The curtain rose on the Campus and time, alas, and some spent hundreds of dollars on silk dresses and pearl plasma pendants—steam and for seven days. Black Friday was a busy time for the campus, but the students were not the ones to be pitied. In fact, most of them enjoyed the holidays and were happy to give gifts to their friends and family.

The DePaul University Band, under the direction of Richard Horton '42, played a fine program of music for the Christmas season. The band, consisting of over 100 members, provided a fine performance that was enjoyed by all.

The Band Concert, a new feature of the Christmas season, was held in the DeWitt before attending the concert. The program included works by such composers as Handel, Mozart, and Beethoven.

At the conclusion of the concert, the audience was greeted with a special announcement: "Dear Students, we would like to thank you for coming tonight. We hope you enjoyed the music. Please come again next year!"

Fighting Bobcats Invade Bowdoin Saturday

Reliable Los for Webster, Bates, Bowdoin Saturday

The dependable winners of this week are given a chance to demonstrate more clearly the superiority of their organization over teams of lesser ability. The unaffiliated contests take place this week. The Thermometer foretells a rainy Sunday. Occasionally seen on a cloudy afternoon, the weather is expected to be generally without God.

Bobcat wins over the field will be the standard edition. They sport a consistent running game, which will find favor with God. They are headed especially by Tommy Thompson, who has proven himself a superior coarse for his weight, and especially by Tommy Thompson's tackles which will find favor with the spectators. Thompson's tackles will be the chief factor of their success, although their goals will be strong for points. They will be a great deal this season.

The Bobcats must be considered favorites, according to the weather. They will be an even greater favorite if the weather is overcast.

Club Five Ends
Association With NAA

At the meeting of the Portland Flying Club, Club Five announced that they wished to discontinue their association with NAA. This decision was made after a thorough discussion of the club's future prospects and their belief that they could function independently without the need for an association with NAA.

Football Club Plans
Bates and Bowdoin

The Bates-Football Club and Bowdoin have agreed to play a football game at the end of the season. The exact date and location of the game have not been finalized, but both clubs are looking forward to the match and are preparing for a competitive contest.

Weaver Takes
Outfield Position

In a move to strengthen their defense at the outfield position, Bates College has named Bob Weaver as their new outfielder. Weaver's addition to the team is expected to improve the team's overall performance and contribute to their success in the upcoming season.

Club Five Ends
Association With NAA

The decision to discontinue their association with NAA is based on a desire to achieve greater autonomy and flexibility for the club. Club Five feels that they can operate effectively without the constraints and requirements imposed by an association with NAA.

Football Club Plans
Bates and Bowdoin

This football game represents an opportunity for both clubs to showcase their skills and compete against each other. It is expected to be a highly anticipated match, with fans from both Bates and Bowdoin eagerly awaiting the outcome.

Weaver Takes
Outfield Position

Bob Weaver's appointment as the new outfielder is a significant addition to the team. His performance and contribution will be closely monitored as Bates College looks to strengthen their offensive and defensive strategies.
