Christian Association Publicity

The Christian Association's Annual Ballock, held last weekend at the Bailey Homestead, brings the BCA into the columns of this newspaper once again. It sometimes seems that when all other organizations are inactive, the BCA staff could always turn to the CA for material that ought to be in print. This is not to say that such material is only dry filler; on the contrary, the work of the Christian Association has definite news value.

We are not attempting to offer apologies for any predispositions of stories about this one organization. We do not feel that to do so would be either possible or consistent. The point is this: outside of sports, there is little news value in the activities of any one group which receives such a consistently high rate of coverage. If the group is Christian Association, the reason is so obvious that there is no need to waste time on it.

The reason is obvious. The work of the Christian Association is so important, so far-reaching in its scope, that good journalistic policy demands a large amount of space devoted to it.

Importance Of CA

Basically what is "this important work?" The CA provided its own answer in the "Why?" pamphlet which was recently distributed to all students. Why do we have a Christian Association? Because a balanced life might include more than the bare necessities of existence. Because a college education must be more than an intellectual grind, more than the dull learning of objective facts.

A truly educated American, no matter what his faith or sect, should demonstrate some of the personal warmth and sincerity which is needed in this foundation for Christian living, to cultivate man's innate humanity, is the ultimate aim of the Christian Association.

This, of course, is abstract theorizing. But we can bring it right down to human terms by citing the case of a Bates student (and amateur photographer) who has been using Christian Association theory into terms of everyday living. For those interested in the more strictly religious study, there is opportunity for discussion of Christian matters with the CA staff. Other students may filter their questions through the association and ought to be made available to more students, and plans are already being made to broaden this aspect of the CA's function.

But the ordinary, average man and woman on campus does have an interest in the workings of the CA, because of its dedicated bell-sessions, Vespera, cocoa, dance-clases, parties, Christmas and Easter services—the list seems endless. And underlying all these activities is a foundation of the Christian spirit.

Pastimiers Run Bobcats Open Series Against Maine Nine

Bobkittens Subdue Deering 3-1 In Opener

In this Friday's flashy little scene it would take a look at the road trip of the Bobkittens. They have a 3-1 advantage on the Deering diamond in the first two games of the series.

Behind the six-foot hitting of Larry Vermont, the Bobkittens blanked Deering 3-1 on two walks and one error. Dick Hostetler, the Bobkittens' first baseman, made an outstanding throw to first for the only out of the game. The second baseman, Bob Higginbotham, had a fine display in the field.

The play of the infield was very creditable with the Bobkittens' hitting also outstanding. In fact, the game was a perfect example of good baseball played by both teams. Deering's hitting was non-existent as they managed only a single hit in the game.

The score was 3-1 in favor of the Bobkittens. The game was stopped due to darkness after the first inning.

Boothby Scored In The First

Boothby scored in the first inning to take a 1-0 lead. He led off with a double and scored on a line drive by Hostetler.

Deering Rallied In The Sixth

Deering rallied in the sixth inning to take a 2-1 lead. They scored on a double and a walk by Hostetler.

Boothby Scoring The Winning Run

Boothby scored the winning run in the seventh inning to give the Bobkittens a 3-1 lead. He led off with a single and scored on a double by Higginbotham.

Deering Responds In The Eighth

Deering responded in the eighth inning to tie the game at 3-3. They scored on a double and a walk by Hostetler.

Boothby Is Out At Second

Boothby was out at second on a double by Higginbotham in the eighth inning.

The game was stopped due to darkness after the eighth inning.

Deering Was Out For The Game

Deering was out for the game when Hostetler was out at first on a double by Higginbotham in the ninth inning.

The score was 3-1 in favor of the Bobkittens. The game was stopped due to darkness after the ninth inning.

The Bobkittens will play Deering again on Saturday. The score was 3-1 in favor of the Bobkittens. The game was stopped due to darkness after the ninth inning.
The curtain came down on another great season of sport on camp.
