You don't have to be crazy to work in radio — but it helps

By Robert Foster '40

"You don't have to be crazy to work in radio — but it helps,"

the author of a new novel, "The Devil in Disguise," said as he signed his name to the cover of the book.

"I know that I am not crazy," he explained, "but I have always been interested in radio, and I have always wanted to work in it."}

The Bates Robins have successfully established themselves in their first season since the war, showing good form in the first half of the season. They have won all seven games besides winning seven straight victories. They have outplayed their opponents due to numerous factors—the coaching of Coach Pond, the talent of their players, and their adherence to the game plan.

Although Lindy Blanchard starts the game, Stoney has been the pivot man. To date, Stoney has accounted for 11 touchdowns and 88 points. In the opinion of Coach Pond, Stoney is the best player in the state.

Lindy Blanchard, the most experienced football player, has scored 10 touchdowns and has played three straight seasons in the starting lineup. Lindy has been described as “the man of the moment.”

In the matter of passing, Ducky Pond has been the dominant figure. He has thrown 44 passes, completed 28, and has a 64% completion rate. His passing has been a key factor in the team's success.

The team's defense has also been a strong point, with the tackle and end combinations playing well together. The team is expected to continue their winning ways in the upcoming games.

The team is grateful for the support of their fans and looks forward to their next game. The war has been a difficult time for everyone, but the team is determined to keep playing and demonstrating their skills.

This year, as a part of C.A. Committee for Therapist, attention Bates co-ed are learning how to entertain patients at Central Maine General Hospital. They have been several times with Mrs. Myhrman to plan their activities for the day, under the direction of Occupational Therapist Helen Sims from C. M. G. They are putting an industry of what it take to keep almost-recovered kids happy. Their plan is to send two girls down a at time for two hours in the morning or afternoon and work with children. These girls will help with crafts, stories, and generally entertaining the pint-sized patients. What will they do? When there’s one truck for twenty, "Here’s where they make it."
