SOCIETY NOTES

GIRLS’ LITERARY SOCIETIES

Friday evening, November 19, the Seniority and the W. A. C. C. will hold a debate in Polymnia Room, Libbey Forum, at 7:30. The subject for the debate will be, Resolved: That the next session of Congress shall provide for a substantial increase in the army and navy. Mrs. Emma J. Rand, Mrs. F. D. Tubbs and Mrs. A. F. McDonald will serve as judges; Miss Gregory, ’16, and Miss Cleaves, ’17, as time-keepers. The speakers on the affirmative will be Misses Lewis, ’17, Hussey, and McCann, ’18; those on the negative, Misses Bryant, ’16, Hutchins, ’16, Bradbury, ’16. All members of both these societies and also those of Entre Nous are most cordially invited.

SPOFFORD

Tuesday evening, Spofford Club held its regular meeting in Libbey Forum. Mr. John Goba, ’16, Miss Aura Emerson, ’16, and Miss Alice Lawry, ’17, furnished a most interesting program.

Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A.

Wednesday evening, November 17, the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. held a joint meeting in Hathorn Hall. Miss Amy Hayden, ’16, lead the meeting, and Miss Marguerite Girouard and the Girls’ Glee Club furnished special music. Professor A. F. McDonald gave a most interesting talk.

LIBRARY SOCIAL

The first Guest Night of Enkuklios last Saturday evening took the form of a Library Social. The girls came dressed to represent different books and many clever costumes were evolved. During the evening prizes for the best success in a guessing game were awarded Miss Kennan, ’19, and Mr. Pendleton, ’17, by Mr. Cloutman and Mr. Merrill. Refreshments of punch and cookies were served.

Y. W. C. A.

The Social Service Department reports that a class of Lithuanian girls has been organized and will be conducted weekly at the W. C. A. home. This is the first work of the kind attempted by the Bates Y. W. C. A. and it is hoped that an opening has been made for further work among the foreign girls of the city. The college girls are asked to remember their gifts for the children’s Home when they come back after Thanksgiving. Dolls are already being dressed for the children and toys, clothes, or candies will be very acceptable.

At the regular Conference hour Nov. 11, Mrs. Rand spoke to the girls. She took up the work of the Alumnae Association and presented its plans to the girls. She also spoke on the development a college girl should have. Mrs. Rand is a speaker whom Bates girls always welcome and whom they would be glad to hear oftener.

NEEDLE CLUB

Last Friday the Needle Club was entertained by Mrs. R. R. N. Gould and Mrs. H. H. Britan at the home of Mrs. Gould. A pleasant afternoon was spent, after which dainty refreshments were served.

J. S. S.

There will be a meeting of the Jordan Scientific Society Monday night, November 22nd, at which Gibbs, ’16, and Hatch, ’17, will present papers on biological subjects.
DEUTSCHER VEREIN

On Monday evening, November 15th, Mr. Adams, '10, spoke before the Verein on his own "Personal Experiences in German Schools." This was followed by a general discussion among the members. A duet was sung by Keneston, '16, and Nichols, '16, and Volkslieder were sung by the whole Society, accompanied at the piano by H. B. Clifford, '16. At the next meeting on December 6th, a paper will be presented by Nichols, '16.

VESPER SERVICE

At Vespers last Sunday, Rev. W. A. Bartlett, pastor of Pine St. Congregational Church, addressed a large audience on "Friendship". He spoke from the text, "Iron sharpeneth iron, so a man sharpeneth the countenance of his friend" and said:

"There is no influence in the life of the student more powerful than friendship. Friendships of the right kind inspire those who are blessed by them. The selection of friends is important, for unless a friend has stronger qualities than ourselves the forming of that friendship may be fatal. With friendship comes responsibility. To fail in the office of friendship is one of the greatest of calamities. Breach of friendship undermines business and weakens the church. We live in an age of large understanding of one another. We are adjusting ourselves to peculiar characters and are finding, under the tutelage of Christianity that everyone has an important place to fill. The college is unique. Here are cemented those friendships that last.

He that will have friends must show himself friendly. Life is full of tragedies, but friendship can rescue us from them. The world can be comforted that the life of Jesus is ever permeating the old institutions of our land.

If you want to be listed with your class in the catalogue, your back work must be made up at once. The catalogue is almost ready for the press, but you still have time if you hurry.

Some members of the senior class have allied themselves with an insurance plan which if successful will make Bates the recipient of $100,000, at the end of twenty years.

Do you know that the 1915 Football team has been the most satisfactorily managed team that has represented Bates for a good many years? This is the testimony of Coach Purinton and he is in a position to know.

Coach Green’s fractured ‘radius ulna’ sustained in the last practice before the Dartmouth game is mending rapidly and it is hoped that the popular coach will not be laid up long on account of injuries.

Our Ponies played Dartmouth such a good game that the Dartmouth management wanted to sign them up immediately for next year. One of the players says that he got so much inspiration out of that one game that he considers the season a success.

Fighting ‘Buck’ DeWever has been again elected Football captain. It certainly shows that the men appreciate the work and spirit of their captain when they elect him for a second year. ‘Buck’ will have better success next year. We have been trailing in this league long enough. We have a whole year ahead of us—let's find out what the trouble is and remedy it. A set of resolutions could very easily be presented to the advisory board.
Coach Ryan's handicap meets start Saturday. This sort of competition at intervals throughout the winter keeps the men interested and when the meets come along in the spring the men are right at concert pitch and they are not novices in competition either. If you want to see results keep your eye on Mike. He has 159 men at regular work and not satisfied yet.

So the young ladies request the men not to watch their hockey games? Then they wonder why men don't come to their Rand Hall parties. Beware of man; he is a vulture in human form.

Thanksgiving greetings to the folks at home from the STUDENT.

What do you tell them when they want to know what is the matter with your Football team?

The Bates college Christmas calendars will be on sale soon after Thanksgiving.

We'll get 'em in Baseball.

WORLD'S STUDENT CHRISTIAN FEDERATION

The following is an extract from a letter received from John R. Mott in which he tells of conditions now existing in the Student World in Europe.

New York, October 25th, 1915.

As the second winter of the Great War draws near with its inevitable increase in the volume of suffering, there is a matter which should receive the urgent attention of the students and professors of the colleges, universities and schools of America. We have not realized as fully as we should have done the great demands which this struggle has made upon the students of the countries now at war. A recent report states that nearly seventy-five per cent of the men students of the colleges and universities of Great Britain have already entered the army, nearly 11,000 undergraduates and graduates of Cambridge University alone having gone to war. In Germany nearly, if not quite, 50,000 university students are in the army and an even larger number of the older school boys. When I was in Paris within a year, where I had been in the habit of finding in other years as many as 18,000 male students in the Latin Quarter, it was with difficulty that I assembled a small group of four. The proportions of university men of Austria, Hungary and Russia who are in the fighting lines or in military training are nearly as large. From nearly every Canadian university fully one half of the men have gone to join the army.

Your minds are endowed with a vast number of gifts of totally different uses—limbs of mind as it were, which, if you don't exercise, you cripple.

Ruskin
Among the events of importance during the past week is that of the formation of two Freshman literary societies. In spite of the fact that there seems already to be plenty of societies, we believe this is a good plan. Up to date there has been no society for the freshman men. The freshman girls organized one last year, which has proved most successful.

The purpose of these societies is to create an interest among the freshman men in literature and debate. Perhaps they will serve to fill, in a small way, the place of the old societies which have entirely lost their early characteristics. If one reads over the minutes of meetings held fifteen years ago in Europhia and Polymnia, one will notice that debating and orations held an important place. It was here that material for the varsity debating teams was prepared. This generation seems to have little time to prepare orations, or even to work up debates, outside those required for the class room. It is a big problem to find a night on which to hold a society meeting, so many are the engagements demanding attention. We wonder if there was ever a time when it was more necessary for a college man or woman to evaluate and differentiate than it is today with the superabundance of activities.

A great many of the preparatory schools have very active societies. The newly formed societies will act as a connecting link between the preparatory work and that of the later college society work. We feel that there is a need for this. Men will not get out of the habit of giving societies some attention, and the down town call may not be quite as strong. Then again, these freshman societies will form a center toward which the junior and senior societies can look for future material.

With the increase of societies, we believe that soon there should be some definite understanding as to how many a man may belong. At the present time it is entirely possible for a person to belong to five or six, and we are not considering the musical organizations. If our societies are to become vitally active, they must receive the concentrated efforts of a certain body of men. Each society must present a definite phase of life. Membership in these societies should be an object much sought for by the students.
The following morning revealed a great change in the weather. The sky had cleared and the sun shone bright and warm. It was an ideal Indian summer day. Everything seemed to be in favor for the big race. We partook of a light breakfast, before leaving the hotel and got an early start for Franklin Park. As we left our dressing rooms at the Park and jogged up to the starting line, we felt in very high spirits as to the outcome of the race. Promptly at 11 o'clock the starter's gun sounded and fifty-five men representing the pick of the New England colleges started on their annual cross country run. In the first quarter mile, each team had a separate lane in which to run, thus avoiding all confusion and accidents which might attend the first few hundred yards of a race in which there were so many starters. As the leaders of the different teams came out of their respective lanes and on to the regular course the real race of the day commenced.

The course was well flagged and was followed without difficulty. The runners ran between red and white flags, keeping the red flags on the left. At first, Bell of Maine took the lead, but soon contented himself with a place further back. Brown of M. I. T. who won first honors was at this time running in sixth place, evidently saving his strength and speed for later in the race. This man demonstrated that he is among the country's best long distance runners, he is large and strong, and ran in a graceful manner.

The last half mile showed a real battle for first place among the leading men. Brown, Aiken, and Bell had the most strength left and it was for these three men to decide which one should cross the tape first. Brown proved himself equal to the occasion and with a wonderful burst of speed forced himself fully one hundred yards ahead. He was greeted with much applause by the 500 people present.

It was a good clean race, and Maine's victory was well-earned. The experience received by our team in this big race will be of great benefit in coming seasons.

How great the virtue and the art To live on little with a cheerful heart.
Alexander Pope

ATHLETICS

DARTMOUTH 29, BATES 0

Saturday, November 13th, Bates played Dartmouth at Hanover, N. H. Altho Bates put a crippled team on the field, Merrill and Souther being out of the line-up and Boyd, handicapped by a bad ankle, yet the big green team had to fight a hard game as the 29 to 0 score attests.

Dartmouth scored first on a safety following a blocked punt, and then by sheer weight proceeded to batter the Bates line, scoring three touchdowns in the first half. They had the ball inside the Bates 10-yard line at three other times but the garnet line held, and Dartmouth was forced to give up the ball. Davis punts out-distanced those of the Dartmouth kickers. Time after time they soared over the heads of the backs for long gains.

At the end of the first half, the score stood 23 to 0, and Dartmouth came back on to the field expecting to more than double it. Bates opened the second half by receiving, and Captain Dewever returned the ball to the 40 yard line. Then Bates opened up and for the entire third period the fighting was in Dartmouth's territory, with the green team on the defensive. Drew hurled a forward pass to Harvey who made a wonderful running catch, gaining 35 yards and making it firstdown. Davis then sent Dewever thru the line from a punt formation for 15 yards more. Then followed three short forward passes, all successful, which brought the ball to Dartmouth's 20 yard line, where Bates lost the ball on downs.

In the last period, after having held twice on the five yard line, Dartmouth put the ball over once more. The game ended with the ball in Bates' possession on her own 40 yard line.

The defensive playing of the Bates men was a revelation. The line, tho outweighed thirty to fifty pounds to the man, showed a stonewall defense, during the last half, and even the redoubtable "Cutie" Spears met his match in "Hunka" Stonier. Harvey at both end and half-back was in every play.
Moulton broke thru the line several times for good gains. Shattuck at center was accurate in passing, and only a strong wind kept his drop kick from scoring, the ball striking the crossbar.

Without doubt it was the best defensive game the team has played this year.

LANE A LEADER IN CROSS COUNTRY SATURDAY

A word ought to be said about the remarkable performance of Lane in the Cross Country race last Saturday. Lane took the lead about the end of the first half mile. He was running very strongly and drew right away from the other runners. He held this lead without any difficulty until one place at about the three and half mile mark. At this point the course crossed a road and Lane became a little perplexed and lost a few yards in finding the course again. Bell during these few seconds came up and took the lead but a moment later Lane was ahead of him again. In the last half mile of the race his appendix began to bother him and he was forced to let four men pass him altho at the finish only about 50 yards were between Lane and the winner.

BATES JUNIORS WIN FROM SENIORS ON GRIDIRON 12 TO 0

Yesterday afternoon Garcelon Field was the scene of as hard fought a foot ball battle as has been staged there for many a day. The class of 1916 and the class of 1917 at Bates had a battle royal from which the Juniors emerged victors by the score of 12 to 0. Only men from those classes were eligible to play who had not been out for varsity football at all this year, but there were many stars present notwithstanding.

HOCKEY SERIES

Class spirit ran high this year over the hockey games and all classes turned out splendid teams for the preliminaries. The game between Juniors and Freshmen took place Tuesday afternoon and resulted in a victory for 1917 with a score of 3-0. The officials were as follows: Referee, Miss Bell; time-keeper, Miss King; linesmen, Misses
Wednesday afternoon the Sophomores and Seniors met for a game which ended with a score of 7-0 in favor of the Sophomores. The officials in this game were, Referee, Miss Bell; time-keeper, Miss Moody; linesmen; Misses Skinner, B. Dresser, Millay, I. Smith, Tarbell, Farmsworth, Hayes, Millspaugh. This is the first series of championship games that has been played on the new hockey field and it is certainly a great improvement over the old field back of Carnegie Hall. Much excitement is expected at the finals and the classes are to be out in full force to cheer on their teams. Hockey has grown rapidly in favor with the Bates girls and stronger teams are trained each year. The captains of the various teams are: 1916, Miss King; 1917, Miss Moody; 1918, Miss DeWolfe; 1919, Miss Millay.

1886—Rev. Harry C. Lowden lives in Underwood, Washington, where he is engaged in growing fancy fruit.

1887—Dr. E. K. Sprague is a member of a commission appointed to decide whether second-class passengers coming to this country shall be given health examinations at Ellis Island, as the immigrants are.

1903—Nellie B. Avery, formerly a member of '03, is now Mrs. James Caspar Barton. She lives in East Hampton, Connecticut.

1908—Daniel R. Hodgdon, of the State Normal School, Newark, N. J., is to offer a prize every year to the student in the Junior class at Bates who does the best work in Latin. The prize was first given last year, and was awarded to Mona Hodnett, '16.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dexter (Elizabeth Anthony, 1908), have a son, Louis Anthony Dexter, born November 11. Their home is in Montreal.

1909—Rev. Horace I. Holt, is pastor of the High Street Methodist Church, Auburn.

Fred H. Lancaster, Esq., was one of the judges of the Sophomore Prize Declamations.

Frederick C. Lovejoy is a dentist with offices at Houlton, Maine.

1909—Arthur F. Linsecott was a recent visitor at the College on his way to Cromwell, Conn., where he is a pastor.

Raymond S. Oakes is to give a series of lectures on Law at the College.

1911—Charles E. Taylor is principal of the high school at Madison, Maine.

1912—E. H. Brunquist has entered the Medical School of the University of Michigan, and not that of the University of Chicago, as recently stated in the Student. His address is 525 Walnut Street, Ann Arbor, Michigan.

Florence Rideout was a visitor at the College last Saturday, and brought with her two of her pupils at the Norway High School who expect to enter Bates next year.

1913—John McDaniel (1913) and Horace J. Davis (1915) were recent visitors here.

An interesting letter from Ruby M. Parsons (1910) was in the Lewiston Journal for Nov. 13. She is teaching in Tougaloo College, Tougaloo, Mississippi. The college is under the auspices of the American Missionary Association, and the work is wholly with the colored people. There are thirty-two people on the faculty, three of them colored men and one a colored woman. "The campus", Miss Parsons says, "is, I believe, the most beautiful place I have ever seen. It is in the midst of an extensive stretch of an oak forest. The trees draped with heavy clusters of moss are a picturesque sight, especially in the early morning and by moonlight. Besides the oak trees the campus is adorned with shrubs and vines. Rose bushes abound, and some blossom every month in the year. One of the girls brought me a bunch of violets last Sunday. The trees are still green, and for the last two weeks the weather has been like a day in summer in New England." There are about five hundred pupils in the school. The rest of Miss Parsons' interesting letter describes the energy and ambition of the students and the college customs and activities.

The shortness of life is not, to any rational person conclusive reason for wasting the space of it which may be granted him.
