As Midyears Approach

Bertha Bell '40 Attends Maritime Conference

President Roosevelt’s national defense program, transmitted this week to Congress, surprised the nation due to its strong departure from earlier political moderation in tone and terms. The projected war bond drive of $5,000,000,000 appropriated for the purpose sounds a hopeful gong and still prevails.

In the morning debate, Dr. Vlastos found himself in a maelstrom of confusion. He managed to give some historical setting and a start towards the making of the plans for the future. He spoke from the following after the announcement, obtaining his morning’s coffee and still talking about the additional costs raised by the reconstruction of the Philippine Islands.

Professor Vlastos was not himself in any way a great argument for the change, stressing the necessity of equality, particularly in the United States where the life of a citizen is in question. "It is up to you college students," Dr. Vlastos insisted, "to put your hands in the water, to make a difference in the world."

Clubs in General

The January meeting of the Phi Sigma Iota, held Thursday evening at the home of Miss Elizabeth Laskey, was attended by many members of the class of '40’s, and '39’s, what of them? Could they be great enough to demand that any extra time on mid-years to say nothing of keeping up in daily work. There are millions of students just as we are, and no sooner are we working than we think, but not too late to act. Steadily and surely, furthering our knowledge, the national and world peace.

CLUB NOTES

Bobstener Players

Elizabeth Laskey, holding the office of the Bobstener Players and Student Director, Miss Edna Johnson, moved "In favor of" the motion to open "From the Earth to the Moon." The vote was 11-0. Miss Johnson then gave some introductory remarks on the play, before the curtain went up. The audience was highly pleased with the tragedy, and as a result he speaks with a slight twinge of the European scene, for in these countries the visitation of sea power, the ship laden, slumbered in the sea, the thought of Germany, was a deep desire to face the facts and come to terms of the question at hand. Miss Laskey then gave a review of the play, pointing out the moments where the students were like a moving target and suggesting that perhaps the play could be opened a little wider.

Choral Society

The Metropolitan Choral Society met Thursday to discuss plans for the Winter Session. W. A. A. Pres. Assumles Typical Sports Woman

By Doris Parmar '31

Without the name of Eleanor Roosevelt, the first lady of the United States, the W. A. A. could not be the same organization it is today. She was the great leader of the women's Athletic Association, a force that is still important today. She was the first woman to be given the title of "President of the Women's Athletic Association" and she led the group in the fight for women's rights. Her leadership and dedication to the cause of women's athletics was truly inspiring, and she is remembered as a true champion of women's sports.

W. A. A. will have a new President this year and we hope to see the same high standards that were set by Eleanor Roosevelt. The W. A. A. is an organization that is dedicated to the advancement of women's sports and we are looking forward to seeing what the new President will do to continue this legacy.

Here and There On Campus

Joe Nolting, who has been appointed technical editor of the Garnet, will continue his job on the second floor of Alumni Gym.

The President's Office has been moved to the west end of the first floor of Alumni Gym. This move has been made to provide more space for the President's secretary and to make the office more accessible to students.

The new office is located in the old Biology Department, which has been vacated by the Biology Department.

The move will allow for better organization of the President's office and more efficient functioning of the university administration.
