Needed - A Realistic Attitude

Our President has already called our attention to the fact that a Europe at war can not but have its repercussions in every corner of the world. It is a war that will affect every nation. Resources both economic and emotional can be utilized.

The economic dangers are seemingly beyond our control. Congress is being asked to receive a draft bill and legislation relative to the moral and spiritual welfare of the people is being considered. It is our duty to keep the European War of today from becoming a war of tomorrow.

But having found a weakness in our armor does not necessarily mean a total loss. The repeal of an act of Congress need not lead us to despair. It is our duty to act immediately, to prevent a civil and moral collapse. Our great task must be a constant perfecting of our constitutional position. The emotional future America within our control.

Let it be our resolution to keep the European War of today from becoming the Second World War of tomorrow. For only through a positive program can we turn to the moral and spiritual welfare of the American people and the world. America must be founded upon the right thing.

Bobcats Fight Harvard But Succumb 20-0

Bill Howell '40

The unaccustomed record sounds agreed to win to tell a mighty Harvard team. In recent meetings both teams had won and the game was three-fourths played. Bobcats were within the Harvard end zone on three plays, then blocked out. But the 20-0 margin was freezing their hearts. The Harvard team was not quite as good as expected, but they were still good enough to win. The Harvard team had a distinct advantage in the Harvard Center, but the game was still up for grabs.
