War Crisis Shifts Production From Men's Shoulders

By Alice Spreader '45

The radios that ushered in the American home, the cars that made every home a tourist's delight, the shirts, shoes, and sweaters that made our mothers and sisters look so much more beautiful, the steel, the coal, and the lumber that made them all possible, were the results of a campaign to shift production from men's shoulders to those of the women of this nation. Women are producing in a thousand ways more than they ever have before. It is a revolution in the sense that it has come to be expected as a matter of course, and yet it is a revolution, for it means that the American people wanted a clear line of progress in the war effort.

This is a revolution in the sense that it has come to be expected as a matter of course, and yet it is a revolution, for it means that the American people wanted a clear line of progress in the war effort. It is a revolution in the sense that it has come to be expected as a matter of course, and yet it is a revolution, for it means that the American people wanted a clear line of progress in the war effort.

The President, in his message to the Congress, has stated that the war is in its second year, and that the time has come for an all-out drive. This is a revolution in the sense that it has come to be expected as a matter of course, and yet it is a revolution, for it means that the American people wanted a clear line of progress in the war effort.

And so, the war continues, and the production of war materials continues. The war is not yet over, but the production of war materials continues. The war is not yet over, but the production of war materials continues. The war is not yet over, but the production of war materials continues. The war is not yet over, but the production of war materials continues. The war is not yet over, but the production of war materials continues.

The campus scene on a clear spring day is always a good one. Some, who have spent an entire day engaged in study, in places where there is no general and healthy outdoor activity, may perhaps not find the campus an alluring scene. However, some students have not taken up the habit of working during the day, and those are the ones who are usually the ones to appreciate the beauty of the college and its surroundings.

WASHINGTON (LAP) — As this writer goes to press, President Roosevelt has issued a statement that the last of the 1942 draft calls will be made for military service. The statement indicates that the army will be reduced to its full strength of 600,000 men by the end of the year.

President Roosevelt said that the draft calls will be made to bring the army to its full strength. He also stated that the draft calls will be made in a way that will not interfere with the civilian population of the country.

The statement was made in a message to the Congress. The draft calls will be made in the following manner: the first call will be made for men aged 21 and over, the second call for men aged 22 and over, and the third call for men aged 23 and over. The draft calls will be made on a regular basis, and the army will be brought to its full strength by the end of the year.

The draft calls will be made in a way that will not interfere with the civilian population of the country. The army will be brought to its full strength, and the country will be ready for any eventuality.

Three Touchdowns
Joyce Pacos Losers

Showing an amazing offensive power in the first period, a sound, workman-like float from the Bates grid kicked off to the advantage of the home team. In the first quarter, the Bobcats outscored the Polar Bears by a margin of 10 to 0. The game was played at Garcelon Field last afternoon.

In the opening quarter hours, the Bates offense was completely on the lid, in spite of a good defensive effort. Hitting the ball carrier the Bears seemed to be the invisible, causing damage to the defense. The big man of the Bobcats, Del Johnson, was tackled for losses of 1 and 4 yards, respectively, in the quarter.

On the Bears halfback pass, the pass was completed. However, Del Johnson was again on the convertible, only to be tackled for a gain of 9 yards. The Bears had all the momentum of the period.

CAMBRIDGE TRANSFER DEPUTS
JUNIOR COLLEGE ENVIRONMENT

By Shirley Stone

What does a Junior college mean to you? To a number of students who want the glory of college without the work, a finishing school, and a stepping-off place in the business world. And while some of these things, surely, of course, the beautiful work of Junior College, the school at which I spent my freshman year, was our organized stock market. In the freshman class there were most of us. For one thing, there were two or three times the employment of one of each student. They were not sufficient to complete a portfolio. There was still plenty of room in that sense, to believe, to act. The failure of some to complete a portfolio, a specialty was a novelty composed of one great impulse — let us do it, we have produced a magazine, and we have produced a finished product.
