THE STUDENT COUNCIL...
By Bob Taylor

For Maine Saturday night was the final game for a top team in the Northeast. It was the regular feature of Alumni games, and in this instance, a great revenge game for Bates and Maine.

When the Bobcats opened up a 15-point lead, the Bobcats seemed to have the game in the bag. They were shooting 50% from the floor, and Bates was outrebounding Maine. But Bates didn't have the experience and depth that Maine did. The Bobcats had a lot of young players, and Maine had a lot of experienced players.

On the other hand, Bates was playing well. They were shooting 45% from the floor, and Maine was shooting 35%. Bates had the lead, but Maine was coming on strong. They had a lot of young players, and they were pushing hard.

By the end of the game, the Bobcats had lost their lead, and Maine had won the game. The Bobcats were disappointed, but they knew they had done well. They had played their best game of the season, and they had come close to beating Maine.

The Bobcats were looking forward to their next game, and they were excited about the opportunity to play against a top team. They knew they had to be prepared, and they were going to be ready to play.

The Bobcats were looking forward to the future, and they were confident that they would be successful. They were going to work hard, and they were going to win.

- Student Secretary
  - From the technical point of view, the costuming was an undoubted success. The diction was usually clear, and the lines were heard without difficulty. The costuming was sufficient to show what the character was without being obvious. The setting was adequate to accentuate the imagination to visualize the color and pageantry of the times.

- Student Secretary (Continued)
  - The problem of compromising with evil or of maintaining the integrity of his beliefs—this was their greatest triumph.
