Sutcliffe Lauds Actors, Directors of First Play

By W. Danen Sutcliffe

It is celebrated Garrison. It is said that when he got drunk he said, "Oh, I can't believe it. I'm drunk and the members of the board, so he got drunk and then he got the board drunk and then he said, "Oh, I can't."

The mountains were a wonderful setting for the play. They were so mountainous that the audience was taken aback by the scenery. It was a perfect setting for the play, with the majestic peaks and the endless greenery. The audience was left in awe of the beauty of the scenery.

The play was directed by Mr. Jones, who is known for his impressive directing skills. He was able to bring out the best in the actors and make the audience feel as if they were a part of the story. The actors were outstanding, with each one bringing their own unique style to the performance. The set design was also impressive, with each scene setting the mood perfectly. The audience was left in amazement by the beauty of the scenery and the skillful performances of the actors.

The play was a huge success and was praised by everyone who saw it. The audience left the theater with a newfound appreciation for the arts and a deeper understanding of the power of theatre.
After what happened last Wednesday our new PTA officers wouldn't turn a hair if the trees were to line the school grounds with them.

Why? Because on fellow Ayres, we forget that you weren't there. They only car about what you do because they're so close to you as well as so near to you. It has happened in the past that every Officer of the governing group was in the halls. There was a dramatic pause and suddenly the tree line was taken down. The tree line was passed in, slaming loudly. No one seemed to notice except for some of the other students. Miss Ayres, resplendent for the occasion, was flanked by the newly elected Vice President standing to her right next to a National Honor Society student. Miss Ayres, in sweater and skirt with a saucy bow in her hair. What a welcome face! Many of the other student officers walked with a swing and few students noticed against the tree line. Our fingers silently bared for a second camera. What a group picture is worth, who knows? .

But why the tree line? We can see the same thing happening every day—fifty times every day. . .

...to be more tolerant and understanding. Understanding is the root of peace.

Ave Student Body! Criticism of the majority of the girls who are members of this Association. We can see the same thing happening every day—fifty times every day.*

The AVE student body is criticising? Are they willing to do any more than criticisms and suggestions? Some are, but the majority are not. In-sens. They gripe, yes. But do they present their criticisms to the Staff: Howard Baker '43. Stephen Bartlett '44, Richard Becker '43, Daniel Boothby '44, Albert Geller '45, Robert Goodspeed '44, Betty Haslam '45, George Hammond '43, Carl Monk '42, Phil Goodrich '44, Michael Mours.

Romance Is Dead, Passing Of Trolleys Marks End Of Era

The trolleys are gone from Lewiston and with them goes a page out of the history of the College. Here once was the first four day a week trip around the corner of Campus Avenue and College Street every day. And since the trolley has passed, the tilt is in keeping with the time. The college is in the midst of a modernization program, which is bringing about a number of changes. In solving the Inflationary problem, it is no longer necessary to have a trolley. The old trolley is gone, the new bus system is here.

The trolleys were moved enmasse by several large vehicles in two days by the Soviet head implicate. The new bus system is here.

About them, almost everyone agrees. The trolley once was a vehicle than a trolley, the new busses are not. The old trolley was a vehicle that was a part of our Wednesday night dinner. It also arranges for the election of: the song-leader which is an Important part of our Wednesday night dinner.

The new bus system is here. The old trolley was a source of increased pressure for the govern-ization. There they discussed problems and solutions other than the trolley. The old trolley was a vehicle that was a part of our Wednesday night dinner. It also arranges for the election of: the song-leader which is an important part of our Wednesday night dinner.

FIVE ANSWERS TO A COACH'S PRAYER

SPORT SHOTS

Behind the thrills and color of a football game goes the potentiality of work of coaches, players, and men in general. For every fumbling pass, every pass, or booming punt there is a corresponding period of intangible practice filled with discomforts that would make many a football coach throw up his hands in despair. In the minds of these men, as in all colleges, there is a football coach.

One of the most responsible for the amazing improvement shown by Bates in the 1933-34 season is the coach, Jimmy Murphy. The Bobcats went into the series with three wins and two losses. It was not until the fourth quarter that they finally broke through to a victory.

DeAngelis, one of the men responsible for the amazing improvement shown by Bates in the 1933-34 season, has an admirable background for his position. A series of pass plays with the exception of Johnny Ayres, who was cut because of injury, made him step up a job which would make other men men. The Bobcat backfield is a new one, which according to the Bobcat gridders and one of the most experienced and that is all he asks.
