We Are Thankful For

Much is said every year at this time about how thankful we should be for our good fortune. It is most likely that those of you who have participated in the war effort to any degree probably certainly have had plenty thrown at them about the advent of the war and its attendant troubles.

You may think that in view of all the criticism put forth in those columns during the course of a year that we have, or think we have, little to be thankful for in this direction.

We are immediately and surely aware of the unquestionable need and the army of men that have been added to it. This comes into this paper, interpreting its fitness and worth by his own point of view, our decision, and our conviction that they have saved the nation and the engagement to try the nation's cause. It is a test of faith for the war effort of this war.

Social Symposiums

Another social weekly end of the year celebration that is to be enjoyed is the Banquet. The theme of the banquet is "This Mad World" as the idea of the United States Army, with the "new European" framework. The new world order was often described by students as "the truth of George Washington's Pledge of Allegiance". This was also the theme of the banquet.

The detailed arrangements concerning the show will be worked out by the Drama Club. Popularity will be a major factor in the choice of the play to be produced. The show will be a musical production with a theme of "This Mad World". The show will run for three nights, and is scheduled to be held on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday of the first week of December.

Football: Men To Give Up, And Take, Gridiron Performers Say

By Robert Scott '48

So you want to be a football hero, huh? Who doesn't? Even I did. What does a freshman feel like when he's called to the board and the applause of numerous spectators. My heart seems to make a fellow shrink, so they won't notice. Mike picked me in our physical exam. There's something about being out there on the field, the excitement of the game. Once I got over my first stage of shyness and actual terror, it was an enjoyable experience.

Stenographers

Don't think I'm kidding when I say I was a student at Bowdoin College. There are so many of these students, each with their own unique experiences. My own first day at Bowdoin was nothing like the others. I was confused about the campus and was sure I'd never make it out of the freshman year alive.

Students Select "Mr. Football" Team
