Elissa Landi Lectures Here Monday Night

Elissa Landi of the American Foundation for the Blind will address the student body Monday evening in a lecture arranged by the Student Union House for the debate at Yale campus and will go to the Political Science Department of the School of Law.

The following is a description of the lecture, with a brief account of the lecturer's life and work:

ELISSA LANDI

Landi graduated from the University of Pennsylvania in 1909 and from the College of Physicians and Surgeons in 1911. Since then she has been a writer, lecturer, and teacher, and has been associated with the American Foundation for the Blind for many years.

The lecture will be given in the Student Union House at 8:30 p.m., and is open to all students.

OC Offers Hop Ticket

The Office of Campus Activities (OC) is offering a hop ticket to the students for the Winter carnival.

The ticket will include admission to all activities of the carnival, including the main event, the movie, and the dance.

The ticket will be sold at the College Union Building, and will be available for purchase until the day of the carnival.

Reveals Drama In Conflict Between Two Philosophies

Varensa Trip Meets Yale Debaters Fri.

David Michell '44, Robert MacKer '44, and Raymond Buschmann '44, members of the Bates debate team, will meet the Yale debate team in a friendly debate on Monday evening.

The debate will be held in the College Union Building, and is open to all students.

The debate will be moderated by Professor Fiske, and will be judged by a panel of experts.

The debate will be held at 8:00 p.m., and will last for two hours.

The topic of the debate is: "The Conflict Between Two Philosophies: Realism and Idealism."
Using as a lead example a recent article which I have written, I wish to express my concern in this important area. For most of my life, I have devoted myself to understanding and responding to the needs of individuals, families, and communities. I believe that it is imperative to develop policies and strategies that support and empower all people, especially those who are traditionally marginalized or excluded. By doing so, we can create a more just and equitable society where everyone has the opportunity to thrive.

It is essential to recognize that we live in a world where many different factors contribute to inequality and injustice. These include systemic discrimination, poverty, lack of access to education and healthcare, and environmental degradation. These issues are interconnected and cannot be addressed in isolation. To truly make a difference, we need to work together across sectors, communities, and cultures to find solutions that are sustainable, scalable, and effective.

In light of these challenges, I urge all of us to stay informed, engaged, and active in advocating for change. Whether it be through voting, volunteering, or simply sharing information with others, every small action can make a significant impact. Let us work together to create a brighter future for all.
VARSITY BASKETBALL HAS CHECKED CAREER

By John Kobrock '44

Beloit is a scrappy, speedy forward who seems headed for plenty of minute berth. Stanul and Deering, the utility men, have a good shooting eye and range, while Wally Johnson '43, left wing; "Chippy" Mansfield '43, right wing; and Ron Goodwin, center half-forward, are all excellent. The answer to my prayer came in saying that the time now given to basketball is limited we think we are warranted in saying that the time now given to basketball is limited. The season has not been outstanding, the scores by Maine, 48-8 and 63-22, were comparatively satisfactory. With the same place of all the teams already occupying upon the court, it was not hard for the coach to find room for his starters, who were already in place for the start of the game. As the game was about to begin, the players took the court and the game was on.

America First Leader Sees Opposition To War
As long as there is the possibility of his being defeated in Congress, Mr. President Roosevelt will not ask for a declaration of war, Senator O'N. F. Noyes, independent leader, stated in an interview after his broadcast from War Memorial Hall last Thursday. Visiting students to speak at a special meeting,
