OUTFIELD WEAK

By John Mac 40

The Bates baseball team will open its spring season on Friday with a doubleheader against the University of New Hampshire. It is the final game of the series, which has been eagerly awaited by both teams.

The Bates infield is expected to be strong, with a solid group of batters and fielders. However, the team's biggest weakness is its outfield, which has been plagued by injuries and poor performance.

THE BATES-UNH SERIES

The first game of the series is scheduled for 1:30 p.m., with the second game to follow at 3:30 p.m. Both games will be played at Bates' home field, the Bates-O'Brien Memorial Stadium.

SCORING

The scoring will be based on the total number of runs scored by each team. The team with the most runs at the end of the game will be declared the winner.

FANS

The fans are expected to be in full force, with a large crowd expected to attend the games. The atmosphere will be electric, with the fans cheering on their respective teams.

SCHEDULE

The Bates-UNH series is the final game of the season for both teams. The Bates team is looking to end the season on a high note, while UNH is looking to secure its place in the conference standings.

PREDICTIONS

The Bates team is expected to emerge victorious, with its strong infield and batters. However, UNH's outfield is expected to be a problem, which may affect the outcome of the game.

ADMISSION

Admission is free for all fans, with the gates opening at 1 p.m. for the first game and 2:30 p.m. for the second game. The games will be streamed live on the Bates Sports Network.

Members of Faculty Differ on "Peace Day" Faculty opinion, adjusted in giving the approval to Thursday's demonstration to show support for campus peace, has been very varied.
The most interesting discussion to emerge was concerning the Student Senate at Orey State College. In this sand there was much and much debate to impress upon the public that a large body of students, if not all, favor non Government support.

Dr. Andrew W. Lyman, President-emeritus of the State College, made his views known in an interview last week when he said that he did not approve of the demonstration because it was not in the public interest. He also emphasized that the protests were not intended to be a call for any change in the present status of the Government.

Professor Spero Hanna: A fine way to support any system. But when you know what it is.

Mr. Brink: It is a pretty thing to say, but don't try to your system when you know what it is.

During Mr. Brink's speech, several other faculty members joined in discussion of the situation. Most of them felt that the government was not acting in the best interests of the country and that something must be done to correct the current situation.
