Faculty Group Studies Comprehensive Exams

With undergraduates' plea for shorter exams and against the administration's statement that exams are necessary for the assessment of student knowledge, faculty groups have been formed to study a variety of issues and to advocate for student needs. The Faculty Group of the American Association of University Professors has submitted a report to the administration, emphasizing the need for comprehensive exams that are fair and effective. The group suggests that exams be replaced with alternative assessment methods, such as portfolios and projects, which can better evaluate student understanding.

Board's Resolution Aims to Strengthen Publication Control

By IRA NASHMAN '36

The Board of Trustees of Bates College, in their meeting last week, have brought to a conclusion a series of conferences and discussions on the subject of publication control. A resolution has been adopted to make the publication of literary works a matter of individual responsibility, with the proviso that any student whose work is published without the proper permission of the faculty may be subject to disciplinary action.

Letter Forgery Stirs Campus Resentment

With the appearance of a new forged letter in a student newspaper, the administration has been faced with the challenge of maintaining the integrity of its publications. The forged letter, which was published in the Bates Student, has been found to be a hoax, and the administration is investigating the matter to determine the source and purpose of the forgery. The incident has raised concerns about the need for stronger controls over student publications.

Good Feeling Smothers Imaginary "Feud".

Two thoughts have been driven home to everyone who has been affected in any way by basketball. The first is the element of sport which is to be treated so lightly. The obviously malicious innuendo of the letter appearing in a Portland paper Sunday marks it as something more serious than just another irresponsible pranks. That same letter was also received by the Lewiston paper emphasizing this point. Such a student, if the author was a "strutting boy"... the other... adds fire to our case against him.

and,

Millions of times a day,people the world over enjoy a happy moment with their favorite brands of Coca-Cola, and the knowledge that it's Coca-Cola to them. And that's why Coca-Cola has been an icon for birthdays, graduations, and just because. It's been a source of pride and joy for generations of people. The Coca-Cola Company is pleased to sponsor this event, and we invite you to join us in celebrating this great American tradition.

Debaters Lead League
By Defeating Connecticut

Leading the New England division of the Barons Intercollegiate Debating League is the Bates debate team which has set a record of seven successive wins in the last four weeks. The team has defeated Bates' eastern rivals, Amherst College, Bowdoin College, Colby College, and George Washington University in its last five contests.

New York debate team dominated the league when Frank Field '50 and Donald Street '50 won a total of twelve debates over a period of four weeks. The final score was 6 to 0 for the Bates team.

New York debate team dominated the league when Frank Field '50 and Donald Street '50 won a total of twelve debates over a period of four weeks. The final score was 6 to 0 for the Bates team.

Sarah Delacour, chairwoman of the debate program, expressed her satisfaction with the Bates team's performance.
