Southside Johnny & The Asbury Jukes
Give Fantastic Performance

Stories on pages 6 & 7

An Anatomy of Student Action

Political Science Department To Replace Profs

by Jon Marcus
Senior Reporter

Student action before the administration has resulted in the decision to temporarily fill a position vacated by sabbatical leaves next year. The sabbaticals, both in the political science department, each will span a semester, leaving the department short of one professor for the whole year. However, the recent decision, prompted in part by a student petition, provides for a full-time one-semester replacement to help fill the void left by these absences.

Political science professor Douglas Hodgkin and chairman Garold Thumen both plan semester sabbaticals next year. Initially, a decision was made not to fill the temporary openings, for "budgetary reasons." However, sophomore Alan Benson initiated a low-key drive to rescind this decision. While planning his personal curriculum in advance, he discovered that the department would have only three professors teaching for two semesters. Because he planned to participate in the Washington Semester Program, and would thus be limited in time, Benson began to explore methods to convince the administration to change its mind. Writing to all political science majors, he asked them to go talk to the administration or at least to consider signing a petition. This petition was put in the lobby of Libbey Forum, where 85 people ultimately signed it after reading the attached letter. "There was no pressure. I didn't want to make a big deal and ruin the chances of getting anything done." At that point, Benson spoke with Dean of the Faculty Carl Straub, who "said he felt there was no way a petition would work." However, when the student petition was brought to the attention of the Political Science Department, and the remaining two professors, Carl Thumm and Douglas Hodgkin both plan semester sabbaticals, the administration was forced to consider the petition. The question of what to do when the professorship becomes available is being discussed by the faculty.

Six Bates Students Involved In Disturbance At The Cage

by Melissa Weisstuch
Senior Reporter

Employees at The Cage College's Schaeffer Theatre were booked on charges of $1000 worth of damage as done. and the remaining two for "disorderly conduct.

Theater Department
Break-In Results In $1000 Damage Bill

by Thomas Vannah
Senior Reporter

On Tuesday morning, March 13, the costume room in Bates College's Schaeffer Theatre was broken into, and a bottle of bleach was allegedly poured on the costumes which are to be used in the production of "Gallilee." The Theatre Department estimates that $1000 worth of damage was done.

The break-in occurred between 2:00 a.m. and 4:00 a.m. Norman Dodge, Assistant Professor in the Theatre Department was in the building until 4:30 a.m. on stage but heard nothing. Dodge suggests that a door may have been left unlocked; "We've been working long hours. Someone who is tired may not have noticed that a door was left unlocked on his or her way out," said Dodge. Despite the damage done to the costumes, designed and made by Bates professors, Dodge expressed pleasure at the increased enthusiasm for the already great community effort displayed after the incident occurred. The costumes, which Harkins has been working on for four months, will be used despite the bleached spots. Apparently, the spots are not greatly noticeable on stage under the lights.

Dodge could offer no explanation for this set of "vandalism." The damage done was discovered at 8:00 Tuesday morning. Dodge was depressed at the sight. "It hurt a lot of people," said Dodge. In spite of the setbacks, the show will go on, representing the last team effort of Norman Dodge and assistant director of the play.
We have, unfortunately, a grave problem on our hands. It is a problem of own creation and it sorely needs our utmost attention.

Alcohol abuse is that problem. We see its abuse by a real criminal element in our society. I’m talking about the 18-20 year olds. We control it, we’d be on easy street – as they say.

Thus, in view of the nationwide movement to take alcohol away from these ‘criminals’ I think it is the time, even the duty of the state of Maine to lead in a progressively effective effort. The state should pass legislation that would allow the ‘criminals’ to drink according to the evenness, or oddness, of their birthdays. All those born on even days can only drink once during each day, at 8:00 p.m. to gain the full enjoyment of their birthday. All those born on odd days can only drink once during each day, at 8:00 p.m.

A lot of us would have to wait until we’re a little older, say thirty, to be able to drink twenty-four hours a day. But these are the days of compromise could certainly be worked out.

The tune of an even or odd number of drinks, dependent upon our age, and the number of our birthdays, is an easy way out of a real dilemma. And in such a manner we would be able to take advantage of the diversity, variety, and age of the population, which is why we believe it should be legal. And if that doesn’t suit our collective fancy, there is always the 1982 referendum questions.

In retrospect, it seems that we are beginning to contract a second-term hangover, a hangover of numbers-fixation disease. Merely changing around numbers is an easy way out of a real dilemma. And in the long run, no way out at all. They do not address the real problems behind alcohol abuse - our attitudes, our hang-ups, our shortsightedness. And they do not address the real consequences of our abuse - wife-beating, addiction, and drunk driving.

Alcohol abuse has become a real problem throughout our nation. Not just in the 18-20 year olds. In ALL of us, all ages, races, creeds, and colors. We all need to learn more, change our attitudes and perhaps gain a new sense of respect for the drug.

Let’s stop fighting at the tree. We need to get at the roots.

Mark Bar
Senior Reporter

COHEN COROLLARY COMMENDED

Dear Chief Editor:

Yesterday morning I saw the March 2 The Bates Student that caused my heart to sink in my stomach. It was a perfectly splendid job of reporting on an imaginative idea. The Bates campus paper should be most qualified, who had not been selected as an RC yet. After

Dear Chief Editor:

Yesterday morning I saw the March 2 The Bates Student that caused my heart to sink in my stomach. It was a perfectly splendid job of reporting on an imaginative idea. The Bates campus paper should be most qualified, who had not been selected as an RC yet. After

Dear Chief Editor:

Yesterday morning I saw the March 2 The Bates Student that caused my heart to sink in my stomach. It was a perfectly splendid job of reporting on an imaginative idea. The Bates campus paper should be

Dear Chief Editor:

Yesterday morning I saw the March 2 The Bates Student that caused my heart to sink in my stomach. It was a perfectly splendid job of reporting on an imaginative idea. The Bates campus paper should be

Dear Chief Editor:

Yesterday morning I saw the March 2 The Bates Student that caused my heart to sink in my stomach. It was a perfectly splendid job of reporting on an imaginative idea. The Bates campus paper should be

Dear Chief Editor:

Yesterday morning I saw the March 2 The Bates Student that caused my heart to sink in my stomach. It was a perfectly splendid job of reporting on an imaginative idea. The Bates campus paper should be
Letters to the Editor

Dr. D.T. Sharpe

P.O. Box 211

West Palm Beach, Fla. 33402

The Randy Reports

Procrastination

This report was originally written last spring, but somehow I never got around to it. As you have probably already guessed, the topic is procrastination. As most Bates students realize, procrastination is the fine art of wasting time. It is a difficult art to learn and is one that many students continue to enjoy, even while at college.

At Bates there is a unique society for procrastinators, S.L.E.E.P. (Society of Learning Educational Experts on Procrastination). Procrastinators are there to aid students in their procrastination. Often many students will have run out of bad study habits in high school. We feel that until they learn the art of procrastination they cannot achieve full and perfect happiness.

Dr. Tewey

What do you consider to be bad study habits?

Baker

If a student has any study habits, they are bad. First we try to make students see that studying is a sickness and must be treated as such. Once they realize this they can begin to attain oneness with the universe.

Dr. Tewey

What do you mean by oneness with the universe?

Baker

Oneness of course refers to a procrastinator’s grade point average.

Dr. Tewey

What kind of services do you offer for students?

Baker

We have a wide variety of ways to help students procrastinate. The first step is to get a student out of the library. The easiest way to do this is by creating an interest in something else. In many people to socialize with him as possible. Eventually he realizes that people come to the library for study breaks, so he retires to his room to work. As more procrastinators know this, it is even more impossible to study in your room than in the library. In your dorm, you are surrounded by other procrastinators, they are fully fledged members of SLEEP. Of course, we do have follow up services.

Dr. Tewey

For example?

Baker

We have a hot line that students can call twenty-four hours a day if they feel a guilt complex, or a desire to work. All they have to do is dial 1-800-482-9370 and we will try to help them. Usually we can talk it out. Often we give them suggestions to help them in their procrastinations.

Dr. Tewey

Could you tell us some of the most common procrastination techniques?

Baker

Well in light cases we recommend something like a Den Brookman, who is a shepherd of night on procrastination is needed. Going to see Lewiston awake early in the morning is one of the best ideas. Every once in a while we get a really severe case. We recently received one from a student who goes on a mountain climbing expedition to the Himalayas. If you come to death, expect him back the day before his thesis is due.

Dr. Tewey

Mr. Baker, do you think that this whole thing is a good idea?

Baker

(Editor's note: Ted stopped at this point to go procrasinate. He ran out of the office ranting something about going off on a crusade against the Nerdy Knights. If you feel so inclined, please return him to his cage.)

Award Not Desired

To the Editor:

In light of the controversy surrounding the first The Bates Student Times Story Writing Award, I feel that a rational examination of the issue will clarify why students protested the award. The issue here is not freedom of the press. Neither I nor anyone else campaigned against the idea of the award. I personally believe that most Bates students and I support the idea of giving an award. My protests have been against the selection process and the nature of the award. What I protest is the giving of an award to Richard Nixon that implies my representation. I do not wish to make a personal attack on Mr. Nixon or to destroy the Bates College. Until this award, I had been proud of the Student. The paper was doing more than reporting last week's news; it was actually providing interesting news at

———

In Search of a Class Name

The basis of the controversy comes as a result of the shutdown of Maine Yankee Atomic Power Plant in Wiscasset, Maine.

*St. Mary’s General Hospital may seek its own permit to build the health care center*Lewiston’s Board of Aldermen, after voting 11-4 last week, backed the hospital's five-year, $13.5 million plan to build a medical center. Campus will go before the state board of construction engineers next Monday. The hospital is asking for a permit to build the $6.8 million center.

Letters to the Editor

OPPOSITE COMMENTARIES

The following is an editorial comment from the 5:30 p.m. news on Tuesday, March 6, 1979.

It is difficult to understand such comments as were made today — and some more offensive — in the context of Bates College, a college with a tradition of liberal arts education, which stresses tolerance of others, even when

CONTINUED ON PAGE 12
 Resident Coordinator Selection Process Questioned

By Thomas Vanah
Senior Reporter

The selection of Resident Coordinators for the 1979-1980 academic year, has caused concern concerning the selection process, and the criteria used in rendering a decision. The responsibility for selecting the Resident Coordinators is that of the Dean of Student Affairs. Although the deans suggest that the decision is not one made from any given list for the position of Resident Coordinator take issue with the decision.

In speaking with students who were not chosen, the sentiment was not one of surprise, but one of disbelief. "I thought I was pretty well aware of my ability to work with the deans, and the knowledge of the workings of the administration and of the college, as well as the ability to work with students, was important," one student said. One student noted that, although a friendly relationship with the deans is necessary in doing the job of R.C., one need not stop disagreeing with or disparaging some of their beliefs and actions.

Tuition Increase Within Carter Guidelines

by Kristen Anderson
Senior Reporter

When students received an announcement, several weeks ago, that the Bates preservative fee would be going up from $5355 to $5385, there was no great surprise. The increase in tuition and board for the 1979-1980 academic year has been an annual event for several years. The statement that the increase within Carter's guidelines was somewhat confusing, however.

A student with Mr. Carpenter, College Treasurer, cleared up this matter. In order to properly follow Carter's guidelines, the college turned its books over to the auditors. As a non-profit institution, the guidelines to be followed were different from those of other profit making institutions. The guidelines were instructions that the government issued on the subject were best handled. The means by which Carter's price increase guidelines were determined was by comparing the annual cost of the administration and of the college, as well as the ability to work with students, was important. One student noted that, although a friendly relationship with the deans is necessary in doing the job of R.C., one need not stop disagreeing with or disparaging some of their beliefs and actions.

This year's tuition increase is not going into any specific area of expenditure. All the income of the college is pooled into one large fund, from which money is delegated to various areas. Everything that keeps the college running is getting more expensive. The most dramatic increase in cost, the prediction which the college made for the year, was the prediction BEFORE the Shah was exiled from Iran. Likewise, electricity and food are on the rise. Mr. Carpenter stressed that inflation affects a non-profit institution more than other businesses, for they have to pay $230,000. Next year? About $253,000 - at least that was the prediction. Mr. Carpenter went on to say that the Shab was exiled from Iran.

Likewise, electricity and food are on the rise. Mr. Carpenter stressed that inflation affects a non-profit institution more than other businesses, for they have to pay $230,000. Next year? About $253,000 - at least that was the prediction BEFORE the Shah was exiled from Iran.

Likewise, electricity and food are on the rise. Mr. Carpenter stressed that inflation affects a non-profit institution more than other businesses, for they have to pay $230,000. Next year? About $253,000 - at least that was the prediction BEFORE the Shah was exiled from Iran.

Likewise, electricity and food are on the rise. Mr. Carpenter stressed that inflation affects a non-profit institution more than other businesses, for they have to pay $230,000. Next year? About $253,000 - at least that was the prediction BEFORE the Shah was exiled from Iran.

Likewise, electricity and food are on the rise. Mr. Carpenter stressed that inflation affects a non-profit institution more than other businesses, for they have to pay $230,000. Next year? About $253,000 - at least that was the prediction BEFORE the Shah was exiled from Iran.

Likewise, electricity and food are on the rise. Mr. Carpenter stressed that inflation affects a non-profit institution more than other businesses, for they have to pay $230,000. Next year? About $253,000 - at least that was the prediction BEFORE the Shah was exiled from Iran.

Likewise, electricity and food are on the rise. Mr. Carpenter stressed that inflation affects a non-profit institution more than other businesses, for they have to pay $230,000. Next year? About $253,000 - at least that was the prediction BEFORE the Shah was exiled from Iran.

Likewise, electricity and food are on the rise. Mr. Carpenter stressed that inflation affects a non-profit institution more than other businesses, for they have to pay $230,000. Next year? About $253,000 - at least that was the prediction BEFORE the Shah was exiled from Iran.

Likewise, electricity and food are on the rise. Mr. Carpenter stressed that inflation affects a non-profit institution more than other businesses, for they have to pay $230,000. Next year? About $253,000 - at least that was the prediction BEFORE the Shah was exiled from Iran. Likewise, electricity and food are on the rise. Mr. Carpenter stressed that inflation affects a non-profit institution more than other businesses, for they have to pay $230,000. Next year? About $253,000 - at least that was the prediction BEFORE the Shah was exiled from Iran. Likewise, electricity and food are on the rise. Mr. Carpenter stressed that inflation affects a non-profit institution more than other businesses, for they have to pay $230,000. Next year? About $253,000 - at least that was the prediction BEFORE the Shah was exiled from Iran. Likewise, electricity and food are on the rise. Mr. Carpenter stressed that inflation affects a non-profit institution more than other businesses, for they have to pay $230,000. Next year? About $253,000 - at least that was the prediction BEFORE the Shah was exiled from Iran. Likewise, electricity and food are on the rise. Mr. Carpenter stressed that inflation affects a non-profit institution more than other businesses, for they have to pay $230,000. Next year? About $253,000 - at least that was the prediction BEFORE the Shah was exiled from Iran. Likewise, electricity and food are on the rise. Mr. Carpenter stressed that inflation affects a non-profit institution more than other businesses, for they have to pay $230,000. Next year? About $253,000 - at least that was the prediction BEFORE the Shah was exiled from Iran. Likewise, electricity and food are on the rise. Mr. Carpenter stressed that inflation affects a non-profit institution more than other businesses, for they have to pay $230,000. Next year? About $253,000 - at least that was the prediction BEFORE the Shah was exiled from Iran.

Likewise, electricity and food are on the rise. Mr. Carpenter stressed that inflation affects a non-profit institution more than other businesses, for they have to pay $230,000. Next year? About $253,000 - at least that was the prediction BEFORE the Shah was exiled from Iran. Likewise, electricity and food are on the rise. Mr. Carpenter stressed that inflation affects a non-profit institution more than other businesses, for they have to pay $230,000. Next year? About $253,000 - at least that was the prediction BEFORE the Shah was exiled from Iran. Likewise, electricity and food are on the rise. Mr. Carpenter stressed that inflation affects a non-profit institution more than other businesses, for they have to pay $230,000. Next year? About $253,000 - at least that was the prediction BEFORE the Shah was exiled from Iran. Likewise, electricity and food are on the rise. Mr. Carpenter stressed that inflation affects a non-profit institution more than other businesses, for they have to pay $230,000. Next year? About $253,000 - at least that was the prediction BEFORE the Shah was exiled from Iran. Likewise, electricity and food are on the rise. Mr. Carpenter stressed that inflation affects a non-profit institution more than other businesses, for they have to pay $230,000. Next year? About $253,000 - at least that was the prediction BEFORE the Shah was exiled from Iran. Likewise, electricity and food are on the rise. Mr. Carpenter stressed that inflation affects a non-profit institution more than other businesses, for they have to pay $230,000. Next year? About $253,000 - at least that was the prediction BEFORE the Shah was exiled from Iran. Likewise, electricity and food are on the rise. Mr. Carpenter stressed that inflation affects a non-profit institution more than other businesses, for they have to pay $230,000. Next year? About $253,000 - at least that was the prediction BEFORE the Shah was exiled from Iran. Likewise, electricity and food are on the rise. Mr. Carpenter stressed that inflation affects a non-profit institution more than other businesses, for they have to pay $230,000. Next year? About $253,000 - at least that was the prediction BEFORE the Shah was exiled from Iran. Likewise, electricity and food are on the rise. Mr. Carpenter stressed that inflation affects a non-profit institution more than other businesses, for they have to pay $230,000. Next year? About $253,000 - at least that was the prediction BEFORE the Shah was exiled from Iran.
Vending Machine Situation Favorable On Campus
Low Profits But High Convenience

by Joe Marcus
Senior Editor

While none of the vending equipment at Bates is owned directly by the college, Maine College Operations, the college company which operated soda, candy and laundry machines returned a tidy $30,000 to $35,000 for the first semester of this year.

Each of the three types of vending machines involved pays a percentage of its profit to Bates. Business Director Jim Weston estimates this to be a good deal, but insists that the machines are here "strictly for the convenience of the students. By the time we get done paying the power bill, it doesn't add up to much."

The successful party involves much more than simply filling the Dewar's... A "longstanding excellent relationship" exists between the college and the Coca-Cola Company, which provides the soda machines on campus.

Party Organization And Responsibility:
New System Now In Full Operation

by Melissa Weinstuch
Senior Reporter

The successful party involves much more than simply filling the Dewar's... A "longstanding excellent relationship" exists between the college and the Coca-Cola Company, which provides the soda machines on campus.

Home Life will be selecting college leaders for our new sales management program:

- Top Salary — $15,000 + company car
- Initial Eleven Weeks Training in New York City
- Openings in Many Major Cities
- Programs in Some Major Centers

The program is open to campus leaders with high academic achievement and extracurricular involvement.

See our representative Tuesday, March 20th at the Office of Career Counseling.
ARTS & ENTERTAINMENT
Volume 106, Number 8
Established 1873

Southside Johnny: A Man Dedicated to Love

by Jim Fitzgerald

The Fools Fail To Rouse Audience
Southside Johnny: A Synth-Founded Band

by Chris O'Leary

The Fools...uh, yes the FOOLS, well anyway...The Fools should and could have been a good opening band at the Alumni Gym Wednesday night — but their performances turned out to be sadly mediocre. They failed for the most part to rouse the audience, their only good numbers being "Have a Party" and "Alibi" is song by "The Same Band". The goal of the songs they did were disappointing - "Psycho Chicken" included. The problem with the Fools is that they tried to dish out too much of the same thing to the audience, a tactic which invariably leads to boredom. They have a lead singer with a good voice, though, and 2 exceptional guitarists will they can learn to diversify a little more (they showed the ability nicely in a 43 second mellow lead-in to one of their songs perhaps they will be a force to be reckoned with someday — if not, well, they’ll really be the Fools.

Enough of that — the fantastic performance by Southside Johnny and the Asbury Jukes made the evening one which will be long remembered by those who attended the concert. They opened to an enthusiastic crowd most of which stayed on their feet for the entirety of the phenomenon: 2-hour performance. (An unheard of time for non-stop high energy playing.) Though all the songs were grand, some shone through as the best, "I Got To Get You Off Of My Mind," "Broken Down Piece of Man," "I Got The Fever," and "I Don't Wanna Go Home" all off their first album were outstanding.

The Fools Fail To Rouse Audience

Southside Johnny: A Synth-Founded Band

by Chris O'Leary

This year, the Campus Association is pleased to announce that Father Daniel Berrigan, S.J., will be the Zerby Lecturer. The lecture is entitled, "1979: The Nonviolent Citizen in Berrigan. S.J., will be the Zerby Lecturer. Father Daniel Chase Lounge, Father Berrigan Chapel. A reception will follow in Father Daniel Berrigan is a Jesuit priest, a prominent author, and a leading social and political activist. He was one of the earliest and most active agitators against American involvement in Indochina. Perhaps his best known act of antiwar protest occurred in May, 1968, when he, along with his brother Philip and seven other Catholic "agitators for peace" destroyed draft files in Catonsville, Maryland. A prolific writer, Fr. Berrigan has published many books of both prose and poetry, and is currently a contributing editor to Sojourners magazine.

Father Berrigan was born on May 9, 1921, in Virginia, Minnesota, the son of Thomas and Frieda Berrigan. Drawn to the priesthood from his earliest years, he joined the Society of Jesus in 1939, and began a rigorous thirteen year course of spiritual and intellectual training. During that time, he studied philosophy at Woodstock College, taught French, Latin, and English at St. Peter's Preparatory School in New Jersey, and studied theology at West College in Weston, Massachusetts, and was ordained on June 19, 1952.

For the next twelve years he taught French, theology, and New Testament Studies at several schools, including the Jesuits'Le Moyne College, Syracuse, New York. He helped to found the Catholic Peace Fellowship and later, in 1965, he is the first Roman Catholic priest on to one of their songs) perhaps (Continued on Page 9)

by Tad Baker

Southside Johnny Announced As Zerby Lecturer

Father Daniel Berrigan is announced as Zerby Lecturer.

Last night Southside Johnny and the Asbury Jukes opened to an enthusiastic crowd who attended the concert. They provided a phenomenal 2-hour performance. (An unheard of time for non-stop high energy playing.) Though all the songs were good, some shone through as the best, "I Got To Get You Off Of My Mind," "Broken Down Piece of Man," "I Got The Fever," and "I Don't Wanna Go Home" all off their first album were outstanding.

by Jim Fitzgerald

The Fools...uh, yes the FOOLS, well anyway...The Fools should and could have been a good opening band at the Alumni Gym Wednesday night — but their performances turned out to be sadly mediocre. They failed for the most part to rouse the audience, their only good numbers being "Have a Party" and "Alibi" is song by "The Same Band". The goal of the songs they did were disappointing - "Psycho Chicken" included. The problem with the Fools is that they tried to dish out too much of the same thing to the audience, a tactic which invariably leads to boredom. They have a lead singer with a good voice, though, and 2 exceptional guitarists will they can learn to diversify a little more (they showed the ability nicely in a 43 second mellow lead-in to one of their songs perhaps they will be a force to be reckoned with someday — if not, well, they’ll really be the Fools.

Enough of that — the fantastic performance by Southside Johnny and the Asbury Jukes made the evening one which will be long remembered by those who attended the concert. They opened to an enthusiastic crowd most of which stayed on their feet for the entirety of the phenomenon: 2-hour performance. (An unheard of time for non-stop high energy playing.) Though all the songs were grand, some shone through as the best, "I Got To Get You Off Of My Mind," "Broken Down Piece of Man," "I Got The Fever," and "I Don't Wanna Go Home" all off their first album were outstanding.

by Tad Baker

Southside Johnny Announced As Zerby Lecturer

Father Daniel Berrigan is announced as Zerby Lecturer.

Last night Southside Johnny and the Asbury Jukes opened to an enthusiastic crowd who attended the concert. They provided a phenomenal 2-hour performance. (An unheard of time for non-stop high energy playing.) Though all the songs were good, some shone through as the best, "I Got To Get You Off Of My Mind," "Broken Down Piece of Man," "I Got The Fever," and "I Don't Wanna Go Home" all off their first album were outstanding.

by Jim Fitzgerald

The Fools...uh, yes the FOOLS, well anyway...The Fools should and could have been a good opening band at the Alumni Gym Wednesday night — but their performances turned out to be sadly mediocre. They failed for the most part to rouse the audience, their only good numbers being "Have a Party" and "Alibi" is song by "The Same Band". The goal of the songs they did were disappointing - "Psycho Chicken" included. The problem with the Fools is that they tried to dish out too much of the same thing to the audience, a tactic which invariably leads to boredom. They have a lead singer with a good voice, though, and 2 exceptional guitarists will they can learn to diversify a little more (they showed the ability nicely in a 43 second mellow lead-in to one of their songs perhaps they will be a force to be reckoned with someday — if not, well, they’ll really be the Fools.

Enough of that — the fantastic performance by Southside Johnny and the Asbury Jukes made the evening one which will be long remembered by those who attended the concert. They opened to an enthusiastic crowd most of which stayed on their feet for the entirety of the phenomenon: 2-hour performance. (An unheard of time for non-stop high energy playing.) Though all the songs were grand, some shone through as the best, "I Got To Get You Off Of My Mind," "Broken Down Piece of Man," "I Got The Fever," and "I Don't Wanna Go Home" all off their first album were outstanding.

by Tad Baker

Southside Johnny Announced As Zerby Lecturer

Father Daniel Berrigan is announced as Zerby Lecturer.

Last night Southside Johnny and the Asbury Jukes opened to an enthusiastic crowd who attended the concert. They provided a phenomenal 2-hour performance. (An unheard of time for non-stop high energy playing.) Though all the songs were good, some shone through as the best, "I Got To Get You Off Of My Mind," "Broken Down Piece of Man," "I Got The Fever," and "I Don't Wanna Go Home" all off their first album were outstanding.
Casino Royale:
Ready For A Night To Remember

by Brian M. McDevitt
Senior Reporter

Horslips Album
Gaining Popularity in Northeast

by Jim Fitzgerald
Junior Reporter

Horslips: "The Man Who Built America" (UJMJ Records)..... "you talk the streets with young streetwalkers and sometimes take the man alive 'cos he's the man who built America." Horslips

The Horslips are a band which "paid their dues" a long time ago. Their latest album, "The Man Who Built America," is a collection of material for the album. "I asked about his friend Bruce Springsteen, he smiled "Bruce is the first three albums by the Elvis Costello. He claims of more involved" claims Southside. "I want everyone in the band to be reckoned with someday - if not, I opened to an enthusiastic crowd phenomenal 2-hour performance. Their roughly 20 songs included some points. The band seemed a little unsettled, but they overcame the problem. Their recently 20 songs included two encores and then two extras in order to satisfy the seemingly insatiable enthusiastic crowd.

In conclusion, I would like to say that this performance reaffirms my faith in music and musicians like Southside Johnny Lyon who refused to sell out to mainstream money-making trends in the music industry and lose their integrity. This band has held on to their integrity fiercely and while this has not brought them lasting commercial success, it has brought them a place in the hearts of those who know that they are the real heroes of rock and roll.

Horslips: "The Man Who Built America" (UJMJ Records)..... "you talk the streets with young streetwalkers and sometimes take the man alive 'cos he's the man who built America." Horslips

The Horslips are a band which "paid their dues" a long time ago. Their latest album, "The Man Who Built America," is a collection of material for the album. "I asked about his friend Bruce Springsteen, he smiled "Bruce is the first three albums by the Elvis Costello. He claims of more involved" claims Southside. "I want everyone in the band to be reckoned with someday - if not, I opened to an enthusiastic crowd phenomenal 2-hour performance. Their roughly 20 songs included some points. The band seemed a little unsettled, but they overcame the problem. Their recently 20 songs included two encores and then two extras in order to satisfy the seemingly insatiable enthusiastic crowd.

In conclusion, I would like to say that this performance reaffirms my faith in music and musicians like Southside Johnny Lyon who refused to sell out to mainstream money-making trends in the music industry and lose their integrity. This band has held on to their integrity fiercely and while this has not brought them lasting commercial success, it has brought them a place in the hearts of those who know that they are the real heroes of rock and roll.

Casino Royale:
Ready For A Night to Remember

by Brian M. McDevitt
Senior Reporter

Horslips Album
Gaining Popularity in Northeast

by Jim Fitzgerald
Junior Reporter

Horslips: "The Man Who Built America" (UJMJ Records)..... "you talk the streets with young streetwalkers and sometimes take the man alive 'cos he's the man who built America." Horslips

The Horslips are a band which "paid their dues" a long time ago. Their latest album, "The Man Who Built America," is a collection of material for the album. "I asked about his friend Bruce Springsteen, he smiled "Bruce is the first three albums by the Elvis Costello. He claims of more involved" claims Southside. "I want everyone in the band to be reckoned with someday - if not, I opened to an enthusiastic crowd phenomenal 2-hour performance. Their roughly 20 songs included some points. The band seemed a little unsettled, but they overcame the problem. Their recently 20 songs included two encores and then two extras in order to satisfy the seemingly insatiable enthusiastic crowd.

In conclusion, I would like to say that this performance reaffirms my faith in music and musicians like Southside Johnny Lyon who refused to sell out to mainstream money-making trends in the music industry and lose their integrity. This band has held on to their integrity fiercely and while this has not brought them lasting commercial success, it has brought them a place in the hearts of those who know that they are the real heroes of rock and roll.

Casino Royale:
Ready For A Night to Remember

by Brian M. McDevitt
Senior Reporter

Horslips Album
Gaining Popularity in Northeast

by Jim Fitzgerald
Junior Reporter

Horslips: "The Man Who Built America" (UJMJ Records)..... "you talk the streets with young streetwalkers and sometimes take the man alive 'cos he's the man who built America." Horslips

The Horslips are a band which "paid their dues" a long time ago. Their latest album, "The Man Who Built America," is a collection of material for the album. "I asked about his friend Bruce Springsteen, he smiled "Bruce is the first three albums by the Elvis Costello. He claims of more involved" claims Southside. "I want everyone in the band to be reckoned with someday - if not, I opened to an enthusiastic crowd phenomenal 2-hour performance. Their roughly 20 songs included some points. The band seemed a little unsettled, but they overcame the problem. Their recently 20 songs included two encores and then two extras in order to satisfy the seemingly insatiable enthusiastic crowd.

In conclusion, I would like to say that this performance reaffirms my faith in music and musicians like Southside Johnny Lyon who refused to sell out to mainstream money-making trends in the music industry and lose their integrity. This band has held on to their integrity fiercely and while this has not brought them lasting commercial success, it has brought them a place in the hearts of those who know that they are the real heroes of rock and roll.
Campus Parking Options Well Regulated

by Lori Boret

"Maintenance of a motor vehicle is a privilege granted by the college to students who respect the regulations," states the Student Handbook. This privilege has been granted to all students except those receiving Financial Aid who require written permission from the Dean of the College. All vehicles must be insured for $25,000 to $50,000 liability.

Two alternatives available themselves to students who do have vehicles on campus. There are eight college-owned garages rented to students at $10 a month. Two garages are located at Wood Street House, two at Moulton, two at Parsons, and one at Stillman House. Students renting garages do not need parking stickers. Students interested in renting a garage should contact Phyllis Mixer in the Business Office.

There are several parking lots available for student parking. These are situated adjacent to Smith and Adams Hall, Whitman and Miliken Housen, and on the corner of Campus and Nichols Streets. There is another lot on the north side of John Borten Hall and parking is allowed on Bardwell Street (Garcelon Field side of Russell Street) and Andrews Road and on Andrews Road prior to November 15 and after April 1 on weekends only (6:00 p.m. Friday to 6:00 a.m. Monday). Fees for parking stickers are $60.00 per year.

Job Market Varying By Field Of Interest

Perhaps you've wondered what kinds of jobs are going to command in the near future attention and opportunity. Job opportunities and fields of demand fluctuate considerably. There are a few pointers that might be taken.

From such sources as the Occupational Handbook and Careerism Newsletter, we can see some of the coming trends in the local market. Generally speaking, the science and math fields are wide open for qualified personnel. On the other hand, the teaching field is an area of relative saturation of prospective employers. More specifically, the lineup is in part as follows: Unlike general sentiment, the area of legal studies should continue to expand and offer good opportunities. Careerism reports that there are more lawyers than ever before. Most lawyers should greatly expand the career and job opportunities. For paralegals, young lawyers, lawyer specialists, (and) legal clinics. It appears that as our economy is expanding, the demand will become more complex, demand for lawyers and related services will increase.

For those who are looking towards foreign soil for opportunities, the situation seems to be cautiously optimistic. Since a 1976 tax bill, Americans overseas have been receiving larger tax breaks from home. Coupled with that the tax levels in the particular nation and it becomes obvious how interest and demand in this area has dropped considerably. This is important to that this may be technical services in Mexico. As Mexico looks to expand its economy, expand local resources, she is expected to look toward the U.S. for maintenance.

In the fields of health, opportunity seldom has looked better. For some, traditionally has a high level of demand. Anyone with a desire and the qualifications necessary for this field are expected to find opportunity looming. Related fields such as dentists, dental technicians, and nurses should also offer a wide variety of opportunities. Careerism warns, however, that while demands trained abroad may have considerable difficulty practicing in the U.S. because they are often subject to tough tests and regulations not required of American medical schools.

The arts are offering better opportunities now than they have for a long time. All around the nation, governmental and private organizations are funnelling money and personnel toward a greater expansion in this area. And this boom, reports Careerism, will benefit related areas such as business and management. These areas, however, are generally quite competitive and opportunities may be seen as overwhelming. This is particularly true for the performing arts.

An ability to speak a foreign language has always been a major plus for those looking for work. But now, due to the growth in international businesses and the great volume of international trade and dealings opportunities should grow significantly. Companies that are based in the U.S. and deal abroad are demanding greater numbers of qualified employees. Careerism reports that women are doing better in executive areas. Overall, all industry is looking for qualified women. However, retailing and human services have so far provided the best chances for women at this time (Continued on Page 9)

Political Apathy: A Presence At Bates

by Tad Baker

The recent political involvement on campus has raised the issue of student apathy. How politically active are Bates students? The presence of a Democratic Caucus and Young Republicans club on campus, neither of which is very strong, is part of the most that there is little political concern here.

One student explained that "it's not political apathy, but every kind of apathy." There seem however to be diverging reasons for this apathy. Some students feel that they simply do not have the time to get in volved. One student complained that "there is so much happening in my life, I have no time during the day to read the paper or watch the news." Indeed this apathy, one freshman replied "I don't care. When asked about apathy, one freshman replied that Bates students are too busy to care. Another student was more surprised to the other students at Bates. Others just think students don't care. Indeed, this apathy is not necessarily surprising over the reaction to the Nixon Award. "It is amazing for a campus generally as stern as Bates," one student said, "to go to nothing.

Complaints have been voiced that Bates in general is not conducive to student political activity. Besides being somewhat isolated from the outside world, Bates is a small college. One political science major complained that while he is interested in politics, he rarely discusses them at Bates for fear of "blowing the lid on" friends. "In a tight community such as Bates, apathy is being necessary to maintain friendships."

There is a fairly long tradition of political activism at Bates. During the turbulent 1960's, Bates remained relatively calm. Bates students did participate in the Moratorium Day protest against the Vietnamese War, but it was a peaceful demonstration. On that day students marched down College St. to Kennedy Park located on Park St. where they made a peaceful demonstration. The events of the day were covered and praised by both Bates students earned high praise from the Lewiston Chief of Police.

While some Bates students are politically very active, many more tend toward apathy on most matters. The Nixon incident seems to have been a very rare exception to the general behavior. "It is amazing for a campus generally as stern as Bates," one student said, "to go to
Bates Investments Include
$2.8 Million In South Africa Related Companies

by Melissa Weisstuch
Senior Reporter

What is the Bates student actually paying for in the annual tuition? This might seem obvious, but when a student does not stay for short term or term, the sources of income are added together to determine the charge to students. In the future, the Computing Committee will have to consider various aspects of the budgeting process it is assumed that a student will stay here for the entire short term and automatically take two short terms in the process. At this time, there are no changes for three year students who still take the same number of short terms, but are paying less because of their shortened stay at the college.

In past years it was necessary to place extra charges on students who were not in residence for a full year before short term or were 3/4 year students. In some cases, the student was not available for the first 6 weeks of the semester and the before and semester after were considered to be a full year, and by definition, it was 3/4 year students. This established detailed record keeping on who attended each class, and each student when students had attended only one full semester, they were charged the cost of attending short term. Students who didn't attend any semesters in a particular year, whether for short term or for the entire short term package. Bates has a pride free computer time to its students and faculty. However, charges may arise in the cases of students who are not in residence at the college. Again, as with short term charges, computer fees are included in the annual tuition. All costs of running the various aspects of the college are added together and the sources of income are added together to determine the charges to students. In the future, the Computing Committee will have to consider various aspects of the budgeting process it is assumed that a student will stay here for the entire short term and automatically take two short terms in the process. At this time, there are no changes for three year students who still take the same number of short terms, but are paying less because of their shortened stay at the college.

In past years it was necessary to place extra charges on students who were not in residence for a full year before short term or were 3/4 year students. In some cases, the student was not available for the first 6 weeks of the semester and the before and semester after were considered to be a full year, and by definition, it was 3/4 year students. This established detailed record keeping on who attended each class, and each student when students had attended only one full semester, they were charged the cost of attending short term. Students who didn't attend any semesters in a particular year, whether for short term or for the entire short term package. Bates has a pride free computer time to its students and faculty. However, charges may arise in the cases of students who are not in residence at the college. Again, as with short term charges, computer fees are included in the annual tuition. All costs of running the various aspects of the college are added together and the sources of income are added together to determine the charges to students. In the future, the Computing Committee will have to consider various aspects of the budgeting process it is assumed that a student will stay here for the entire short term and automatically take two short terms in the process. At this time, there are no changes for three year students who still take the same number of short terms, but are paying less because of their shortened stay at the college.

In past years it was necessary to place extra charges on students who were not in residence for a full year before short term or were 3/4 year students. In some cases, the student was not available for the first 6 weeks of the semester and the before and semester after were considered to be a full year, and by definition, it was 3/4 year students. This established detailed record keeping on who attended each class, and each student when students had attended only one full semester, they were charged the cost of attending short term. Students who didn't attend any semesters in a particular year, whether for short term or for the entire short term package. Bates has a pride free computer time to its students and faculty. However, charges may arise in the cases of students who are not in residence at the college. Again, as with short term charges, computer fees are included in the annual tuition. All costs of running the various aspects of the college are added together and the sources of income are added together to determine the charges to students. In the future, the Computing Committee will have to consider various aspects of the budgeting process it is assumed that a student will stay here for the entire short term and automatically take two short terms in the process. At this time, there are no changes for three year students who still take the same number of short terms, but are paying less because of their shortened stay at the college.
SPORTS

Upsets Continue
To Abound In Intramurals

by Dave Trull

Upsets abounded in both the Men's Intramural Basketball Leagues, but some teams were able to clinch playoff spots.

In A League, Howard remains undefeated and became the first team to clinch a playoff spot. Howard had two easy victories, 63-35 over Chase-Adams and 67-46 over Pierce. Milliken-Hedge remained in second place despite losing to J.B. 55-54; Roger-Bill-Page still holds third place, as they beat the Faculty 46-33 and Adams 1 won at a small, academically oriented school like Bates. Howard. Adams 1 has clinched a spot Adams 1 was upset by J.B. 31-27 out of second place by tripping them 47-35, Adams 4 solidified its playoff spot by beating both Adams 3 and Chase-Small.

In the Western Division, first place Adams 1 was upset by J.B. 54-49 but held firm as Roger Bill was forceling to Howard. Adams 1 has clinched a playoff spot. Five teams remain in contention for the last three playoff spots.

In C League, Hedge-Page bombed lowly Roger Bill 27-20, to strengthen its hold on second place.

Here are the standings as of March 18th:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>League</th>
<th>Team</th>
<th>Record</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>A League</td>
<td>Howard</td>
<td>11-1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Milliken-Hedge</td>
<td>9-2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Roger-Bill-Page</td>
<td>8-4</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>W-H-S</td>
<td>7-5</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>J.B.</td>
<td>6-6</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Faculty</td>
<td>5-6</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Chase-Adams</td>
<td>4-8</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Adams 1</td>
<td>1-9</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Pierce</td>
<td>0-11</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>B League</td>
<td>W-H-S</td>
<td>1-10</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Adams 1</td>
<td>1-10</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Roger Bill</td>
<td>1-10</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Page 1</td>
<td>6-12</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>J.B.</td>
<td>6-6</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Howard</td>
<td>6-6</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Page 2</td>
<td>4-8</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>R.B.-Clason</td>
<td>3-9</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Adams 2</td>
<td>1-7</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>B League West</td>
<td>Milliken-South</td>
<td>8-0</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The Bates women ended the season with an 8-15 record.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL SQUAD SQUEEZES PAST MERRIMACK

In the final 2 games of the women's basketball season, Bates won an exciting game against Merrimack 58-54 but was overwhelmed by Bowdoin 84-46.

The Bobcats provided a thrilling final game against Merrimack in a game which was close all the way. At the half, Bates led 28-28. In the second half, Sue Pierce and Shirley Averrill combined for 29 points to lead Bates to victory.

The key play, however, was made by Averrill. With the score knotted at 56, Averrill pulled down a rebound with 34 seconds left in the game. Making effective use of the 30-second shot clock in women's basketball, the Bobcats wound the shot clock down to a mere 2 seconds, when Averrill, on a pass from Pierce, put in the winning hoop. Merrimack's desperation shot at the buzzer fell short. Leading scorers for Bates were Averrill and Pierce, with 23 and 14 points respectively; Averrill also led in rebounds with 19 while Deb Atwood pulled down 14.

In the Bobcats' final game at Bowdoin, Bates lost to a highly skilled Bowdoin team 94-46. Bowdoin jumped up to a quick 20-4 lead and never relinquished it. Turnovers and poor rebounding hurt Bates as Bowdoin capitalized on numerous Bates errors. Leading scorers for Bates were Averrill with 11, Atwood with 9, and Sue Doliner with 8. Atwood led in rebounds with 11 caroms.

System Effectively Used Bates’ Football Recruiting

by Bob Muldoon

The word "recruiting" has a different meaning at Bates than at universities like Penn State and Michigan. Instead of relying on high school football factories provide certain inducements, financial and otherwise, Bates does no such things. In fact, the only financial aid that Bates donates is given on the basis of need as evidenced by the F.A.P. (Financial Aid Form). Efforts are made, though, to contact prospective gridiron stars and then win them with plenty of information on all aspects of Bates life, and urge them to visit the school. Hopefully, these steps will be sufficient to attract good athletes.

Coach Web Harrison begins the recruiting process by writing to most high school coaches in New England, New York, Pennsylvania, and New Jersey. Also, there are selected schools in Ohio and Minnesota where Bates traditionally gets good high school football players then win them to the school. Bates' football representatives are Al Carter, Albert Cook, Billy Heines, Brian Pohli and John Cadey. The tournament will start at 1:00 in the Alumni Gymnasium.

The Bates women ended the season with an 8-15 record.

Have you considered what an MS in accounting can mean to you?

Even if you have never had a single hour of accounting in any of your college courses, you can take advantage of this opportunity to build a solid foundation in accounting concepts and have a rewarding career in professional accounting.

At Northeastern University, you can get a Master of Science degree in Accounting in 15 months. Designed especially for non-accounting undergraduates, the Northeastern program consists of six months of classroom study to provide a solid foundation in accounting principles and a six-month paid internship with a public accounting firm. You'll develop the job skills of a professional accountant. To get more information about this program, contact the Northeastern University representative in your area and schedule an interview. Northeastern can mean to you?

Northeastern University

- Professor Joseph Golombe
- Graduate School of Professional Accounting
- Northeastern Main Campus
- 360 Huntington Avenue
- Boston, MA 02115
- Phone: (617) 437-2714 or write:
- Prof. J. G. Golombe, Northeastern University
- Boston, Mass 02115
- 10% DISCOUNT FOR COLLEGE STUDENTS

SEAFOOD SMORGASBORD

Wednesday and Saturday
5:30-10:00 P.M.

ITALIAN BUFFET

Friday
5:30-10:00

HAPPY HOUR

Monday thru Friday
4-7 P.M.

Hot Hours d'oeuvres

---

Northeastern University

- 611 Tremont Street, Boston, MA 02115
- Phone: (617) 437-2714 or write:
- Prof. J. G. Golombe, Northeastern University
- Boston, Mass 02115
- 10% DISCOUNT FOR COLLEGE STUDENTS

---

Pharmacy

"We Cash Checks" 417 Main Street
Lawrence, MA 01840
- Phone: (617) 437-2714
- 10% DISCOUNT FOR COLLEGE STUDENTS

---

ITALIAN BUFFET

Monday thru Friday
5:30-10:00 P.M.

STECKINOS RESTAURANT

150 Middle Street, Lewiston, Maine 04240

---

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL SQUAD SQUEEZES PAST MERRIMACK

In the final 2 games of the women's basketball season, Bates won an exciting game against Merrimack 58-54 but was overwhelmed by Bowdoin 84-46.

The Bobcats provided a thrilling final game against Merrimack in a game which was close all the way. At the half, Bates led 28-28. In the second half, Sue Pierce and Shirley Averrill combined for 29 points to lead Bates to victory.

The key play, however, was made by Averrill. With the score knotted at 56, Averrill pulled down a rebound with 34 seconds left in the game. Making effective use of the 30-second shot clock in women's basketball, the Bobcats wound the shot clock down to a mere 2 seconds, when Averrill, on a pass from Pierce, put in the winning hoop. Merrimack's desperation shot at the buzzer fell short. Leading scorers for Bates were Averrill and Pierce, with 23 and 14 points respectively; Averrill also led in rebounds with 19 while Deb Atwood pulled down 14.

In the Bobcats' final game at Bowdoin, Bates lost to a highly skilled Bowdoin team 94-46. Bowdoin jumped up to a quick 20-4 lead and never relinquished it. Turnovers and poor rebounding hurt Bates as Bowdoin capitalized on numerous Bates errors. Leading scorers for Bates were Averrill with 11, Atwood with 9, and Sue Doliner with 8. Atwood led in rebounds with 11 caroms.
The player’s purpose is to be dealer receives his third card of 5. The player to the right of the dealer receives his third card first. An original 8 or 9 is a "natural." The holder shows this immediately and wins unless the opponents tie with the same number or win with a natural 9 against the dealer. If the hand is not a natural, the dealer settles with each hand separately. Each hand must be played until the dealer reaches his third card first. Ties go to the dealer. If a player has bet that both hands will beat the dealer, he wins if both hands do beat the dealer and loses if one or both hands lose. If both hands beat the house, those who bet on only the left or right lose.

Maximum bet for this game is 25c.

The player’s purpose is to be dealer receives his third card of 5. The player to the right of the dealer receives his third card first. An original 8 or 9 is a "natural." The holder shows this immediately and wins unless the opponents tie with the same number or win with a natural 9 against the dealer. If the hand is not a natural, the dealer settles with each hand separately. Each hand must be played until the dealer reaches his third card first. Ties go to the dealer. If a player has bet that both hands will beat the dealer, he wins if both hands do beat the dealer and loses if one or both hands lose. If both hands beat the house, those who bet on only the left or right lose.

Maximum bet for this game is 25c.

The player’s purpose is to be we believe them to be wrong.

Today we witnessed a vindictive barrage of personal slurs against Cohen. Obviously, this group was focused on my rebuttal on TV. They felt that my questioning of Rob’s mother and statements that would not, would only further his martyrdom in the underdog-novice不屑．

As I watched Tuesday's editorial on the reaction of the Bates students to newspaper’s "The Bates Student Communication Award" to Nixon, I was shocked and disappointed to see John Donovan of WMTW misrepresent and oversimplify what should have been treated as a complex, college-life story. Mr. Donovan tells us to consider the issues, not Cohen's motives. Instead, he invites us to reply that people make the news. Small campuses like Bates are forcibly tied (and sometimes tense) communities in which a few personalities stand out and become well known. Roberts Cohen, as editor of our newspaper, The Bates Student, represents the management or ownership of Channel 8. And of course we do welcome other viewpoints from responsible spokesmen.

John Donovan

To the Editor:

If I understand correctly, this is read on Channel 8 is rebuttal to John Donovan’s editorial castigating the Bates student body for its personal attack on Rob Cohen at its press conference. The Deans might have encouraged me not to read it on my rebuttal on TV. They felt that my questioning of Rob’s mother and statements that would not, would only further his martyrdom in the underdog-novice status of Bates College. As I watched Tuesday’s editorial on the reaction of the Bates students to newspaper’s "The Bates Student Communication Award” to Nixon, I was shocked and disappointed to see John Donovan of WMTW misrepresent and oversimplify what should have been treated as a complex, college-life story. Mr. Donovan tells us to consider the issues, not Cohen's motives. Instead, he invites us to reply that people make the news. Small campuses like Bates are forcibly tied (and sometimes tense) communities in which a few personalities stand out and become well known. Roberts Cohen, as editor of our newspaper, The Bates Student, represents the management or ownership of Channel 8. And of course we do welcome other viewpoints from responsible spokesmen.

John Donovan

To the Editor:

If I understand correctly, this is read on Channel 8 is rebuttal to John Donovan’s editorial castigating the Bates student body for its personal attack on Rob Cohen at its press conference. The Deans might have encouraged me not to read it on my rebuttal on TV. They felt that my questioning of Rob’s mother and statements that would not, would only further his martyrdom in the underdog-novice status of Bates College.

VENDING

Income from the vending services on campus goes directly into the general account used for operating expenses. Coca Cola skims 40% off its gross profit of $2.00 per case to return $0.60 per case to the College. So far this year, $856.98 has been received under that arrangement. Receipts from vending machines on campus, for a total of $300.72. The one cigarette machine has grossed $275.04 for the School. While $384.38 has been returned from the 35 washing and 34 dryers on campus, representing 25% of the total income of the machines, that figure may be misleading. Central Maine Power Company roughly estimates that 77¢ worth of power is consumed by one washer or dryer. Since Bates uses about 0.5% per washer, it is actually a net loss in this area.

PERSONAL SLURS’ LIKE ONE student’s poorly worded but reasonable question: "Is Cohen a power-mad fool, or just plain dumb?" Mr. Donovan said, it is difficult to understand such comments...in the context of Bates College and I agree, to an intellectual paradox, Mr. Donovan should not have solved this difficulty with over simplification. The fact is that Cohen's motives ARE central to the student protest. Cohen either has an idea of what he called our "rash reaction" which seems unlikely or he did express a favorable way not yet advanced with his plan anyway. Why? No one but Rob knows for sure...but it was helpful in that report. One possibility is that Cohen welcomes the morality to further his own career. We do not take this allegation lightly; in fact we would reject it if there were a reasonable alternative besides assuming Rob slop through Watergate. Neither is our protest an example of a personally threatening attack. We are angry because Rob acted against our personal values, damaging the spirit of campus cooperation as well as our college's good name and reputation. We feel that Rob is hiding behind the consti tutionality immaculate wall of the free press on an issue that we felt involved the moral issue of representation of the Bates community as one of its members. We understand that an editor's job is not just to please the students, but neither should be go out of his way to displease us. We were right to be outlandish, but the students would not feel degraded by association with Nixon. What we felt was fair official dissociation with the award to be enough? Perhaps Tuesday's press conference did not the best way to vent our frustration, but I assure you our anger was real. We were not just out for a "rushing good time."

ENVIRONMENT

(continued from page 8)

this article, the Bates community can help not only to conserve trees and energy, but to keep tuition down as well.

Wall Street Journal

Monday thru Saturday

NOW OPEN ON SUNDAYS

CFCfTfLL AN MMTS

Auburn, Maine 04210

627-2500 - 6254

The Bates Student, March 16, 1979

CARROLL'S MUSIC CENTER, INC.

Pianos - Organs - Instruments - Accessories

Sales & Service

782-2505 - 6245

52 Court Street

Auburn, Maine 04210

Remember you save at Carroll's
POLITICAL SCIENCE DEPARTMENT REPLACING PROFS

(continued from page 1)

over the other, but... unhappy people. We're not going to have any international relations course first semester.

The student role was vital in this decision is seen as obvious by all involved. I think Mr. Benson made a very strong case," states Professor Thumm. Professor Hodgkin agrees. I think the student role was important to the final outcome, at least in the fact that it put the book back on the agenda. My impression was that the students involved had handled their responsibility in a responsible manner." Benson was also pleased with the support he received. I think Professor Hodgkin as a person helped me greatly. It's a lot easier if you go up behind the scenes and talk.

While Professor Thumm "would like that up to the standards concerned," Professor Hodgkin "would encourage students to let their desires be known, but to let this be done in as responsible manner as in this particular case. Dean Straub seemed to agree and appeared to be happy with the way the situation had been handled by all involved. Benson, though, finds that in most cases, "what your gripe was about, they already plan to change.

Professor Thumm will spend his short term and summer preparing some work for writing what he hopes to do in the field of American Foreign Policy during his sabbatical. Professor Hodgkin will probably remain on campus during his sabbatical, brushing up on the subject of party factionalism in Maine and reading on the subject of political socialization, or how people learn their political orientation.

RESIDENT COORDINATORS

A. A more democratic, structured process should be developed to pick those RCs who were not unanimously rejected or accepted.

B. If certain individuals are going to have vetoes or overriding approvals, this should be stated before the process begins.

C. No matter how well an award is known, it is a rotten way to vote on a candidate. I would like to see a more democratic selection process.

D. A more justifiable method for eliminating candidates should be used than simply dumping enough until the number left equals the number of positions remaining, as some of those who are dumped are more likely to be stronger candidates than those who remain.

In closing, let me say that I sincerely hope that next year's committee will overcome some of the obvious weaknesses inherent in this year's process, as I believe that the process which is currently in effect is lacking in democratic principles and a general sense of fairplay. Also, I would like to add that the failure of the Dean's Office to notify those who were not selected was in very poor taste.

A concerned student

A Weekend Adventure is a Visit To Roak's Greenhouse

The Center Street

WINE and CHEESE

Shed

503 Center Street, (Just over the bridge)

- Largest selection of imported
- Kegs & tappers available at the right price

RESIDENT COORDINATORS

A. A more democratic, structured process should be developed to pick those RCs who were not unanimously rejected or accepted.

B. If certain individuals are going to have vetoes or overriding approvals, this should be stated before the process begins.

C. No matter how well an award is known, it is a rotten way to vote on a candidate. I would like to see a more democratic selection process.

D. A more justifiable method for eliminating candidates should be used than simply dumping enough until the number left equals the number of positions remaining, as some of those who are dumped are more likely to be stronger candidates than those who remain.

In closing, let me say that I sincerely hope that next year's committee will overcome some of the obvious weaknesses inherent in this year's process, as I believe that the process which is currently in effect is lacking in democratic principles and a general sense of fairplay. Also, I would like to add that the failure of the Dean's Office to notify those who were not selected was in very poor taste.

A concerned student

WINE and CHEESE

Shed

503 Center Street, (Just over the bridge)

- Largest selection of imported
- Kegs & tappers available at the right price

RESIDENT COORDINATORS

A. A more democratic, structured process should be developed to pick those RCs who were not unanimously rejected or accepted.

B. If certain individuals are going to have vetoes or overriding approvals, this should be stated before the process begins.

C. No matter how well an award is known, it is a rotten way to vote on a candidate. I would like to see a more democratic selection process.

D. A more justifiable method for eliminating candidates should be used than simply dumping enough until the number left equals the number of positions remaining, as some of those who are dumped are more likely to be stronger candidates than those who remain.

In closing, let me say that I sincerely hope that next year's committee will overcome some of the obvious weaknesses inherent in this year's process, as I believe that the process which is currently in effect is lacking in democratic principles and a general sense of fairplay. Also, I would like to add that the failure of the Dean's Office to notify those who were not selected was in very poor taste.

A concerned student