YOU CAN WRITE PHOTO PLAYS AND EARN $25.00 OR MORE WEEKLY

We Will Show You How!

If you have ideas—if you can think—we will show you the secrets of this fascinating new profession. Positively no experience or literary excellence necessary. No "flowery language" is wanted.

The demand for photoplays is practically unlimited. The big film manufacturers are "moving heaven and earth" in their attempts to get enough good plots to supply the ever increasing demand. They are offering $100 and more, for single scenarios, or written ideas.

We have received many letters from the film manufacturers, such as VITAGRAPH, EDISON, ESSANAY, LUBIN, SOLAX, IMP, REX, RELIANCE, CHAMPION, COMET, MELIES, ETC., urging us to send photoplays to them. We want more writers and we'll gladly teach you the secrets of success.

We are selling photoplays written by people who "never before wrote a line for publication"

Perhaps we can do the same for you. If you can think of only one good idea every week, and will write it out as directed by us, and it sells for only $25, a low figure,

YOU WILL EARN $100 MONTHLY FOR SPARE TIME WORK

FREE SEND YOUR NAME AND ADDRESS AT ONCE FOR FREE COPY OF OUR ILLUSTRATED BOOK, "MOVING PICTURE PLAYWRITING."

Don't hesitate. Don't argue. Write now and learn just what this new profession may mean for you and your future.

THE ART EXHIBITION

The following is an extract from the Boston Transcript of Dec. 23, upon the art exhibition at Bates:

The third exhibition in the Art Gallery at Bates College is now open. This consists of twelve pictures by Charles Herbert Woodbury and one by his wife, Marcia Oakes Woodbury. Among them one called "The Sea" had the place of honor in a recent exhibition in the Fifty-Seventh Street Galleries, New York. Those who know Mr. Woodbury's art to represent the sea surging deep and rolling far will appreciate this work as typical of his conception of the majesty of the ocean. It is indeed a great picture and one turns away with reluctance but with a stimulated imagination.

In the next most striking picture, "The Opal," is displayed the skill of Mr. Woodbury to depict the flashing and varying hue of the sea, breaking in mist over a submerged rock in the full sunlight.

"Three Hills in Winter" is a canvas that reveals Dr. Woodbury's art in tactile values. The snow, wind-swept upon the cliff, lies crusted over the rocks that protrude. Perhaps most remarkable is the power shown to transcend the difficulties of the portrayal of nature in "The Skater." In the picture the reflected cliffs flash their colors upon the ice below where the skater sways in curves over its polished surface.

In Mrs. Woodbury's water color "Weary," there is a work that suggests the quality of Tarbell's pictures of interiors in the sheen of light that is diffused over the old woman whose relaxed figure speaks of weariness after toil. The spirit is not unlike that of Maas.

There are to be seen in the gallery also nine Leipzig prints of unusual interest. The gallery is open daily for the students and friends. Five pictures from New York artists are expected after Christmas.

Below is a list of the Woodbury pictures:

Charles Herbert Woodbury, B.S., Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Student of Art, Paris. President of the Boston Water Color Club.

1. St. Thomas.
2. On Dutch Canal.
4. At Sea.
5. Cape Cornwall.
6. October.
7. Cornish Coast.
8. The Skater.
9. The Heavy Swell.
10. The Opal.
12. At Sea.
13. Weary.

The following article appeared in the Boston Transcript for Jan. 15:

“The new Art Museum, Carnegie Hall, Bates College, was enriched in January by the addition of four notable paintings loaned to the Art Department for two months’ study. These paintings were selected by the kindness of Dr. William Rowell Derrick and represent varied phrases of contemporary art.

“Across the Valley” by Henry Hobart Nichols, Jr., is a painting poetical and charming in conception and delicate in its execution of rolling mists, violet distances, awesome solitudes, and changing loveliness of sky,—although a painting that delights and fascinates by its mellow harmonies.

“The Portrait of Mary Shepherd” by John McLane is as skillful in modelling and texture as in the psychology of happy childhood.

“The Coast of Maine in Moonlight” by Frederick Judd Waugh is a weirdly dramatic picture with wave and undertow and mysterious dark distances lit by moonlight and phosphorescence. It is doubtful if Mr. Waugh has ever painted so truly before the sea foam wind-scattered.

“In the Studio” by Irving R. Wiles, shows the master in no familiar guise, but if less powerful than his portraits, it is not less skillful in a noble conception of light, atmosphere and texture. It is a little gem in its way.

The twelve pictures of Charles Woodbury are still in the gallery and arouse an ever-deepening appreciation of his scientific and imaginative grasp upon nature. Nor does the picture of Mrs. Woodbury lose its hold upon a widening circle of visitors to the gallery.

DEBATE

The first preliminary trials for the intercollegiate debate teams will be held Jan. 24 and 25. The question, as was stated last week, is “Resolved, That the legislation exempting coastwise trading vessels from Panama Canal tolls should be repealed.” Bates has the affirmative of this question against Colgate and the negative against Clark. The exact date is not yet settled. Those who are to compete in the preliminary trials should see the Instructor in Argumentation at once, to arrange time of speaking.

Harding and Carey have been chosen as alternates for the Sophomore Prize Debate.

Application for entry as second class matter at the post office at Lewiston, Maine, pending.

THE JOURNAL PRINTSHOP, LEWISTON, ME.

Thru a misunderstanding concerning the application for entry as second class matter, the STUDENT for January 15 was held at the Lewiston Post Office until the first of this week.

The history of Bates is the history of growth and development. The formal dedication of Carnegie Science Hall marks a new epoch in that history. We were glad, at that time, to welcome back some of the alumni and friends of the College.

In this issue we print the first attempt at a weekly calendar of college events. We hope that the members of the Faculty, presidents of societies and clubs, also the managers of athletic teams will use this Calendar as a means of announcing coming events and thus make it of practical use. Such notices may be handed to the local editor before Monday morning or left in the STUDENT drawer at the Library desk.

Have you paid your subscription to the STUDENT yet? If not, you will greatly aid the Manager by doing so before February 1st.

SHADOWS

Bear with me, I am sad to-night.
The Moon
Has placed her gold-ringed fingers on the meadow;
Softening the blackness, length'ning the shadows;
Till soon
They wear to grayness in the mellow light.
The silver lake is turned to lead;
A grave-cloth for the hours thrown
Where stars have fallen one by one,
Tears for the quivering day that's dead.

JAMES FRANK HILL.

MEMORIAL SERVICE

A service in memory of Mrs. Emma M. Chase was held Sunday evening, Jan. 12, in the Fiske Reception Room, Rand Hall. Prof. Hartshorn spoke to the young women and the following musicals were rendered by Miss Helen Hilton and Mr. Roscoe Dunn: Fugue, Beethoven; Pilgrim's Chorus from Tannhauser, Wagner and music from Midsummer Night's Dream.

EXCHANGES

The BATES STUDENT acknowledges the receipt of the following exchanges: The Vassar Miscellany, the Colby Echo, the Maine Campus, the Brunonian, the Wesleyan Argus, Old Penn, the University of Ottawa Review, the Collegian, Silver and Gold, the Sibyl, the E. L. H. S. Oracle, the Bouncer, the Ariel, the TriPod, the Norm, the Easterner, the Sanborn Echo, the Oracle (Bangor), the Academician, the Hamptonia, the Starkey Seminary Monthly, the Coburn Clarion, and Punchard Ensign.

The Brunonian is an unusually fine paper. "An Arizona Christmas" in the December number shows dramatic power and a knowledge of human nature, while "On the Rocks" is filled with the spirit of the sea.

The Colby Echo states that the young women of Colby College have started a paper under the name of the Colbiana which will have departments devoted to the Y. W. C. A., the alumnae, athletics, jokes, and general news.
DEDICATION OF CARNEGIE SCIENCE HALL

The Carnegie Science Hall was dedicated Jan. 14. The following is a program of the exercises held in the Chapel at 2 P.M.:

Music College Orchestra
Prayer Canon Nolan, M.A., S.T.B.
Music Orchestra
Address—Historical
Pres. George C. Chase, D.D., LL.D.,
Music Orchestra
Address—"The Interpretation of Nature"
Prof. William T. Sedgwick, Ph.D., Massachusetts Institute of Technology

In the historical address President Chase traced the steady growth of the science departments of the College. Prof. Sedgwick spoke of the various interpretations of nature beginning with the savage and barbarous interpretations inspired by fear and then traced the different views down through the ages as they were changed by the advances in scientific knowledge. After the exercises in the Chapel all who wished inspected the new building where the professors and a few students acted as guides. Refreshments were served in the advanced physics laboratory. In the evening a reception was held in the Fiske Room, Rand Hall, in honor of Prof. Sedgwick; a very large number of students were present and enjoyed a pleasant evening.

THE MARY FLOYD NEELY MEMORIAL PRIZE

The Maine Society of Colonial Dames offers a prize of fifty dollars for the best article on "Maine's Part in the Revolution." This contest is open to the girls of Bates, Colby, and U. of M. The article must contain not less than 6,000 words and not more than 10,000. It must be sent in by May 8. For further details see Library bulletin board, or Faculty bulletin board.
