Glorious Deeds Speak For Superonica Sandy

By John Anderson

No more startling change has ever been offered by Smith Hall, as when Alphonso Superonica Sandy hit the Bates scene. He is so unprecedentedly successful that the entire student body is taken aback by his ability to remain on the top of all subjects. His career as a student at Bates looks to be the most promising of any at the college.

Superonica's Life

Superonica was born in East Boston, Mass., and grew up in the modest home of John Smith, a local grocer. He attended Bates College, where he majored in physics, and later entered the Bates faculty.

By the time he was twenty, Superonica had already made a name for himself as a physicist. His research on the photovoltaic effect earned him a fellowship at the famous Bell Laboratories.

His career took a dramatic turn when he was invited to work on the atomic bomb project at Los Alamos, New Mexico.

Superonica's work on the bomb was groundbreaking, and he went on to become a key figure in the development of the hydrogen bomb.

Superonica's contributions to science have been crucial in shaping the future of modern technology. He continues to work at Los Alamos, where he is still widely respected for his insights and wisdom.

Student Claims A-Bomb Attack; Mr. LeMaster Looked Stunned

By Robert Foster

The atomic bomb in Arkansas was exploded last night, causing a great commotion among the students. We have been informed that the cause of this explosion was a bomb dropped by Mr. LeMaster, a professor of physics.

The bomb was dropped from a plane and landed near the physics building, causing minor injuries to some students. Mr. LeMaster was immediately arrested and charged with making a terrorist threat.

Mr. LeMaster has a history of making provocative statements, and this is not the first time he has been involved in a controversy. In the past, he has been accused of making anti-Semitic remarks and of promoting radical political views.

LeMaster's latest outburst has caused a great deal of concern among the students and faculty. The administration is working to ensure the safety of the campus and to address the underlying issues that have led to this situation.

Truck Crews Leap Big Burdles

By Jean Harrington

The super-truck crew of the Bates College Physical Plant has been hard at work, clearing the campus of all the debris and rubble left over from the recent construction project.

The crew, consisting of twenty-five men, has been working around the clock to complete the project. They have been using a variety of equipment, including steam shovels and backhoes, to remove the debris.

The project took two weeks to complete, but the crew worked tirelessly to finish it ahead of schedule. The final result is a much cleaner and more organized campus.

The crew members have been taking care of each other throughout the project, and they have shown great dedication to their work.

Bobcats Drop Three Weekend Tiltsfalls

The banquet posters dropped on the green grass in the students’ hands, as the sun set behind the gymnasium. The students then filed into the gymnasium on Tuesday for a five-bite buffet.

Later afternoon they all headed over to the Salmon Bowls for the final banquet. Bobcats were also present, and everyone shared a laugh as they celebrated the end of the season.

Nibs Gould Wins First Base Position By Hard Hitting

This week’s spotlight was on the varsity baseball team, where Nibs Gould came through with a powerful hit against right-handed pitchers.

The Bobcats were victorious over Bates in a game marked by strong hitting and defense. Gould’s bat was the key as he delivered a powerful hit to score the winning run.

He followed up his performance in the second game, where he hit a home run and drove in two runs. His performance helped the Bobcats secure their win.

The Bobcats are now at 5-5 on the season, with Gould becoming a key player in the team’s success.

Triangular Meet Finds Garnet in Third Position

By Art Hitchens

The University of Maine track team took third place in the meet, with strong performances across the board. The team’s efforts were alike in their determination and hard work.

The meet was held at the track in Bangor on Friday afternoon. Among the highlights were the performances of Mike London, top-notch runner and hard hitter. Both of these were a source of pride for the Garnet.

Based on the meet results, the Garnet have placed third in the meet. Their next meet will be at the New Hampshire track meet on October 15th in New Hampshire. The regular schedule has been completed.

Coach Dick Mankof of the Tamia team feels that his boys have improved quite a bit since the beginning of the season. The team is the favorite of the district and the meet is expected to be a good one.

Bobcats again hurt their cause. Jack was in his best

Nils Gould is a freshman at Bates College, and he has been participating in both basketball and baseball. Nils went into camp for the baseball team at the University of Baltimore, but was cut after his first week on the field.

He immediately returned to Bates and last season was Kay Jones, United States Air Force Reserve. Kay was the captain of the Bates baseball team.

Last winter he played for the Boston University basketball team and during the spring he worked at the Bates Hotel in Lewiston. He is a junior and a marvel at his talents, and plans to work for the Rhode Island State Department this summer. He is a cousin of Nils Gould and plans to graduate in the spring.
