LETTERS TO ITALY AS INFLUENCE IN APRIL 18TH ITALIAN ELECTIONS

By Wilfred Barrons

A recent Associated Press dispatch from Rome, Italy, bore the following message: “The American educational institutions, particularly those offering lower-division classes, are paying a little more attention to the result of the election of the Senate, as well as the House. This is not without reason, because it is the Senate which is responsible for the appointment of the ambassadors to the United States.

Last week the Senate was tied 50-50, and the result was not decided until the tie-breaking vote of the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

This year both the Senate and the House had to be considered, and the result was not decided until the tie-breaking vote of the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

The result was a victory for the Republican candidate, who was also the candidate of the Catholic Church.

The important parties besides the Democratic and Republican parties are the Socialist and the Communist parties. The Socialist party, which is associated with the left wing of the Social Democrats, is strong in the cities and the countryside.
