Letter to The Editor

"Books and Poppies" The Editor:

To the editor of The Bates Student:

I am writing this letter in order to express my unsatisfied state of mind, which has been induced by the fact that I have been reading nothing but books for the past few months. It seems to me that this is a rather unhealthy occupation, and that I should be spending more time reading poppies instead.

Yes, indeed, reading poppies would be a much healthier occupation. They are full of life and color, and they perfume the air with their sweet fragrance. They are also very beautiful, with their delicate petals and slender stems.

I must confess that I have been reading nothing but books lately, and I am now feeling very depressed. I have been reading one book after another, and I have not been able to find anything that I really enjoy reading.

I think that I must start reading poppies again. They are much more interesting than books, and they will help me to forget about my problems.

Sincerely yours,

John Doe

"Books and Poppies" The Editor:

I am writing to express my dissatisfaction with the current situation at Bates College. The students here are spending too much time reading books, and not enough time reading poppies.

Reading books is certainly an important activity, but it is also very important to spend time reading poppies. Poppies are a beautiful and fragrant flower, and they can help to brighten up a dreary day.

I think that the administration of Bates College should be doing more to encourage the students to read poppies. They should be offering more courses on the cultivation of poppies, and they should be providing more space for poppies to grow on the campus.

Sincerely yours,

Mary Smith

Gary Cooper says: "It’s plain common sense for me to prefer this light smoke"

An independent survey was made recently among professional men and women—lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc. of those who said they smoke cigarettes, more than 87% stated they personally prefer a light smoke.

Gary Cooper verifies the wisdom of this preference, and so do other leading artists of the radio, stage, screen and opera. Their voices are their fortunes. That’s why so many of them smoke Luckies. You, too, can have the thrust of Luckies—a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the little "It’s Toasted". Luckies are gentle on the throat.

The German Singers, a group of students who met three times weekly in the spring for the purpose of becoming familiar with German, its language and literature. The recent meeting was held on February 25 at the home of Howard Steiner, and was attended by members of the group. The program consisted of several songs in German, sung by Mr. and Mrs. Steiner, who have been studying the language for many years.

Look Here! You Can't Keep a Pipe

In a letter to the editor, a citizen of Bates community expressed his concern about the increasing number of people smoking in public places. He pointed out that smoking in public places is not only unsightly, but also poses a health risk to non-smokers. He urged the community to take responsibility for maintaining a clean and healthy environment.
