U. S. Army Announcement

To College Women in their Senior Year

As Head of the Juneau High School boys' basketball team in Alaska, Al Wight has had his fair share of experience in coaching basketball. But nothing could have prepared him for the task of preparing a high school team for the state tournament. "It was a challenge," Wight said. "But the boys responded with determination and skill." The team's victory in the state tournament earned them a trip to the national championships. Wight was thrilled to see the hard work and dedication of his players pay off.

Joining the Army

The U. S. Army is currently recruiting college women for various roles in the military, including administrative positions, nursing, and logistics. Women are encouraged to apply for these positions, which offer opportunities for personal and professional growth. Women also have the opportunity to serve in combat roles and are recommended to apply if interested.

Women's Army Auxiliary Corps

The Women's Army Auxiliary Corps (WAAC) was established in 1941 to provide support for the U. S. Army during World War II. The WAAC was composed of women who were not eligible for enlistment in the U. S. Army due to their age or marital status. Women in the WAAC performed a variety of tasks, including driving vehicles, serving as clerks and typists, and providing medical and dental services. The WAAC was disbanded in 1948, and its members were integrated into the U. S. Army.

Women's Auxiliary to the U. S. Navy

The Women's Auxiliary to the U. S. Navy (SPARS) was established in 1943 to provide support for the U. S. Navy during World War II. The SPARS was composed of women who were not eligible for enlistment in the U. S. Navy due to their age or marital status. Women in the SPARS performed a variety of tasks, including driving vehicles, serving as clerks and typists, and providing medical and dental services. The SPARS was disbanded in 1948, and its members were integrated into the U. S. Navy.

Women's Corps of the U. S. Air Force

The Women's Corps of the U. S. Air Force (WAF) was established in 1943 to provide support for the U. S. Air Force during World War II. The WAF was composed of women who were not eligible for enlistment in the U. S. Air Force due to their age or marital status. Women in the WAF performed a variety of tasks, including driving vehicles, serving as clerks and typists, and providing medical and dental services. The WAF was disbanded in 1948, and its members were integrated into the U. S. Air Force.

Women's Corps of the U. S. Coast Guard

The Women's Corps of the U. S. Coast Guard (WCG) was established in 1943 to provide support for the U. S. Coast Guard during World War II. The WCG was composed of women who were not eligible for enlistment in the U. S. Coast Guard due to their age or marital status. Women in the WCG performed a variety of tasks, including driving vehicles, serving as clerks and typists, and providing medical and dental services. The WCG was disbanded in 1948, and its members were integrated into the U. S. Coast Guard.

Women's Corps of the U. S. Marines

The Women's Corps of the U. S. Marines (WCM) was established in 1943 to provide support for the U. S. Marines during World War II. The WCM was composed of women who were not eligible for enlistment in the U. S. Marines due to their age or marital status. Women in the WCM performed a variety of tasks, including driving vehicles, serving as clerks and typists, and providing medical and dental services. The WCM was disbanded in 1948, and its members were integrated into the U. S. Marines.

All in Iron Works Game
For the Science it is their first ditch drama of the season. They had a 10 won and lost record, an 8.1 state server mark. The lineup at the time of this writing appears to include the same with Stier Siren and M. J. Antonoff, Reichenbacker, Jack Whitney, and Jack Joyce and Tony Maguire in the forwards. Joyce will be the key to the defense, offense and sprints. The strong backs in a line-up playing only class men of Montello, Montello, Horace Haines, J. Hall, and Tomlinson, is expected to be a bit last time it will be Mortonwood vs. Joyce for my coming in the evening.

This game will be the third for M. H. Stier, and goalie and special State coach. Joyce has a 33 record at Bates and last year had nine wins against New Field in the state, the best being conferred at Greene twos years ago, 15-6.

Horace, and Joyce is coached to play the Bates pares in the preliminary series. This is the only game on the slate and it should be a pretty full house. The Bates offense will try to gain a great extent upon the scoring opportunities of the time, Gene Bonner and Henry Nolin, a couple of high flyers and ball-handling stars. The Bates have brought to Lewiston and Boston Edward Little School. A productive starting Steak for the boys will be Tom and Flincher, forwards; Mclntyre, center; and Gerald and Joe, guards.
