meet Maine and New Hampshire in Portland at the Portland Stadium Track. When schedules first appeared on the champion boards, this meet seemed a win for Bates. But the timely appearance of a new injury report to start a string of injuries; the sickness of Bill Luukko; the strained ligaments of Harry Keller; the failure of Dan Sullivan to round into shape as he expected, make a Bates victory improbable.

Bell Farnes Kirkby

Pre-season talk and comment indicated a probable Bates win of Bates last winter. The team is healthy, whole, and ready to go into the season with a team that would make most people think the victory is assured. The injuries have made even the favored team’s chances uncertain.

On the track the 440 should be a “first man to the corner wins” affair. On the small end of a 72-54 score Bates won this meet when it mattered. The Frosh’s star miler, Dana Jones, did 180 feet 4 in.

Class Baseball League Is In Full Swing

Freshman and Senior Teams Show Most Flashes; Sophomores Weak

Interest in intra-mural baseball is at an all-time high and the class is operating at its second week of play. The most formidable offense of junior boys was defeated by a combination not as desired enough to rate as a true victory. The Senior has, without a doubt, their eyes on the title and will try to make the Sophomores real ugly. Junior and Sophomore teams have their eyes on the Sophomore team. The Sophomore class will try to hold the pack when possible and the Junior class will try to have some fun before the Sophomores win the league.

The Farmers have a fair bunch of baseball players, too. Despite the fact that the Sophomore team is not as strong as last year, they have a good batch of players and are expected to do well.

The Juniors are the best team on the baseball field. They have a good team of players and are expected to win the league.

Decision Meets Renewed By Debate League

Bates is represented at League Meeting; Also Learn Brown Possible New Member

As a result of the annual conference of the Eastern Intercollegiate Debating League last Friday and Saturday, new rules have been made to decentralize the organization which had been centering toward Bates during the past debating season.

In order to decentralize the interest in the League, the members of the Bates debate team have had a meeting with friends of the League, to decide for decisions on each debate and to award a championship as was the custom before it was interrupted this season. The League voted to accept the call for decisions on each debate and the option to sponsor a tournament if the season.
