The Undergraduate Judges Tackle Debate Decisions

Friday night's debate involved students traveling to Keene to present the debate of the first round in the annual International Debating League. Every one of the judges is taking part in the debate, which will span over four months. The debate subject is, "Are we to believe in the so-called 'clearing house committee' as a means of bringing the two sides of the question to a mutual understanding?"

Presentation refers to the manner of presentation. It is the opposite of "affirmative" and "conclusion" in the sense of presentation. It is the way in which the question is brought up and the manner in which the question is answered.

Friday night's debate was well attended, with a total of 120 people in attendance. The debate was judged to be one of the best of its kind, with both sides presenting strong arguments in favor of their respective positions. The judges praised the debaters for their ability to articulate their points clearly and persuasively.
