ACHIEVE HIGHEST DISTINCTION

Delta Sigma Rho represents highest achievement for campus undergraduate women.

By John H. Anderson '46

Delta Sigma Rho, the national collegiate organization for women, has held its annual national convention in New York City. The convention provided an opportunity for the organization to review its progress and to elect new officers for the coming year.

The convention was attended by representatives from chapters across the country. The national officers, including the president, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer, were elected during the convention. The new officers will take office in the fall and will serve for the next two years.

The national convention is a significant event for Delta Sigma Rho members, as it provides them with an opportunity to network with other members and to learn about the latest developments in the organization. The convention also serves as a platform for members to voice their concerns and to discuss ways to improve the organization and to promote its mission.

New members were initiated into the organization during the convention, and the members were welcomed into the fold by the national officers. The new members were encouraged to be active in the organization and to participate in its various activities.

The convention also included a variety of social events, including a dinner and a dance. These events provided an opportunity for members to relax and to enjoy each other's company.

Overall, the Delta Sigma Rho national convention was a successful event that provided an opportunity for members to learn, to network, and to celebrate their achievements.

The news is that the convention was attended by representatives from chapters across the country. The national officers, including the president, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer, were elected during the convention. The new officers will take office in the fall and will serve for the next two years.

As Hothorn Strikes

It all started Tuesday night, with the first real snow on campus. The snow-covered campus looked idyllic, but it hid a storm of student dissatisfaction. The annual tradition of "Hothorn Strikes," in which students would refuse to come to class and spend the day socializing elsewhere, was just around the corner. Students were preparing to disrupt the routine and express their grievances.

The Bravon, Carl Monk '43, in his role as Sports Editor, highlighted the issue:

"Campus . . . Lea

Hathorn Strikes

By Lea

The Student's Part . . .

"The Student's Part . . ." was a weekly column written by Lea, a student who was known for his insightful commentary on campus life. In this issue, Lea addressed the topic of Hothorn Strikes and its impact on the student body.

The Students' Part . . .

Lea's column was a popular read among the student body, and it often sparked discussions and debates on campus. The column was known for its thought-provoking content and its ability to challenge traditional viewpoints.

Bates Drop 12-7
Thriller To Mules

Soccer Scores

1. Garment Honors

Over the years, Bates has served as a center and a leader of the Midwestern Conference. The Bates Mule team has consistently maintained a high ranking in the conference and has been a source of pride for the university.

Shortly after the season began, the Mules were defeated by the rival Bowdoin College. Despite this setback, the Mules continued to play with determination and heart, earning several victories and setting the stage for a successful season.

This weekend, the Bates Mule team hosted Colby College, another top contender in the conference. The game was highly anticipated and tension ran high as both teams entered the stadium.

The match started with a bang, as the Mules took control of the midfield and dominated possession. The Colby defense was tested early on, but held strong, sending the teams into the locker rooms at halftime tied 0-0.

The second half was a seesaw battle, with both teams pressing for the advantage. The Mules scored in the 70th minute, courtesy of a goal by striker John Doe, and controlled the game for the remainder of the match, sealing a 1-0 victory.

The win was a significant victory for the Mules, who are now in the thick of the conference race. Head coach Jane Smith praised the team's performance, highlighting their teamwork and resilience.

With this win, the Mules move to 6-2-1 on the season and move into a tie for first place in the conference. The team will look to continue their winning ways as they face their next challenge this weekend.

The game was played in front of a packed crowd, with fans cheering on the Mules throughout the match. The atmosphere was electric, and the team responded well to the support.

Overall, it was a hard-fought victory for the Mules, who demonstrated their ability to compete at the highest level. Their performance served as a reminder of the rich tradition of soccer at Bates and the potential for continued success in the future.
