BOC Completes Plans For Campus Clambake

The annual clambake, sponsored by the Bates Outing Club, will be held Sunday at Puncam Beach. Those who have already signed up will leave by bus from Rand at 6:30 a.m. and be back in time for supper. Since it is a 90-mile round trip, there will be signs showing the way back, clearing the exit.

Chairman of the clambake, Fredrick Russell, has announced the menu which will include clams, hamburgers, potato salad, tomatoes, soda, watermelon, and cookies. He estimated that 400 people were fed in 65 minutes. In view of this he added that, since it will take a long time to feed so many people, those at the end of the line should not become impa-tient.

Activities For All

Besides swimming, there will be a chance to play softball, volleyball, and boarrosse. Students can also visit Fort Popham, one of Maine's historic spots, which is only a short walk from the beach.

Russell has not announced any definite committees, although the Outing Club council members will probably do most of the work. A small group of students will go to Popham very early Sunday morning to make the necessary arrange-ments. A pre-dawn breakfast is planned at this group at Doctor Fairfield's house.

Russell expressed the hope that students would forget studying for the exams and go to the clambake. He emphasized that this is definite-ly not only for couples and hopes that students will go in groups.

Wesley Installs New Officers At Retreat

David Wyllie was elected the new president of Wesley club during the retreat held by the class Sunday.

Other officers elected were William Halls, vice-president; Harrington Packard, secretary; and Elizabeth Shaw, treasurer.

Before leaving for their retreat, the group heard an address by Bishop Lord of Boston. They left by bus for Dr. D'Alophano's camp in Mechanic Falls, where dinner was served. A worship service was held during which the new officers were installed.

Worship was under the direction of Sally Perkins and Rosemary Kelley. Program chairman for next year will be Russell Winslow, and Russell Morse was elected rec-reation chairman.

Cap'n Reuling, Pirate Campbell Head Mayoralty

By Mary Kay Rudolph

Bates takes to the water early this spring to paddle to the Mayoralty river game, and high seas vagabonds who will try to avoid being drag-neted down anchor at 10 o'clock tonight. The Good Ship Jolly Roger, manned by the pirate corps of Roger Bill, J.B., Mitchell House and Off-Campus, will attempt to scuttle the Smith-Bauwells' Showboat as the 1953 Mayoralty candidates, Jolly Roger Campbell and Cap'n Walt Reuling, meet in a watery duel to determine next year's mayor.

WYBC will carry a 30 minute radio show later this month. The show is scheduled for Thursday evening.

Junior Ivy Day Speakers Offer Farewell Toasts

Rainy weather caused postponement of the plantings, but failed to dampen the spirit of the 76th annual junior class Ivy Day exercises Monday in Chapel.

Class President Charles Calcagni described the significance of the day in a brief address. Class Orator Robert Sharaf told the gathering of the great opportunity of the present generation to straighten out the world. Those who wish to accept the challenge have a tru- mendous responsibility before them, though it is binding in in- sound as it is felt. Never before has there been a forum such as the United Nations to "end destruction by discussion."

The junior men's quartet, formed of John Karl, Calcagni, Harvie and Robert Dickinson sang "Gaudemus Igitur."

Toasts to the coeds and men were delivered by Harry Melvin and Patricia Heldman. Anne Sabo toasted the seniors; Mary Ellen Bailey, the faculty; Gordon Peace read the Ivy Day Ode, which he composed for the occasion. Dwight Harvie was toastmaster; Peter Knapp, marshal.

Committee members were Ellen DeLuca, Carolyn Snow, Clyde Swift, Eleanor Feinoot, William Davenport, Richard Brenton, Anne LaRocque, John Karl, and Charles Calcagni.

John Karl was in charge of re-hearsals, aided by Professors Buschmann and Freedman.

"Silver Shadows" Hop To Climax Mayoralty

"We are all set for the big affair Saturday and feel confident that the event will be a huge success. We are certainly going to do our part."

These were band leader Jimmie Harvie's words as he expressed his interest in the approaching Ivy Hop for which he will provide the music. Jimmie, trumpet playing leader of a 13-piece orchestra with two vocalists and a Driskel combo, spent the winter at the Stevens Avenue Armory in Port-land.

Plans Shaping Up

President Charles Calcagni has indicated that plans seem to be reaching completion as the date for the Silver Shadows Hop nears. The dance will be semi-formal with no corsages, and is being held in the Alumni Gym 8:30-12 p.m.

Tickets, selling for $3.60, are be-ing handled through dorm represen-tatives this week. The refresh-ments will be prepared in the Com-mons.

Special Guests Announced

Janice Todd, chairman of invitations committee, has announced that President and Mrs. Phillips, Dean of Women, and Profes-sor and Mrs. Freedman will be special guests, with other members of the faculty and administration invited. Janice also is in charge of selecting juniors to serve as receiving line workers.

Anne LaRocque, publicity chair-man, has arranged for the displays Show, *at 4 p.m., tomorrow, at the park of Parker Hall.

Seniors Get Diplomas At Armory June 14

Commencement exercises of the Class of 1953 at Bates College, will be held at the Lewiston Armory June 14, President Phillips has announced.

This 87th Commencement will mark the fourth year in which the exercises will have been held at the municipal auditorium; the rea-son for this being that the greater seating capacity of the auditorium, as compared with the Bates Chapel where the Commencement has been traditionally held, makes it possible for Lewiston-Auburn friends of the college and those from surround-ing areas to attend.

Those wishing tickets may re-ceive them by contacting the office of the Assistant to the President, Mr. John B. Annett.
Regulations and a schedule for the campaign have been drawn up by the 1953 Student Council as follows:

Rules Of Conduct
1. The campaign shall not occur publicly until May 20, at 10 p.m. It shall close at 11 p.m. Friday, May 22. Voting will take place between 10 a.m. and 6 p.m. on Tuesday, all day Wednesday, between 12 and 2; and at 11 p.m. and 11:30 p.m. on Thursday, and Friday, between 8:30 and 9:30.

2. Balloting and Counting
   1. The voting period should be from 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. on May 23, in the lobby of the gym.
   2. The ballots shall be counted only by the chairman of the majority committee.
   3. The ballot shall be voted in such a manner as to include just the name of the candidate.
   4. The decision shall be announced on May 23.

Voting Penalties
Events of the past few years have compelled the Council this year to establish a system of voting penalties to preserve the integrity of both campaigning parties and the Council itself.

1. The voting penalty, for each violation shall be no less than ten votes; the extent of the violation will determine the degree of the penalty.
2. The vote penalty shall be deducted before the ballots are counted on May 23.
3. A vote penalty shall result from any infraction of the foregoing rules.

Conclusion
In the hope that future Student Councils may benefit materially by the study of the degree of impartiality that a Student Council member shall maintain, the 1953-54 men's Student Council has unanimously decided that no member of the Student Council should assume any important position for the campaign: everyone connected with the campaign must be held responsible for the success or failure of the campaign.

Scott Analyzes Russia

Al Halley and Clyde Buchwalder left Thursday after Mr. Scott's citizenship laboratory on recent developments within the Soviet system.

"The soviet system," he said, "is just beginning to work. The import of the Industrial Revolution hit Russia at the turn of the century and was followed by a period of mass rejuvenation which enabled the country to emerge in 1945 as one of the world's two greatest nations.

Economic Boom For USSR

"Since World War II, the Soviet Union has done some extraordinary things, economically. The country itself. Substantial increases in steel, iron, coal, and coal production a tripled Egyptian trade in luxury goods; prices forced down from five percent annually since 1947 are indicative of economic progress.

Goddard Will Give Address As Seniors Hold Last Chapel May 27

Tradition will be the order of the day at Last Chapel for the seniors as it is held at 8:35 May 27.

Seniors will march in to take their places in the chapel with John MacDuffie as chaplain. A choir made up of seniors will sing the response to the invocation. This will be followed by an anthem.

Alan Goddard, president of the senior class, will deliver an address on "The Power of the Will," linking religious significance to the accomplishments and aims of the seniors while at Bates and as they say good bye to the faculty, students, and college.

The seniors will ring the class hymn, followed by the benediction. As tradition dictates, "Auld Lang Syne" will be sung as the class of '53 marches out. Juniors, sophomores, and freshmen will then follow their respective processional.

Band Plays On Undaunted by Rain On Roof

The Bates Concert Band presented a concert program of popular items this year's calendar in the Chapel.

The opening number was "Colonel Bogey March," conducted by Charles Calagani, student leader of the band for the coming year. This was followed by "The Wedding of the Painted Doll," conducted by Professor Smith. Calagani next led the band in "The Star-Spangled Banner." The Bates Concert Band, under the guidance of Professor Smith, played a piccolo solo in "The Whistler and His Dog," directed by Professor Smith. Calagani then led the band in "Purple Pageant March." In "Jealousie," Morton Boyce played a clarinet solo.

The retiring student band leader, Frank Srood, a trombone player in the band, directed "Paladin of the Fair."

Jeffrey Freeman played a bass clarinet in "Bones in Bessers," which featured excerpts from Yankee Doodle and Lust's Humorous Rhymes.

"King and I" Tunes

The concluding rendition was taken from "The King and I," the Broadway musical written by Rodgers and Hammerstein. The performers included: "Something Wonderful!"; "Whistle a Happy Tune"; "We Kissed in the Shadows," in which Popham Strood and Harold Hunter played trombone and trumpet solos, respectively; "Shall We Dance?"; and "Hello, Young Lovers," which featured a baritone solo by Frank Srood.

The Bates Concert Band, under the guidance of Professor Smith, and originally planned to play on the library steps, as was done last January. Due to weather conditions, the concert was presented in the Chapel. Approximately 300 students attended the presentation.

Hendrickson Elected At Last FTA Meeting

Helen Hendrickson was elected president of the Future Teachers of America and Alan Kennedy vice-president at the final meeting of the council of the group recently.

Also elected for 1953-54 by the FTA was Dorothy Boyce, secretary-treasurer. The group discussed plans on an outing to be held later this year or next fall.

Stu-G Agenda Planned; Old-New Proctors Meet

In one of its last meetings of the year, the Student Government Board discussed continuation of items on this year's calendar.

Any upperclass women interested in the Big and Little Sister Program can sign up now with their proctors. Names and addresses of incoming freshmen will be sent to them during the summer and they are urged to write informative letters, inviting their "little sister," to ask questions about anything that may be bothering them. It was also suggested that letters be sent out early enough so that there will be time for freshmen women to write back and really get acquainted.

It was voted to include a formal dinner for women in the list of items on this year's Student Government activities. The majority of the members of the board felt that the formal dinner was a necessary project this year, so that it should become an outstanding event of the coming year.

A Book-of-the-Year drive was suggested as a possible project. Such a drive has proven quite successful at Colby, where a special committee selects an outstanding book by the campus community are urged to read and discuss. Books-of-the-Year at Colby have included a collection of plays by an outstanding dramatist, and such selections as "Ivanhoe" and "The Good Soldier." If Bates decides to initiate such a project, it was mentioned that members of the board suggested it.

Stu-C Favors New Type Frosh Rules; Plans Campus Dance

The newly proposed freshmen rules were the main topic of discussion at the Student Council meeting. The council decided to remain in favor of the new plans which tend to stress the orientation rather than disciplinary aspects of the initiation period. They will be voted on at the next meeting.

The council is planning to hold an all-campus dance to be held next year under the joint direction of the Stu-C and Stu-G. John Housholt was appointed to head up the committee that is organizing the plans which are as yet incomplete.
Finally, the STUDENT wishes to extend the best of luck to the opposing factions, campaign managers and candidates. May both campaigns win on the basis of originality; the campaign theme and the spirit with which it is carried out; entertainment; and the attitude and spirit of the respective parties for their candidate.

With this in mind, let 'er rip!

Rand Gals Show Culture

At "Saloon Des Refuses"

By Janice Todd

Rand Hall was the scene of a very different style of open-house party last Sunday evening. The usually stark gym was transformed by a Bohemian theme into an artistic wasteland replete with decorations and entertainment.

Bohemian Background

At the last meeting of the student council, the question of what the senior girls were painting so frantically about was answered. In the midst of this Bohemian atmosphere the girls held an art exhibit in "Le Saloon des Refuses." Each piece of work, representing hours and hours of tedious work, was displayed and under severe scrutiny by a board of astute judges from the Cultural Heritage and English departments. Acting as judges were Dr. Willis and Dr. Zerby, and Prof. Betker and Dr. Wright.

The four winning contestants were Pat Scheuerman, who did "Lunchen" and Peggy Fox, who painted "Toledo, Ohio"; Dorothy Wilkoff, who displayed "Riders of the Sea," and Nancy Vran- verman, for her "Still Life".

Takeoffs On Texts

The contest was inspired by studies in the Cultural Heritage course of impressionistic and post-impressionistic painters. Each entry was a take-off on one of the paintings found in the ever-resourceful Robb & Garrison text book.

"Adding to the atmosphere was the use of pillows to rest on instead of chairs. The food, served buffet style, was spread out on a long table under a colorful paper awning. The girls provided enter- tainment of odd and sundry sorts for their gentleman guests.

It was generally agreed that the venture was a success as a party theme and as a good chance for the girls to show off their artistic talents.

Play Version Differs From Original Script

The Robinson Players' version of Shakespeare's "The Merchant of Venice," which has grown in popularity in recent years, was generally very shortly. Often very rarely, Shakespeare's plays are shortened because of time and stage requirements.

The Little Theatre stage was divided into sections by curtains in order to minimize setting changes. Pieces of furniture used in the scenes were relatively few in number but were in striking bright colors which contrasted with the backdrop of blue-gray walls.

By cutting the script and shortening the periods between the scenes, the Robinson Players kept the play well paced. A prologue and an epilogue were added to explain the theories taken with the script.
Camp'in Walt Clears Decks For Gay Showboat Time

By Minstrel Joe

The shrill blast of a whistle — the cry of "Steamboat round the bend" — heralds the coming of Cap'n Walt Reuling and his world famous Showboat, "The Robert E. Lee," which at this very moment is nearing the end of a long voyage from the sunny South to the docks and portals of Bates College.

Fortunately reports have it that the flamboyant Showboat has reached the comparatively calm waters of the Androscoggin branch of the mighty Mississippi. WVTV, the station on hand at 10:15 tonight to broadcast Captain Walt's arrival and at 10:30 to paddle-wheels stop, the band strikes up to lead a parade with all the laughter, thrills, and color that characterize the Showboat and its fun-loving crew.

Rudder Never WAVers

Generous Cap'n Walt has been virtually besieged at every port on his long journey with pleas to tie and drawl are now the rage — vored by real old-fashioned river — riders. But Cap'n Walt's arrival and the coming of Cap'n Walt's "Robert E. Lee" will reign on the campus. The splash of color and music of the Showboat will bring victory dinners to town. There is no rain cloud in existence that would dare challenge the sparkle and gaiety of one of the Captain's shows.

His duty made clear, the pilot of the good ship "Robert E. Lee" is steering no coal; the paddles are churning white water. The Showboat's crew is reported anxious to relieve the laughter and homeric memories that rocked the decks of the other old-time showboats as they paddled queen-ly on the majestic Mississippi years ago.

Doings On The Levees

Cap't Walt's arrival and the Showboat parade will give the pretty belles of the Bates campus a taste of big doings on the college levees and the endless social trips to be had aboard the Robert E. Lee. The crew and deckhands of the Showboat — many from the world-famous Smith-Bardwell bend of the river — are backing Captain Walt to the hilt.

A Texas-size time will continue, but the next few days will be flavored by real old-fashioned river-boat Southern hospitality. String tie and drawl are now the rage — and then follow along as the "Skull and Crossbones" comes to Bates.

Bucco With Kid Gloves

Mayrarily figures warm up for the coming struggle between Capt'n Walt and Jolly Roger Campbell sharks. P.N.D.-producer a very capable one to our fate. But Bates is the place for last ditch hour of this entertainment. Our note is the gay adventure cruise with the "Brilliant Bucco" will bring back to the joyous days when all was well on the Bates campus. The Texan knew that in Captain Walt's Showboat lay the elixir for the campus'ills. With his handy crew members at the "Skull and Crossbones," all-day, all-night fun will be the order of the day.

Jolly Roger Campbell, most captain in the whole word will arrive tonight. An official communiqué from his quarters has confirmed rumors indeed be able to complete his Androscoggin and drop anchor.

Radio station WVBC will be on hand at the local radio station introducing to Jolly Roger directly into every coin's reception.

At Duinge Distance

Coach Hatch has, apparently, overlooked one of the greatest pitches of the Bates has ever produced. If he should pass down Frye Street on a warm evening, he'd find Hacker's Cathy Buchwalder underhaling her assortment of fast balls and curves to some admirable extreme. So Sue Suchow of Wilson is rumored to possess heretofore undetected tal-ent in this direction. What say, Coach?

With the Jolly Roger flying bravely above them, the ladies fair are extended a warm invitation to sail with the Corsair Captain and his crew of stout-hearted seamen into a world of frolic and adventure. During the next few days, pirate rule will bring to Bates a carefree, happy existence under history's jolliest buccaneer.

As a special build-up for the real, all-campus thing, Jolly Roger has made arrangements for an appearance of Hollywood movie stars Bud Abbott and Lou Costello. This very night they will be at the Strand Theatre with the immortal Captain Kidd. The west coast characters will show tonight one of the jolliest jobs of the summer with a jolly good gang of Jolly Roger pirates, as they make the Jolly Roger their barrier that prevents everyone from going back to the joyous days when faithful buccaneers had high adventure on the bounding main. Barriers Will Be Battered

That barrier will be taken down and again tonight, as right here at Bates appear reincarnations of the jolliest pirates the history of Hollywood has ever known as Jolly Roger Campbell, the west coast version of Captain Kidd. The west coast characters will show tonight one of the jolliest jobs of the summer with a jolly good gang of Jolly Roger pirates, as they make the Jolly Roger their barrier that prevents everyone from going back to the joyous days when faithful buccaneers had high adventure on the bounding main.

Playoffs Ahead For Intramural Softball Teams

By Bill Hobbs

Smith, Middle and Hardwick's Nantucket Bardwell entry, undefeated through play last week, appeared to be the team that would sweep to nasions in their respective intramural leagues.

The National League, supposedly stronger of the two, finds Bardewell on top with four wins against no losses. Top spot was virtually clinched on Tuesday with a 5-0 win over North last week as Marco DeSalle, who pitched North's Ken Griswald, buried the Mountaineers in the cellar position.

Despite the efforts of the weather man, the Maine version of spring finally arrived and the cages and gym were deserted for the more spacious surroundings of Garcelon Field. Once outside, it soon became apparent that Bates would field a baseball inferior to those of previous years, largely because of the predominantly sophomoric lineup, but could boast of tennis, track and golf squads at least the equal of recent editions.

Even moving Al Goddard, ever steady Adrian Anger became familiar sights on the tennis courts while Dave Dick's fantastic rally against his Colby opponent marked his return to the track. The kangaroo-like strides of Bob Goldsmith produced a large variety of "balls" and "as" did the steedlike movements of Doug Pay's flailing heels. Over in the field events, man Ed Holmes quietly prepared his assault on the state and New England championships.

Even the somewhat cloudy baseball situation was not without its move light-hearted moments. For example, few can top "Maxie" in the first base coaching box especially when it comes to stopping line drives with nothing better than the head. And, what about the score of the Bates-Phillipsburg contest, scoring their runs on timely hitting combined with several fielding lapses on the part of the boys from Smith. Closer rival, Roger Bill, has a two and two record and is followed by North and Tom Morse's Off Campus nine.

Middle Leads American League

The American League finds Middle in the sun berth followed closely by Smith and Bardwell. Bardwell entered the state series win in football last week against confident Colby

5-1 victory to maintain its slate. Good defensive play kept Middle out in front in this contested match - much credit to the hustle of Bob Altenburg. On the mound, the ever consistent Bergs led both Middle and Bardwell (Howie), tangled, with Middle emerging a winner.

Junior Varsity Also Hit

little success this season although they were able to play a match with Bates last Tuesday. On that occasion, the Bobcats

This week will see the varsity squad facing its heaviest action of the year. On Thursday the Bob-

Golfers Divide Close Contests

Despite the poor weather that has once again played havoc with spring sport schedules in Maine, it was possible to play both its regularly scheduled matches during the past week. This was not the case for any of the three varsity teams.

On Wednesday, the Bobcat golfers suffered their first setback of the year when they bowed to a strong Maine six, 16-11. On Saturday despite the efforts of regular Don Smith, Bates rebounded to edge Colby. The Maine nine was held to a score of 5-2, but two of the Bobcats' three victories were uneventful.

As for the weaknesses on the Bobcats' squad, there has been a total of 21 errors committed — errors of commission that is — an average of almost four per game. Ten of the 21 errors were accounted for in the Bobcats' second game of the year, their first against Edward Little. This same trouble has plagued the Bobcats in all their games although not to such a marked extent.

Fred Huber, who pitched in the Edward Little game, already deserved to win, by merit of his pitching performance, but thanks to the abundance of misses, was charged with a defeat.

Bowdoin Edges Cats; Hatch Gets Tossed Out

By Norman Sadovitz

The Bates Bobcats lost their fifth State Series contest to Bowdoin Saturday by a 6-6 margin in a game shifted to the victors' home field because of the unplayable condition of rain-soaked Garcelon Field.

The Polar Bears used two relievers to set the Bobcats down while Bob Bean, relieved by Dave Crowley in the eighth, pitched for Jim Hackett. Bowdoin second reliever, saved the game after he relieved Fred Cooks who had given up four straight walks for one run in the top of the sixth.

Both teams came up with five runs in the fifth, and, while the lead did not last long as the opposition came back with six runs in the eighth. Bowdoin came up with a run in the second on passed ball, a stolen base and wild pitch and went ahead with another tally in the fifth on a triple by Bob Bean, who pitched a no-hitter, giving up nine hits and seven runs while striking out nine and walking seven. Dave Crowley, who relieved in the eighth with none out, gave up one hit, and struck out two.

Bob Reny was the only man on the Bates squad who was able to collect two hits. Rain, Pardy, Fischer, Bean, and Hall all had one hit. Pardy scored three times while Fischer, Bean and Reny accounted for the other three runs.

New England Meet

Four members of the surprisingly strong Bates track team will travel to Providence this weekend to participate in the New England Track and Field Championships to be held at Brown. Entered for the Bobcats are half-milers Bob McAllister and Roger Schmutz, discus and hammer thrower Ed Holmes, and javelin thrower Don Smith. Those who have shown freat promise this year as both have been undefeated in their specialties to date. For this reason, the three men, if performing to the best of their capabilities, should give Bates its best showing in the meet in many years.
