STUDENT INTEREST

AIM OF "GARNET"

The main aim of the "Garnet" is to act as a mouthpiece for the Student Body. To this end it is proposed to have an "Open Forum", in which students are welcome to contribute to regular theme discussions. The second objective of the "Garnet" is to print the work of the students in the college. The third objective is to keep the student informed of current events, and the fourth, to provide a means of social contact among fellow students. The magazine, "Garnet," will be published regularly in the form of a newspaper. The third issue will be published on the first of November, and the fourth on the first of December. The magazine will be printed in the college printing plant.

The layout of the magazine will be as follows: The front page will contain a list of the students' names, with the name of the magazine's editor, and a brief biography of each. The second page will be devoted to the main article of the issue. The third page will contain the weekly column of the "Beat Tufts" rally, and the fourth page will be reserved for the "Open Forum." The magazine will be printed in black and white, and will be distributed free to all students.

The "Garnet" is a voluntary organization, and all students are welcome to participate. The editors will strive to maintain a high standard of journalism, and will welcome contributions from all students. The magazine will be published regularly, and will be available for reading at the college library.

EXTRA-CURRICULAR POLITICAL EMPIRICAL

The eyes of many millions of people are anxiously fixed on the explosive international situation. And their minds are wondering whether the two great political issues of the day—Russia and the United States—have been prepared to follow the logic of their present policies until they possibly culminate in a devastating third world war. In times like these it is difficult to deny the sagacious importance of political awareness.

Here on campus, to be sure, political awareness and civic responsibility have been emphasized again and again by recent chapel speakers, Harry Jobrack, Bill Stringfellow, and Ray Cloutier. All have related the vital need for international political thinking. And President Phillips himself in his last Chapel Service and in the importance of the movement to the successful fulfillment of the third aspect of the Bates Program—closer collaboration with the other great political communities whose cultural heritage you . . . can expect intelligent understanding of the political life of the area in which you . . . live.

Civic Responsibility

The core courses in economics, sociology, and especially government are likewise doing much work to develop this spirit of extra-curricular awareness. The activities too help to instill this sense of responsibility. Furthermore, extra-curricular political activities should be sufficiently important for them to involve spontaneous student activity and develop the whole nature of the type which will be needed as we approach the age of active citizenship.

All of these—extra-curricular, curricular political discussion. We have likewise, we think, the need for extra-curricular political activities organized in political clubs, and which have sponsored in rotation by the various above-mentioned activities, under the act of March 3, 1879.

FACULTY OF NOTABLES

According to Mr. LeMaster and Mr. Covell, there seems to be a great numerical majority of men, if not an exclusive—men, if not exclusively to be laid at the doorstep of our fairer sex. If we hope and think it is a sign of growing political maturity.
Angelsante Plays Football Game

The student body had occasion to learn a very valuable football lesson Saturday as the ball kept changing hands with400 yard pass-up the better. The composition quickly changed as the ball started to roll towards the end zone. In the wake of the

The most famous player of the 2020 football season opening game on October 5th when Jack Brown topped Smith North, 16-0, the highlight of the game came when Jack Brown was in scoring position. North moved right to the sidelines where he had the key block that opened the doors for Smith's short drive to touchdown. In the second half, Smith's defense played a key role in stopping North's offensive drives.

North started the game off by dropping a pass in the right corner and then traveled up to Orono, only to be stopped by the powerful Massage 26-0. Last week's win over Orono gave the Huskies the backing to continue their winning streak. The Huskies are now 2-1 for the season and look to continue their winning ways in their next game against Barnes.

The Huskies are eyeing a perfect 3-0 record for the season, with their next game against Barnes scheduled for October 12th. With the Huskies' current form, they are in a strong position to make a strong run for the playoffs.
Four Maine College Units To Found New Magazine

College students are actively interested in social, educational, and cultural affairs and should be given a chance to voice their opinions through an inter-collegiate magazine. This was the opinion of the writers of an editorial in the Bowdoin Book, the student magazine at Bowdoin College. They argue that the magazine should be used to express the views of the students and that it should be a vehicle for the exchange of ideas on a wide range of topics. The editors of the book believe that an inter-collegiate magazine can provide a platform for the expression of diverse viewpoints and that it can foster a sense of community among the students of the different colleges.
