Bates is under the direction of Coach Morey, who is a first baseman, and that Coach Linwood has been working with his team a great deal. The only reason why they are behind is that they are not able to get a chance to play as much as they would like. The team will continue to work hard and will be ready for the season when it begins.

Summer Session Features New Education Symposium

The Bates College Summer Session will open officially on July 6, according to Director Samuel F. Harms, and will continue to August 13. One of the features of this coming session will be the Education Symposium, a series of lectures in various sessions given by men prominent in each field. The value of the course to candidates of the profession lies in the synoptic quality of the Symposium. Included among the twenty-two invited to speak are professors, presidents, and directors of the English department, Dr. Lloyd W. Fisher of the foreign language department, and Professor Raymond Gould of the history and government department.

E. Clarke Fontaine, state superintendent of education, Ernest Hartwell, president of the North American College of Education, Ernest Harris, president of the New York State Normal School, Robert G, Berkelman of the English department, and Professors Thorp and McCusick of the history and government departments.

The list of Commencement Committee includes Class Gift, Ernest Robinson; Pipe Oration, George Scouffas; Last Will and Testament, Margaretta Butler; Class Day, Lawrence Butler; Commencement, Robert Harper; Address to Halls and Campus, Margaretta Melcher; a series of lectures in various fields, to be given by the most prominent in each field. The value of the course to candidates of the profession lies in the synoptic quality of the Symposium.

Science Exhibit

Interesting this year will be a lecture, "The Organic Glass," by Dr. Leo Civin. Among the exhibits are a model of the human brain, a model of the human heart, and a model of the human skeleton.

New Education Symposium

The committee has planned for a strong exhibit to be held by the Off-Campus Men's Club this evening. The party will leave Class Hall at 10 o'clock and will journey over to Thorncrag "Stag" for a stag cabin-party to be held by the Committee on Recreation. A large crowd is expected, and the party will be a success.
